BRITAIN FLOUTS 21 REPUBLICS

AMERICAS TOLD 'SAFETY ZONES' HELP GERMANY

Do Not Penalize Our Ships: London.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Great Britain today rejected the protest of 21 American republics against belligerent activity of British warships in American waters and warned them that she considers all areas of oceans outside the three mile limit as legitimate battlefields.

Augusto S. Boyd.

The rejection of the protest was contained in a note to President Augusto S. Boyd of Panama. He acts as the representative of the 21 American nations which proclaimed the 300 mile wide neutrality zone at Panama last October.

The document was in answer to the protest of the American republics on Dec. 23 against the battle between three British cruisers and the German pocket battleship, the Admiral Graf Spee, off Uruguay, and British seizures of German merchant ships in American waters.

Britain Makes Threat.

The British government suggested that any attempt to penalize British warships which might engage in hostilities inside the 300 mile safety zone would lead to what it called "friction."

The answer was delivered while seven representatives of the Americas were meeting at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, to study what course to take to prevent violations of the zone by belligerents. It was reported that the representatives proposed to consider sanctions [penalties] against violators, such as refusing to allow warships to make repairs or take on supplies in American ports.

The British government's note was tantamount to a refusal to recognize the safety belt.

Sees Gain for Germany.

Declaring that the 300 mile zone has no basis in international law and that abandonment of "legitimate belligerent rights" cannot be imposed on Britain by unilateral action from America, the note said that a belt outlawing warlike activities would operate entirely in favor of Germany.

It painted a picture of a vast ocean sanctuary crammed with German merchant ships earning American dollars for Adolf Hitler's war chest and sheltering German warships and commerce raiders while the British fleet lurked impotently outside.

Recognition of the security belt, the note declared, would mean the loss of Britain's superiority over Germany at sea. It stressed Britain's determination not to abandon combat against Germans inside the 300 mile zone without being effectively satisfied that German warships were not using it as a hideout from which to attack British shipping and run back to cover and keep themselves supplied.

Demands Guarantees.

It would be necessary, the note said, to insure that German warships and supply vessels could not pass with impunity from the Atlantic to the Pacific thru the zone. Britain, it said, must be certain the zone would not permit German merchantmen to participate in inter-American trade, affording Germany a profitable foreign exchange with which to purchase war supplies abroad.

"Unless these points are adequately safeguarded, the zone proposals might only lead to an accumulation of belligerent warships in the zone," the note added. "This in turn might well bring the risk of war nearer to the American states and lead to friction between, on the one hand, the allies pursuing legitimate belligerent activities, and on the other, the American republics endeavoring to make the new policy prevail.

"The risk of such friction, which his majesty's government would be the first to deplore, would be increased by the application of sanctions."

Denies Violations of Law.

The note repudiated the suggestion that British warships acted contrary to international law. It said the operation of sanctions in effect would

3 BOYS SEEN FLOATING TO SEA ON ICE CAKE ARE BELIEVED TO BE LOST

Boston, Mass., Jan. 15 (AP).—Three boys were missing tonight, believed drowned in Boston harbor while playing on drifting ice cakes during a school holiday. Joseph Curry, 15 years old, drowned while playing in a similar manner in a different section of the harbor a short time before police rescued eight companions of the missing trio. John Whitehouse, 14, one of those rescued, told police he had last seen his younger brothers, Ralph and Wallace, and Charles Kendall, 8, floating out into the harbor on a drifting cake. Another rescued boy was rushed to Carney hospital in a critical condition. Doctors feared that shock and exposure, coupled with a chronic heart ailment, might result in the lad's death. John Murphy, 14, was among those rescued.

SCIENTISTS TAKE CENSUS OF PUERTO RICO'S MONKEYS

SAN JUAN, P. R., Jan. 15. — The first 1940 census probably will be completed at Santiago Island, where scientists at the school of tropical medicine have begun a count of the monkeys released there a little more than a year ago. There has been an increase during the year, but the percentage will be determined by tree to tree and limb to limb count.

Brought from India to establish a free range primate colony in America for research purposes, the physical progress of the monkeys, after the first few months of the adjustment period, exceeded expectations.

Besides the actual census, the physical condition of each monkey will be checked.

East St. Louis, Ill., Jan. 15 [Special].—Securities and valuables worth $2,070 were found today in the one room home of Miss Wilhelmina Minnie Worrath, relief client who died Sunday in the county hospital at Belleville. Miss Worrath lived with her mother, Mrs. Helena Worrath, who Friday was admitted to Alton State hospital as a state case. The two women kept seven dogs in their one room home.

Britain Takes Over Country's Meat Industry

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Paving the way for introduction of meat rationing, the British government today took over control of all domestic slaughtered and imported meat and live stock supplies in this country.

W. S. Morrison.

W. S. Morrison, food minister and boss of Britain's rationing system, acting on behalf of the government, will be the sole buyer of live stock for slaughter. He will control wholesale and retail prices and the distribution of meat. There will be no private trade in the meat industry.

The normal marketing arrangements among farmers, auctioneers, slaughter yards and butchers have been superseded by a complicated control structure that sets up eight official agencies between the stock raiser and the consumer.

Lists Tell Fixed Prices.

Butchers have been supplied with official lists to be posted in stores advising housewives of the prices fixed by the government. Under the control scheme, there will be three grades of beef, mutton and lamb, consisting of two qualities from animals slaughtered in England and one of imported supplies. There will be one grade of veal and two of pork.

A register of customers has been completed by retail butchers, and government experts are working out final details of the allowances.

Rationing will start early next month on a value basis. Adults are expected to get about 1 shilling 9 pence [about 35 cents] worth of meat weekly, or an average of one and three-quarters pounds, at the present government prices. Children under 6 years will get half rations.

Prices for live stock and meat already filed show a big advance from the figures for last August. The average price of home fed cattle has jumped about 33 per cent over the week preceding the outbreak of the war. The average fixed price for sheep is 25 per cent higher, and for pork and pigs about 35 per cent.

A shortage of feeding stuffs has created a big problem for both farmers and consumers. The heavy slaughter of cattle during past months has brought domestic live stock supplies down below normal. On top of this, farmers complain that thousands of pigs and poultry are starving.

Ireland to Supply More.

Part of the deficiency is expected to be made up by a new Anglo-Irish live stock pact that came into force today. It insures a supply of up to 850,000 head of cattle, 400,000 sheep and lambs, and a 100 per cent increase in pigs from Ireland in 1940.

It is expected margarine, cheese, lard, cooking fats, and possibly tea will be put on the government ration list by April 1.

TOAD SET IN CONCRETE 20 YEARS AGO ROLLS OUT, ALIVE AND WELL

Crowell, Tex., Jan. 15 (AP).—Henry Ashford of the Foard County News is the authority for this story: Workmen removing a concrete block from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Todd had to break the heavy mass. Out rolled a white toad, apparently dead.

As the sun warmed it up the toad opened its eyes and began to kick. Now it's alive and well.

Ashford located W. H. McGonagle of Hobbs, N. M., who poured the concrete 20 years ago. McGonagle wrote: "The toad was dug up while we were excavating a hole for a clothes line. By the time I got my cement mixed he jumped back into the hole. I threw him out. He jumped back in again as I threw in a shovel of cement, so I gave him the works. I worried about it and I'm glad the toad is alive."

CHARGE BREACH OF NEUTRALITY BY SOVIET ACTS

Report Plane Down on Swedish Soil.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Jan. 15 (AP). — Almost simultaneous protests from Sweden and Norway charging that soviet Russian warplanes had violated their neutrality tonight increased the growing tension between Russia and the Scandinavian states.

Both Sweden and Norway instructed their ministers in Moscow to protest the alleged violations. These developments came quickly after Russian charges that Norway and Sweden were acting in an unneutral way by permitting bitter antisoviet campaigns in their newspapers and sending volunteers and war supplies to Finland.

Both replied that they were observing neutrality correctly. The Norwegian foreign minister, Halvdan Koht, said that tho Norwegians had given voluntary help to Finland, the government has not violated its neutrality declaration. Therefore, he said, Moscow has no reason to complain against the behavior of official Norway and the cabinet.

Fly Over Northern Border.

The Norwegian protest to Moscow charged that several Russian planes flew over Norwegian territory bordering Finland in the far north between last Friday and yesterday. Norway said one soviet plane landed on Norwegian soil. Norwegian antiaircraft guns fired on soviet planes on Sunday near Kirkenes, on the far northern frontier.

The Swedish protest to Moscow was based on the reported bombing of the Swedish island of Kallaks, on the western side of the Gulf of Bothnia, by nine soviet planes yesterday. The note said 10 bombs were dropped on the island, which is 60 miles from the nearest point in Finland and is near the ore port of Lulea. One of the planes apparently made a forced landing on Swedish soil, but Swedish planes and troops had not been able to find it tonight.

Says Policy "Conceals Danger."

The exchange of notes capped a day in which Russia declared she was not pleased over the Norwegian and Swedish replies to her protests of aid to Finland, delivered earlier this month.

Russia's statement said Sweden's reply was particularly unsatisfactory and declared the policy of the government of both Norway and Sweden "conceals danger."

Scandinavian newspapers said Russia's recent actions toward Sweden and Norway was strikingly similar to the treatment accorded Finland before the Russian invasion started. Newspapers said the Scandinavians' sympathy with Finland was only natural and that their peoples would continue to help Finland.

The newspaper Dagens Nyheter of Stockholm, said "Sweden now declares that Finland's struggle for liberty never can leave the northern states indifferent."

Prepare for Surprises.

The paper expressed the hope that the world would aid Finland and declared the "Swedish people itself tries to help as much as it can."

The Stockholm paper Nya Dagligt Allehanda said Sweden had made her position clear that now Swedish diplomacy "must be active . . . and we must prepare for all eventualities."

In Oslo the newspaper Dagbladet said "It is quite unreasonable to hide the fact that the sympathy of the Norwegian people is on the Finnish side. There is no reason to doubt the honesty of the Norwegian state's declaration that it will keep itself strictly neutral in the war but Norway will be unable to yield to claims from the Russian side, which would mean a break of neutrality against Finland."

Baby Born in Auto Stuck in Snow Drift Can Take It

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15 [Special].—Mrs. Marvin Disk, who lives on a farm eight miles southwest of Sauk City, gave birth to a 7 pound boy in the automobile in which her husband was taking her to the Sauk City hospital. A snow plow crew cleared a path for the car which reached the hospital half an hour after the birth. Mother and child were doing well today.

ROOSEVELT ACTS TODAY ON LOAN TO HELP FINLAND

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—President Roosevelt is to take the initiative tomorrow to extend an American loan to Finland as a measure of aid to that country in resisting Russian aggression.

After the President had discussed the matter for one and one-half hours today with Vice President John N. Garner, Speaker William B. Bankhead [D., Ala.] and Senator Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], and Representative Sam Rayburn [D., Tex.], the majority leaders of the senate and house, respectively, apnouncement was made that Mr. Roosevelt will recommend a loan, probably in a letter to one of the administration leaders in congress.

The proposed Finnish loan is one of the hottest potatoes that the statesmen of both parties have undertaken to handle in a long time.

Many Suggestions for Aid.

The attack the Finns have suffered from the imperialistic Moscow communists evoked universal sympathy in the United States and proposals of material aid immediately emanated from all parts of the country.

While former President Herbert Hoover was organizing the subscription of a large fund to alleviate hunger and other privation in Finland, it was suggested that the American government should do something handsome in recognition of the fact that this little country is the only one that has not defaulted on its war debt to the United States. Finland had paid 6 million dollars and still owes 8 millions.

It was suggested variously that Finland be granted a moratorium on further payments, that the entire loan be wiped off the books and previous payments refunded and that a much larger loan be made to help the Finns in their present troubles.

Senator Brown Urges Loan.

Prominent in urging generous American aid from the start have been Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] and Prentiss M. Brown [D., Mich.], in whose state there is a large Finnish population.

As soon as congress reassembled, Senator Brown introduced a bill providing for a 60 million dollar loan to Finland. This measure was referred to the senate banking and currency committee, which requested the opinions thereon of the treasury department and the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

That the proposal was regarded generally as carrying political dynamite became evident a few days ago.

With Russia belligerently denouncing aid to Finland, the question was raised whether a formal American government loan would involve the United States in war.

Plans Informal Approach.

To deprive the loan of the aspect of a warlike measure, the President's approach will be strictly informal. Instead of a formal message to congress, the President is expected to transmit his personal views on the project and the views of Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones in informal letters to the Vice President and speaker of the house. Then the aid granted would not be a formal government loan, but credit advanced informally by the Federal Export-Import bank. The amount suggested in the conference was 25 millions.

FRANCE BARS HOUNDS; BRITISH BID CHEERIO TO 'UNTING AT FRONT

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The French government has slapped a ban on the shipment of packs of hounds across the English channel by hunting folk in Britain for the benefit of fox hunters in the British expeditionary force.

The French ministry of interior, it was disclosed here tonight, has flatly turned down all applications from officers seeking to continue hunting behind the lines, and has barred the importation of hounds.

In a letter published in a hunting magazine, a British officer in France said his application for a hunting permit was turned down on the grounds that the "French, unlike the British, treated the war in more serious manner, as it was their country at stake." He added that game shooting is prohibited also, "so there should be no waste of gunpowder and shot."

NEUTRALS' WAR SCARE LAID TO FOE BY BERLIN

Watches Actions of Dutch, Belgians.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—"Germany is alert and watching developments in Belgium and the Netherlands most closely," German officials declared today when asked to express their view on the mobilization of 1,000,000 troops in those countries.

They sought to create the impression that the alarm felt in Belgium and the Netherlands over a possible invasion by Germany was aroused by England and France. They charged that the empires were eager to "enlarge the front against Germany."

They belittled the assumption in Holland and Belgium that Germany would welcome the possibility of gaining new bases along the coast, thus making it easier for German flyers to reach strategic points in England.

Germans Puzzled.

The decision of Belgium and the Netherlands to increase their armed strength at the present time continued to be the object of speculation in Berlin. The charge that German flyers who made a forced landing at Malmes, Belgium, carried papers which alarmed Germany's small neighbors was ridiculed by the Nazis.

They said that even if the flyers, after landing, tried to burn the documents they were carrying that did not mean they were of a nature alarming to Belgium or the Netherlands.

"It is not customary to send important documents by airplane," they added.

Duce Warns Hitler.

While diplomats discussed the possible enlargement of the areas involved in the war, diplomatic circles reported that Premier Mussolini of Italy has sent a letter to Adolf Hitler warning him that soviet Russia's invasion of Finland placed Italy in a difficult position. It was reported that Il Duce told the Fuehrer that both he and his friend, Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain, adhered to the antibolshevik line and would, under no conditions, relinquish it.

Representatives of small countries in Berlin said Mussolini also warned that any violation of the rights of smaller nations adjoining Russia or Germany would be detrimental to Italy's relations with Germany. However, this statement could not be substantiated in well informed quarters.

SEES FRENCH PREMIER

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Premier Edouard Daladier today received the Belgian ambassador to France. Whether the visit had anything to do with the military precautions taken yesterday in Belgium and the Netherlands was not announced. Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin, commander in chief of the army, also saw Daladier.

Contrary to the attitude during the invasion scare last November, the French foreign office and apparently England doubt that Germany will attack the low countries. The calling to the colors of additional soldiers in Belgium and the cancelation of army leaves in Holland have not affected military routine in France. Only a few in France believe that a German invasion is contemplated. The great majority do not believe one is planned.

ANXIETY IS WANING

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Jan. 15 (AP).—Anxiety over the possibility of invasion waned tonight in Belgium and the Netherlands, but the two nations, maintained at war strength the armies which they massed along the 300 mile German frontier over the week-end.

In Brussels, a government spokesman said that official tension was easing, but declared Belgium's armed forced would be maintained in a state of semialarm for several days.

The Netherlands, which stepped up its defenses by cancelling all army leaves, appeared outwardly calm and authoritative sources said there was no acute danger.

French on Close Watch.

French sources said that the possibility of a German invasion of the lowland countries in an attempt to outflank western front defenses in France had been reduced by recent extension of the Maginot line along the Belgian border.

Nevertheless the French said they were watching the situation closely and were prepared to meet any eventuality.

It was noted that Belgian soldiers have been busy removing obstacles which had been placed earlier on roads leading to France—presumably to facilitate the movement of French troops into Belgium in the event of invasion by Germany.

Belgium halted highway traffic from the Duchy of Luxemburg whose tiny army suddenly was ordered to remain in barracks.

Bans Communist Papers.

The Belgian prime minister, Hubert Pierlot, and Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak were summoned to the palace in Brussels this afternoon to confer with King Leopold. A cabinet meeting followed, at which at was decided to confiscate all communist newspapers and construct a camp for foreign refugees.

Subsequently Spaak asserted that the international situation had improved, but would have to be watched.

The semi-official Belga News agency issued a note in Brussels saying that "Belgium remains calm, but the army is on its toes." It denied a dispatch by DNB, official German news agency, declaring that the Belgian and Netherlands governments had been given information by France and Britain which caused them to take defense measures.

MINISTER SAYS HOLLAND PLANS FIGHT IF FORCED

Holland, Mich., Jan. 15 [Special].—"My country may be at war tomorrow, if so, we will fight our own war, and we may go down, but we will go down with a clear conscience," said Dr. Alexander Loudon, minister plenipotentiary of the Netherlands to the United States, in an address here. He was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree by Hope college here today. Later in his address the minister emphasized the necessity of the moral support of the United States to the Netherlands, altho he stated that material aid in any possible war was not expected by his country.

Dr. Loudon.

The minister, who was accompanied by his wife, by William G. Bryant, and W. K. Von Weller of the Detroit consulate, and Jacob Steketee, consul for the Netherlands at Grand Rapids, Mich., was guest at a luncheon at the Warm Friend tavern here following the convocation.

Navy Reported to Own New Net to Snare Submarines

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 15 (AP).—The Examiner stated tonight the American navy has perfected a new type of submarine net which it tried out while the fleet was at anchor here last week. "The net, similar to those used by commercial fishermen but made of steel, can be set in place between the old and new breakwaters within a short time, closing the channel gap completely," the newspaper said. "The tryout proved successful, according to meager admissions by naval spokesmen."

Berkeley, Cal., Jan. 15 (AP).—The second earthquake within 24 hours was felt in the East Bay region shortly after 10 o'clock tonight [midnight Chicago time]. Newspaper offices in Oakland received reports a terrific explosion had occurred east of the city. Residents here and in nearby Albany felt the tremor. There were no reports of damage. A slight tremor was recorded on the University of California seismograph at 4:22 a. m. [6:22 a. m. Chicago time] today.

TRIBUNE WRITER SEES REDS RAIN BOMBS ON TOWN

100 Missiles Dropped on Sunday Crowd.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Jan. 14 [Delayed].—A squadron of 20 Russian bombers dropped a hundred bombs on the village of Lohja, about 25 miles northwest of Helsingfors, as I was motoring thru there at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Two women and a man were killed and four children hurt. Many homes, a coöperative store, and a warehouse were destroyed. A foot was torn from one of the children by a bomb splinter and another child suffered a shattered arm, which a doctor said would have to be amputated.

Map Locates Lohja.

Lohja does not contain any important factory or enterprise that can be called a military objective. It is an ordinary village with a paper mill and is in the center of a prosperous farming district, but it has dug deep shelters in its market square.

Movie Crowd Is Caught.

Persons who had come to town on Sunday to visit or to see some of the American movies, which are popular in Finland, had tethered their horses in long rows. The sudden appearance of the planes, accompanied by the screeching of a small, hand driven siren, threw the horses into a panic. While men attempted to control the animals women and children ran desperately toward the entrance to the shelters.

Many of the horses broke away from the hitching posts and ran wildly around the square, overturned sleds, spilled blankets and straw about, and dashed toward the outskirts of town.

Finns Calmly Battle Fire.

More than half the bombs burst and a few horses were struck by splinters and began to scream. The Finns did not lose their heads. The attack was over in a moment and the men, who were mostly middle aged or boys, quieted the animals. They immediately joined a fire brigade that tried without avail to save six burning buildings. They prevented the fire from spreading and a few hours later got into their sleighs and started back to their farms.

The faces of the people were white and many talked thru clenched teeth. One remark was repeated so often that I asked a Finnish acquaintance to explain. He said they were complaining about the lack of fighting planes needed to prevent such raids.

At the village drug store I learned the two women died in one of the burning buildings. A bomb fragment killed the man while he was struggling to calm his horse.

Clipper Lands Amid Ice with Record Mail Cargo

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 15 (AP).—Pan American Airways' Atlantic Clipper, carrying 16 passengers and a record load of 7,654 pounds of mail, skirted ice floes to land safely in the harbor today. The flying boat came down in water cleared by ice breakers, and the passengers were ferried by a tender to the regular landing dock, still rimmed by ice. The record mail cargo represented a three week accumulation, for the Clipper had been delayed by weather at Horta, the Azores.

FINLAND'S CHIEF CITIES HEAVILY BOMBED BY REDS

Flyers Strike at Height of Cold Wave.

VIIPURI, Finland, Jan. 15 (AP).—Undeterred by the bitterest cold wave in 10 years, soviet Russia's air fleets roared over southern and western Finland today for the fourth successive day, bombing more than a score of cities and leaving death and destruction in their wake.

Hardest hit of the larger cities were the south coast seaports of Viipuri [Viborg] and Turku [Abo].

The raid on Turku, in which a large number of planes participated, was the severest the city has experienced. At least 20 buildings were destroyed or damaged, and casualties were said to be heavy.

Viipuri, near the Karelian front, where the temperature was 25 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, was bombed heavily at noon. One whole street of shops was demolished and buildings were set afire. At least two persons were killed and many injured.

Drop Incendiary Bombs.

Rajamaki, one of the towns which suffered heavily in yesterday's widespread air raids, was attacked again by three planes, which were said to have dropped incendiary bombs as well as explosives.

Tampere, munitions center north of Helsingfors, and Karjaa, south coast port, also were raided.

On the military front the biting cold appeared to have stalled large scale operations, at least temporarily.

The Finnish communique reported only patrol activity—which it described as "lively and effective"—on the eastern front and said there were no developments of importance on the Karelian isthmus.

Finnish sources expressed belief that the extensive air raids of yesterday and today were part of a Russian attempt to break civilian morale in an effort to weaken resistance at the front.

Two Alarms in Capital.

In Helsingfors two air raid alarms were sounded shortly after noon. The capital is 150 miles west of here. Some bombs were reported to have fallen in the outskirts.

The raiders in both the Viipuri and Helsingfors attacks flew very high as they approached. There were 21 in the group which attacked Viipuri. They dived thru the cold, clear sky to strike.

The Russians returned just one day after hitting Finland with the worst bombing attack of the war. The Finnish high command in its communique today said that more than 300 bombers took part in yesterday's raids. It said three were shot down and three more reported shot down.

Vaasa Most Heavily Hit.

The town of Vaasa, on the Finnish west coast, was said to have "suffered most." At least eight civilians, including women and children, were killed and many wounded there. "Considerable" material damage was reported. The city had a population of about 32,000.

"Elsewhere casualties and material damage were relatively small," the communique said.

Correspondents visiting the Karelian isthmus front were shown tent dugouts where the Finns are keeping warm and comfortable despite the temperature of 25 degrees below zero Fahrenheit. This was the coldest yet experienced on the Karelian isthmus front since the beginning of the war, although the mercury has hit 40 below in the far north.

The Finnish Communique.

The Finnish military communique said:

"LAND: On the isthmus [of Karelia] nothing new. On the eastern frontier lively and effective patrol activity by our troops continues:

"SEA: Nothing of importance on the naval front.

"AIR: On Jan. 14 the home area as well as the war front experienced numerous air raids. In the home area Turku, Hango, Tammisaari, Sottunga, in the Aaland islands, Salo, Vaasa, Helsingfors, and the vicinity of the district of Riihimaki and Rajimaki and many other smaller localities in southwest and south Finland were bombarded from the air.

"The town which suffered most was Vaasa [on the west coast] where, according to information now available, at least eight civilians, including women and children were killed and many wounded and considerable material damage was done.

"Elsewhere casualties and material damage were relatively small.

"Part of the machines which flew over Petsamo [in the far north] came, according to reports received from the Arctic ocean, by way of Norwegian territory.

"The number of enemy machines over Finland during the day may be estimated at more than 300. In the course of the day three enemy bombers were shot down in addition to which the destruction of three more awaits confirmation.

"The further wreckage of three more enemy machines was found, which were among the unconfirmed cases reported on Jan. 12. One of these was a big four-motored bomber of the same type shot down on Jan. 12."

Russian Communique.

MOSCOW, Jan. 15 (AP).—Rifle and machine gun fire, clashes of infantry, and a "number of bombing raids" during the day on the Finnish front were reported in tonight's communique of the Leningrad military area headquarters of the Russian army. The communique:

"Murmansk and Ukhta sectors, activities of scouts, in some places rifle, machine gun, and artillery firing. In the Petrozavodsk sector, clashes of infantry units continued. [These three fronts are on Finland's eastern border.]

"On the Karelian isthmus, action of patrols, artillery fire, but not intense.

"Soviet aviation made a number of bombing raids on railway stations and military objectives."

Tass, the official soviet news agency, said that the presidium of the supreme soviet had awarded the Order of the Red Banner to the 19th infantry regiment for "exemplary execution of battle tasks assigned by the command in the struggle against the Finnish White Guards and for valor and courage displayed in this struggle."

Heavy Russian Traffic.

KIRKENES, Norway, Jan. 15 (AP).—Heavy traffic of Russian tanks and trucks was observed on the Finnish side of the border today between Salmijarvi and Hoyhenjarvi.

Observers were puzzled by the traffic moving both ways, but they said it might mean extensive replacements were under way in preparation for a renewed arctic offensive. Salmijarvi is the nickel mining town 30 miles south of the Arctic ocean. Hoyhenjarvi is 30 miles farther south.

Pressed By Lack of Supplies.

WITH FINNISH FORCES IN THE FAR NORTH, Jan. 15 (AP).—Indications that the soviet Russian army intrenched along the Salla front above the Arctic circle would be forced into attack by lack of supplies were seen today by Finnish observers.

A rise in temperature after month-long subzero weather last week brought a sudden attack under cover of artillery fire against the Finnish northern flank, but the Reds were driven back with heavy losses.

This unexpected move was believed by the Finns to indicate that the soviets would attempt to smash Finnish defenses at the first break in the arctic cold. Finnish quarters expressed belief the Russians did not have supplies to last them thru the usual season of merciless cold which comes in late January and early February.

U-BOAT BOMBED BY BRITISH FLYER; BELIEVED SUNK

Dutch Vessel Sent Down by German Torpedo.

LONDON, Jan. 15 (AP).—A royal air force plane bombed a submarine in the North sea today, an official announcement said, and apparently sank it.

The plane's pilot saw the submarine as it was submerging, the announcement said. He dived his craft, leveled off, and dropped a salvo of bombs that is said to have fallen close to the submarine.

When geysers caused by the bombs subsided, a greenish-brown oil patch 40 yards in circumference and surrounded by masses of bubbles appeared on the surface.

A dispatch from Amsterdam, the Netherlands, said the 7,906 ton Netherlands steamer Arendskerk was torpedoed and sunk in the Bay of Biscay. The crew was rescued.

A German warplane bombed the 538 ton British trawler William Ivey in the North sea but the trawler's crew was landed safely at a Scottish port.

Cancel British Flyers' Leaves.

Britain canceled further leaves for the royal air force in France today. This move, the British said, made it plain that any German lightning thrust toward Belgium and the Netherlands would be met with the full strength of Britain's land, sea, and air forces.

British described the suspension of leaves in the air force, and similar action applied earlier to land forces in France, as a precaution like moves taken by the Netherlands and Belgium against any situation which might arise.

[Authorized sources in Berlin charged that the war scare was made in Paris and reiterated that Germany desired to avoid any extension of the conflict.]

One British informant with high connections declared the chances of a German "blitzkreig" [lightning war] thru the Netherlands or Belgium were neither more nor less than even."

Hore-Belisha May Explain.

Announcement of the extraordinary military measures came on the eve of the reopening of parliament, in which the former war secretary, Leslie Hore-Belisha, is expected to make a statement to commons on his resignation.

The authoritative British Press association said that after Hore-Belisha addresses the house Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain will reply, giving the reasons for the cabinet changes in which Hore-Belisha and Minister of Information Lord MacMillan were dropped from the government.

'AIR RAID NEWS SPURS DONATIONS FOR FINNISH AID

Relief activities in Finland have been complicated by soviet airplane attacks on Finnish towns, Philip R. Clarke, local chairman of the Finnish Relief fund, announced yesterday. He said he has been advised that the Finnish committee in charge of civilian relief has been forced to move noncombatant populations from entire villages and towns in eastern Finland to western sections of the country.

Reports of these bombing attacks, Clarke said, have spurred contributions to the local Finnish Relief fund which has reached $92,100. Offices are at 200 South La Salle street.

Machine Tan

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Vera Shay getting sun tan spray at machine on display at convention of coin machine industries in Sherman hotel.

Slot machines, from which you get almost anything you want, from milk and candy to nickels and books, filled the mezzanine floor of the Sherman hotel yesterday.

The machines, coin operated vending machines or game of chance boards, were on display for the four day convention of the Coin Machine Industries, Inc., which opened yesterday. Ninety-five per cent of the coin operated machines in the United States, it was said, are manufactured in Chicago.

The familiar "jack pot" machines, illegal in Cook county, were on display, but in much less volume than other games of chance. One new game, called "Oomph," capitalized upon this with large signs, saying, "What your locations need is Oomph!" and "Oomph is always legal."

Punch boards, on which you punch a number and hope it is "lucky" and will repay you in gold, and little fat jars full of numbered chances were displayed prominently. One salesman said, "Listen, this is 90 per cent profit. You can't miss. When people get this instinct they'll do without milk to play it."

SEIZURES MAKE OCEAN VOYAGE LAST 80 DAYS

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Jan. 15.—The Latvian steamer Arija, which the Germans captured shortly after she left Riga for Buenos Aires, arrived yesterday, 80 days after leaving Riga.

The Arija sailed Oct. 26 with potatoes, lumber, and electric lamps for Argentina. On Nov. 1 she was halted by a German destroyer and taken into Stettin, where Capt. Adolf Kraukle reports the Germans were holding 60 neutral vessels. Latvia appealed to Argentina for diplomatic support and Argentina protested to Berlin that the Arija was a neutral vessel carrying noncontraband from neutral Riga to neutral Buenos Aires.

The Germans released the vessel Nov. 21. The British then captured it and took it to a control station for another examination.

BOMBER CRASHES AND EXPLODES; 5 LEAP TO SAFETY

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, Jan. 15.—The pilot of a royal air force bomber, speeding 80 miles an hour across a field near the old championship golf course to take off, today realized his machine, loaded with bombs, would not clear the wood ahead.

He yelled to his four companions to jump for their lives. All four leaped from the plane. When they were safe the pilot followed them. All received only minor cuts and bruises.

A few seconds later the bomber crashed into the woods. The ensuing explosion blew the plane to pieces and wreckage was scattered a quarter of a mile. The engines fell 200 yards apart. The explosion shook houses five miles away and shattered ceilings of three nearby houses.

RUMANIA FORCES INHABITANTS TO BUY WAR BONDS

Wage Earners Must Give One Month's Pay.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Jan. 15.—Trying to tap every possible resource for national defense the Rumanian government has opened a high pressure campaign to force everybody in the country to subscribe for national defense bonds. Part of this drive has reached a point where it amounts to conscription of capital for defense altho the government has avoided an outright capital levy.

Crown Prince Michael.

Every shopkeeper, every clerk or stenographer, and every civil servant is giving one month's pay.

Crown Prince Michael set the example by donating two months' pay as a senator—$150.

Employers Deduct Money.

In most cases employers buy bonds on the workers' behalf and deduct the money from pay envelopes in five monthly instalments. Every firm must also give a lump sum arbitrarily set by the ministry of finance.

Rumanian petroleum companies, which were built chiefly on foreign capital, recently voted to subscribe $2,500,000 as the maximum they could spare without importing costly foreign capital to keep going.

The ministry of finance, it is said, laughed at that offer, and even when the companies raised the ante to $3,750,000 the ministry said it was not enough. The companies' quota supposedly was set at $5,000,000.

The American directed telephone company has been given to understand that it must kick in $250,000, and all employés, including Americans, must give a month's pay.

Wants Twice as Much.

The British owned Bank of Rumania decided the most it could pay without importing new capital was $250,000, but the ministry of finance, it is understood, insists on twice as much.

The same is true of every business man and every firm. They are told they are expected to subscribe and if the subscription does not satisfy the authorities—official expectations always are beyond the means of contributors—they are warned to make it bigger. Tho there is no legal penalty for refusal, Rumanian tax laws and business laws are so complicated and in many cases so loosely administered that it is possible to find an irregularity in the past records of firms. That is a means of persuasion hinted at when they fail to give as much as is expected.

GERMANS ASSAIL LORD LOTHIAN ON CHICAGO TALK

BERLIN, Jan. 15. — Official German contempt for what is termed the turncoat policy of Lord Lothian, British ambassador at Washington, was expressed tonight in the Deutsch Diplomatische Korrespondenz, in which appear authoritative views of the foreign office.

Lord Lothian's speech in Chicago is compared with some of his utterances of two or three years ago when, the Germans state, he was an advocate of peace on the basis of mutual understandings between European nations.

His Chicago speech is termed a propagandistic effort that represents misuse of his official position and of the hospitality of the United States.

[In his Chicago speech Lord Lothian said that what Adolf Hitler seeks "is not justice for Germany, but conquest and domination."]

It's Not the Cold—It's the Humidity That Upsets Them

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Canadian troops quartered in Britain are upset by the humidity of the climate in contrast to Canada's dry cold. They are reported complaining against the antiquated open coal fire heating used in many barracks here. A central heating system has been installed by Canadian officers at their own expense in some headquarters offices.

PLANES FROM U.S. EXPAND FRENCH POWER IN SEA WAR

Dive Bombers Arrive; Build Vast Navy.

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY.

WITH THE FRENCH FLEET, Jan. 15 (AP).—American warplanes are reenforcing the French navy in a vast building program designed to maintain mastery of the seas by the empires.

I have just seen a cross section of France's growing fleet, from the naval academy to her biggest ships, in a three day visit.

American dive bombers have been shipped safely across the Atlantic in French naval convoys and are being assembled ashore for action.

The planes form part of a construction program calling for four 35,000 ton battleships and more than 100 smaller vessels to meet any German challenge on French and British sea lines.

Giant Airbase Is Built.

American bombers are being landed at a giant airbase in Brittany where sea and land runways, steel hangars and modern apartments for the staff are being constructed. After the war, air passengers from America may use this base as a station.

When I was there one bomber was being assembled in a hangar and American mechanics were said to be directing the work. Other planes, ready to fly, were receiving their coats of camouflage.

American Planes Hunt U-Boats.

The first American planes to arrive after the United States congress revised the neutrality act were assigned to submarine patrols.

The French navy building program includes the training of men. The naval school at Brest, France's Annapolis, is preparing to graduate this month 200 men who normally would have gone to sea next September.

In port, upon which the school looks down, riveters were busy aboard the Richelieu, first of the new 35,000 ton battleships. Launched a year ago, she is expected to be ready for sea within a few months.

Three More Being Built.

Another 35,000 ton craft, the Clemenceau, also is under construction at Brest, and two more, the Jean Bart and the Gascogne, are being built at Saint Nazaire.

At Lorient, fishing smacks were being armed for coastal patrol and wooden ships were being outfitted to sweep for magnetic mines. Dispatch boats also were being built for convoy duty.

Report Scandal Brewing in Ship Transfer Move

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—Reports of an impending scandal over the Roosevelt administration's effort to circumvent the neutrality law by approving the transfer of American ships to foreign registry were increased today when Senator Bennett C. Clark [D., Mo.] introduced in the senate a resolution aimed at the United States maritime commission.

Senator B. C. Clark.

Senator Clark's resolution demands full information as to both the details and the good faith of the proposed sale of eight vessels of the United States Lines to the North Atlantic Transport company, a newly formed Norwegian corporation. Tomorrow, it was learned, the senator will introduce a second resolution calling upon the maritime commission for the names of all lawyers, lobbyists or other representatives of shipping interests who have registered with it.

Charge New Deal Lobbyists.

It is reported in well informed quarters that two former high officials of the Roosevelt administration and a former New Deal governor, who is a frequent caller at the White House, have been engaged in lobbying for the United States Lines and that not a lobbyist for any of the shipping interests has registered with the maritime commission.

The merchant marine act of 1936 provides for a penalty of from 1 to 5 years' imprisonment and a fine of not more than $10,000 for any person employed or retained by any shipbuilder or operator to present, advocate or oppose any matter before congress or any member or committee thereof, the commission or any other federal agency, who fails to register with the commission.

The Norwegian transfer deal, authorized by the maritime commission with President's Roosevelt's approval on Dec. 29, collapsed last week when the Norwegian ministry of commerce refused to permit its consummation. Officials of the maritime commission charged that Germany put pressure on the Norwegian government to block the transfer of the American ships to the flag of Norway.

Bar U. S. Ships in War Zone.

Under the neutrality act American vessels are barred from the war zones. The eight United States ships were to be operated between New York and London and New York and Liverpool by a newly created Norwegian corporation. The maritime commission revealed the United States lines owns 40 per cent of the corporation.

President Roosevelt originally favored transfer of the vessels of the United States lines to Panama registry, but congressional opposition and that of Secretary of State Cordell Hull forced abandonment of the plan.

The United States lines is an affiliate of the International Mercantile Marine company which is owned in part by British interests. John M. Franklin is president and director of each company. Vincent Astor, friend of President Roosevelt is a director of the I. M. M. Kermit Roosevelt, now a British subject and officer in the British army, is vice president of the United States lines.

HULL SAYS NEW JAP TREATY IS BEING DISCUSSED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—Secretary Hull said today that a new commercial treaty with Japan was being discussed with Tokio. He made the announcement at his press conference following reports from official sources this this government would not enter into a temporary arrangement to replace the treaty which expires on Jan. 26. Unless Japan made "effective" guarantees that American interests would receive equal and fair treatment hereafter in Japanese-occupied China.

Following Hull's press conference an official explained that the United States had not brought up the question of a new commercial treaty, but that Japan, anxious to have a new treaty with the United States, had undoubtedly injected it into the discussions between United States Ambassador Grew and the Japanese foreign office in Tokio.

HOLD 17 ALLEGED TERRORISTS IN BAIL OF $850,000

G-Men Hunt Guns Believed Hidden by Plotters.

New York, Jan. 15 (AP).—Seventeen handcuffed and closely guarded members of an alleged terrorist plot to overthrow the United States government and set up a "Fuehrer type" dictatorship chanted their theme song today as they were held in $50,000 bail each—a total of $850,000—for hearing on Feb. 5.

All pleaded innocent to charges of seditious conspiracy when they were arraigned before Judge Grover Moscowitz in Brooklyn.

Search for Arms Caches.

"Reign, glory, we are here to see it so!" they sang to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," drowning out the lamentations of relatives who wept as they were marched off to detention cells.

Serio-comic ramifications of the 17-man band's machinations grew apace as federal, state and National Guard authorities pushed separate investigations and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents began a nation-wide serch for caches of "revolutionary" arms.

Meanwhile, J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, and other officials stressed the potential seriousness of the alleged conspiracy, and Representative Emanuel Celler [D., N. Y.] demanded legislation to stiffen the penalty for peace time sedition—now 6 years in prison and $5,000 fine.

Predict More Arrests.

In their first interview behind the bars the alleged conspirators pushed forward Macklin Boettger, 32, as spokesman, and they nodded agreement as he explained that the members were "out to assist the army and navy if and when the time came that we consider it necessary."

More arrests were predicted by United States Attorney Harold M. Kennedy, who said that FBI agents were "virtually forced" to act now because their investigations indicated a series of bombing outrages was imminent.

The plot, he said, included plans to blow up buildings, raid utility plants and government offices, "liquidate" Jews, assassinate a dozen unidentified congressmen, and set up a dictatorship.

ENGLAND SPURNS PEACE SEA ZONE, WARNS AMERICAS

Charges Neutral Belt Aids Germany.

mean that British warships would be faced with the "invidious choice of having either to refrain from engaging their enemy or laying themselves open to penalties in American ports and waters."

To date, the document maintained, it does not appear to the British government that "means have been found whereby the disadvantages of the zone proposal could be eliminated." The only methods for making the zone effective, according to the British note, would be:

1. For American governments to insure that no more German warships entered the zone.

2. That German ships already there should be interned for the duration of the war under Pan-American control.

The note said in conclusion:

"Until his majesty's government are able to feel assured that the scheme will operate satisfactorily, they must, anxious as they are for the fulfilment of American hopes, necessarily reserve their full belligerent rights in order to fight the menace presented by German action and policy. . . ."

Vargas Proclaims Rights.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Jan. 15 (AP).—President Getulio Vargas of Brazil, opening a conference of the inter-American neutrality committee, proclaimed tonight the right of the American nations to establish a safety zone around their shores even tho such a zone is not recognized by existing international law.

"Having in view the general principle that nothing justifies that the interests of belligerents prevail over the interests of neutrals," he declared, "we will do what we can to keep distant from American seas the spectacle of armed clashes and resulting dangers to our sovereignty."

CRITICIZES COST OF RUNNING AGE PENSION OFFICE

Administrative costs of old age assistance have jumped 32 per cent since 1937, Hugh W. Cross, speaker of Illinois house of representatives, said yesterday at a meeting of the Women's Republican club of Evanston in the Orrington hotel. Cross is a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

Comparison of cost in 1937 and 1939.

"It cost $2,903,243 to administer old age assistance in Illinois during 1937 and in 1939 the cost rose to $3,832,290," he said. "Gov. Horner is planning to raise new taxes to supply funds for increased old age benefits, instead of getting at the heart of the matter by cutting down on the huge force of pay rollers.

"The assumption of relief and pension obligations by state and federal governments is throwing a greater tax burden upon those least able to pay. Illinois spends 44 per cent of its income on relief, pensions, and charitable and penal institutions. These funds come mainly from the sales tax that wrings pennies from purchases of bread and butter, drugs for the sick, and clothing for children."

Final Public Hearing on Superhighway Tomorrow

Ald. George D. Kells [28th], chairman of the city council's joint committee on superhighways, announced yesterday that the final public hearing on comprehensive superhighway plans for Chicago will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the council chambers. The hearing had been scheduled for today.

REJECT BRITISH PROTEST

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—The American government has refused to entertain a British protest that the neutrality act discriminates against British shipping.

The state department today released the substance of the British note, dated Nov. 9, and the American reply, dated Dec. 1. It revealed that the department insisted that American shipping received no better treatment than that of other neutrals and that all belligerents were on an equal basis. Consequently, it said, there was no discrimination.

The protest was based on that provision of the neutrality act which exempts neutral ships from the requirement that title to cargoes leaving American ports for certain foreign ports must be transferred to foreign purchasers before the vessels sail.

Britain said that since the title to a cargo must be transferred when the ship is that of a belligerent, the effect was to discriminate against British shipping.

$11,776,501,570 PAID OUT SINCE 1935 ON RELIEF

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—President Roosevelt reported to congress today that $11,776,501,570 had been spent under emergency relief appropriation acts from April 8, 1935, to Dec. 31, 1939.

The report, covering funds expended by the Work Projects administration, National Youth administration, the Farm Security administration, the Public Works administration, and other agencies receiving funds under the relief acts, showed $872,212,975 had been spent from July 1, 1939, to Dec. 31, 1939, the first half of this fiscal year.

New York led the states and territories in the amount spent within its borders, with a total of $1,434,999,528. Among the states Illinois received $741,207,950; Wisconsin, $294,647,751; Michigan, $436,555,451; Indiana, $294,188,756, and Iowa, $123,870,362.

Seamen of Scuttled Liner Cancel Tickets on Jap Ship

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 15 (AP).—Officials of the Japanese NYK line said tonight 100 German seamen of the scuttled steamship Columbus, en route here by train, had canceled reservations to sail Thursday on the liner Tatuta Maru. It was stated unofficially the cancellations were made because advance publicity might result in British attempts to remove the men from the liner.

ARMY, WITH EYE ON FINNS, PLANS SKI WAR GAMES

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Jan. 15.—Winter war maneuvers—combat exercises, between ski troops from Fort Brady and a flight of fighting planes from Scott field, Belleville, Ill.,—will be conducted before the end of this month, it was announced today by Capt. H. B. Wilcox. The exact date for commencement of the maneuvers has not been fixed.

Among other problems in the miniature winter war will be a number suggested by the Finnish-Russian conflict. These in particular involve the operation of heavily armed troops against low flying airplanes. There will be others concerned with the ability of flyers to spot well trained, well camouflaged ski troops.

The troops chosen to take part in the maneuvers are probably the best trained skiers in the army. They belong to Company I of the 3d battalion, 2d infantry, stationed here at the fort and assigned the duty of guarding the Sault Ste. Marie locks. The regular training curriculum of these troops requires two hours of activity on skis daily.

BIG BATTLESHIP CRY MAY DELAY NAVY'S BUILDING

Committee Holds Up Cash for 45,000 Ton Vessels.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—Congressional pressure for bigger battleships threatened today to interfere with navy plans for construction of four 45,000 ton capital ships.

It was learned that the house naval appropriations subcommittee had served notice that funds for the ships would be withheld until the navy showed why they should not be abandoned in favor of larger, more powerful craft.

The subcommittee recently asked the navy department to furnish cost data on 65,000 ton super battleships. Since then, however, Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, told the house naval committee that current studies on the subject indicated that 50,000 or 52,000 ton battleships would be recommended.

Construction Not Yet Underway.

At that time Stark said the navy wanted first to build the four 45,000 ton ships. Congress provided funds to start work on two of these ships last year, and the navy asked for initial funds for the other two in an appropriation bill now pending.

No actual construction has begun on any of the four, however, and if they were abandoned in favor of the 52,000 ton size, the loss on the preliminary work already done would be inconsequential.

During his sixth day of testimony on the navy's proposed $1,300,000,000 expansion of the fleet today, Stark told the house naval committee the increase had been decided upon as the best deterrent to America's being drawn into war.

Stark Compares Sub Needs.

Admiral Stark asserted that the navy needed submarines bigger than those of some foreign powers because undersea operations might be required in the south Atlantic.

Germany and Russia have built large numbers of small, undersea craft, designed for use against their nearby, potential enemies, Stark told the committee, but added:

"This country builds submarines for operations against potential aggressive enemy action more distant from our shores."

CHINESE CLAIM GAINS IN DRIVE TOWARD CANTON

HONGKONG, Jan. 15 (AP). — In a week-end offensive against Japanese forces on the Kwangtung front, Chinese reported today they had attacked the Canton-Hankow railway town of Kuntien, 25 miles north of Canton.

Portions of the Japanese forces in northern Kwangtung province were withdrawing toward Canton after being repulsed, they added.

In a fierce battle to the north, in Hupeh province, Chinese claimed they had destroyed large sections of the Canton-Hankow railway and inflicted heavy losses on the Japanese.

The Japanese were said to have launched a drive westward from Kaifeng, capital of Honan province, in the direction of Chengchow, junction of the Lunghai-Canton-Hankow railways.

STUDEBAKER BEATS ALL OTHER CARS

IN GILMORE-YOSEMITE ECONOMY SWEEPSTAKES

Conducted under American Automobile Association supervision

Studebaker wins first, second and third place in this official economy test....no other car ever did this before!

Studebaker Champion
29.19 MILES PER GALLON

Studebaker Commander
24.72 MILES PER GALLON

Studebaker President
23.40 MILES PER GALLON

Pictured are the 3 victorious Studebakers as they lined up after the finish of this year's Gilmore-Yosemite Sweepstakes

ON January 4, 1940, in the nationally famous Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Sweepstakes—the event that any car manufacturer would give his eye teeth to win—Studebaker's three famous cars finished first, second and third in the Sweepstakes, ahead of all cars of all prices and sizes!

This is the most outstanding economy triumph ever scored by any one line of cars. Last year, with two cars entered, Studebaker won two of the first three places in the Sweepstakes—this year, with three cars entered, Studebaker finished one—two—three!

Each led its own price class, too!

Under adverse weather conditions, and over a course covering 306.5 mountainous miles, even the 110-horsepower, 8-cylinder Studebaker President finished with a better average for gas economy than two of the largest selling lowest price cars in the test.

For the second year in a row, the Studebaker Commander captured the coveted Sweepstakes Trophy.

And the sensational new Studebaker Champion, with an official 29.19 miles per gallon, in this event decisively proved itself 17% to 29% superior in gas economy to the three other leading lowest price cars.

The Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Sweepstakes is open to all stock cars in all price classes and is officially supervised by the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association. Expert drivers pilot all the competing cars—and no average driver should count on getting the same economy results.

Come in today and go for a revealing trial drive in a Studebaker equipped with overdrive at added cost—an exact duplicate of these Gilmore-Yosemite Sweepstakes winners.

Learn how easy it is for you to be the proud owner of a Studebaker economy winner—with your present car as part payment—on liberal terms.

POWER A SMALL FUNCTION IN TVA PRESIDENT SAYS

Urges Recreation Plan on Congress.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—President Roosevelt declared in a special message to congress today that power development is only a relatively small part of the half billion dollar "social and economic experiment" in the Tennessee valley. He described as an utter fallacy the belief on the part of many citizens and even government officials that the purpose of the TVA act was primarily the development of electric power.

The President's message accompanied a TVA report on the "recreation development of the Tennessee river system" and recommendations for congressional authority to convert the six state area into a vast, government owned and operated playground.

Chairman Tells Proposals.

"Such powers," said the report, signed by TVA Chairman Harcourt A. Morgan, "should include authority to construct and operate recreation facilities on property acquired in connection with the primary purposes of the water control program; to utilize the work relief resources of such agencies as the NYA, WPA, and CCC in carrying out the fundamental program and, at least during a trial period in which management problems and public demand can be more fully explored, to operate recreation facilities developed under the program."

Lakes created by the TVA dams, the report stated, have provided a hunter's and fisherman's paradise.

"It is coming to be realized more and more," Mr. Roosevelt said, "that in the improvement of our American civilization we cannot stop at hospitals and schools any more than we can confine ourselves to strictly economic subjects. Recreation in its broad sense is a definite factor in the improvement of the bodies and minds of our future citizens."

Planned to Raise Standards.

The TVA act, Mr. Roosevelt said, was intended to "raise the standards of life by increasing social and economic advantages" in the Tennessee valley.

"Part of this objective meant the elimination of very large annual damage to life and property as a result of floods; and, therefore, it was planned to build dams in the Tennessee river and on some of its many tributaries," the message said.

"The building of such dams would, it was figured, reduce property damage which had averaged $20,000,000 a year for a long time. The building of such dams would also make possible the production of a large amount of electric power and would also afford barge navigation.

Diversification of Crops.

"Furthermore, the original objective of the law included many other things, such as the planting of water retaining forests near the headwaters of the many rivers and streams, the terracing of farm hillsides, the building of small check dams, the development of fertilizer, the diversification of crops and other soil building methods, the improvement of highways, the bringing in of small industries, the extension of rural electric lines, and other similar activities."

Congressional opponents of the TVA dug up records of statements by TVA officials which seemed to contradict Mr. Roosevelt's argument about power being an incidental byproduct.

Lilienthal Voices His Views.

New York, Jan. 15 [Special].—David E. Lilienthal, a director of the Tennessee Valley authority, tonight attacked the issue of governmental action versus free enterprise as a "false and mythical issue" in an address outlining ways in which he said TVA seeks to benefit the country and its private enterprise.

First, Lilienthal told the Columbia University Graduate Economics club, TVA seeks to rebuild and fortify the soil, on which hopes of rising living standards depend, and to strengthen the private enterprise of farming.

Second, he said, TVA seeks to make new industrial processes and machinery available thru technical research and to interpret facts concerning national resources for use in the initiation and growth of private enterprise.

The third objective he listed is establishing and obtaining adoption of a mass consumption pricing policy for electricity—the "yardstick" which is attacked because of failure to include all costs of doing business.

Control of destructive flood waters and providing an improved waterway for movement of commerce, together with the fostering of public recreation which was emphasized in Washington today by President Roosevelt, were listed as a fourth objective.

Farmer Sells Flock of Wild Ducks and Is Fined $200

Wild ducks that dropped in to take pot luck with the tame ones on William Evans Jr.'s duck farm near St. Charles learned better. By that time it was too late. Evans sold the visitors along with his own ducks, Judge Philip L. Sullivan was told in federal court yesterday. And if the ducks hadn't became duck dinners when they did they'd know now that they are even with Evans. The judge fined him $200 for breaking the migratory bird law.

Sheila Errolsmythe, a model, after she had been given money for return trip to California. Fraud case against her was dropped in court. She is holding ticket.

Sheila Errolsmythe of San Diego was returned to California yesterday. Judge Jay Schiller sentenced her to 10 days for defrauding an innkeeper, but said he considered the sentence served because of the time she has been in custody.

Altho the Drake hotel has not been paid for the $165 bill which Sheila ran up in her brief stay there, and some of her luggage is being held, the problem of fare home was met by $100 delivered by a mysterious messenger who refused to say where he or the money came from. Sheila has insisted she came to Chicago Dec. 30 to meet her husband, a noted concert pianist, whom she says she wed in Juarez, Mexico, about a month ago.

The pianist, in an affidavit submitted several days ago by a local attorney, denied having married her and said he had never been in Mexico. Dr. David Rotman, Municipal court psychiatrist, said the 19 year old Sheila, while above average intelligence, is a "problem child."

OFFICERS START 12 DAY BATTLE ON MAPS IN ARMORY

A make believe battle which will be fought on paper during the next twelve days started yesterday in the fifth floor clubrooms of the 122d field artillery armory, 234 East Chicago avenue.

Here, on a large table covered with terrain maps of southern Pennsylvania, forty National Guard and reserve army officers will maneuver an imaginary Blue division of 22,000 soldiers in a struggle for the possession of the important railroad point of Littlestown. The Blues will be opposed by an equally imaginary force of 12,000 Red soldiers, deployed around the dot on the map which is Littlestown, on the Pennsylvania-Maryland border.

The conduct of the paper war is a feature of the 6th corps area command and staff school, which opened in the armory yesterday and will continue thru Jan. 27. The forty officers who form the student body are from Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan.

CLOSER TIES WITH AMERICA SOUGHT BY JAP PREMIER

Yonai Expected to Try to Avoid Naval Race.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Jan. 16, Tuesday.—Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, newly named premier, and his moderate, middle course cabinet is expected to attempt to improve relations with the United States of America.

This phase of Japanese policy and the establishment of a Japanese controled government for occupied areas in China are two of the most urgent matters in the country's foreign relations.

Acceptance of the foreign ministry in the new cabinet by Hachiro Arita, veteran career diplomat, practically assures pursuance of a friendly policy toward the United States and a more or less cool attitude toward Germany and soviet Russia.

Advocate Closer Ties.

Admiral Yonai, a former minister of the navy, opposed a military alliance with Germany and made this impossible while Arita was instrumental in signing the anticommunist pact. Both are advocates of closer ties with the United States.

Yonai is expected to make every effort to avoid a naval race altho he is not likely to favor a disarmament conference. He strongly believes that Japan should follow an independent course.

The army and navy are giving him full support with the war and navy ministers the only holdovers from the cabinet of Premier Nobuyuki Abe which resigned yesterday.

Gen. Shunroku Hata is war minister, and Vice Admiral Zengo Yoshida is naval minister.

Woos Political Parties.

Yonai is known to be a man of high moral principles. Until recently he suffered extreme hardship while paying the debts incurred by his father from a meager naval officer's salary.

Yonai completed the formation of his government last night. It was formally invested today at the imperial palace. A striking feature of the cabinet is the greater representation given political parties than has been the case in the immediate past. Yonai filled four portfolios with strong party men, emphasizing an evident increase of party influence in Japanese affairs.

ITALIAN PLANE LANDS 3,000 MILES SHORT OF NEW DISTANCE RECORD

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Jan. 15 (AP).—A broken fuel line today ended four Italian flyers' attempt to set a new world's distance record and forced their trimotored plane down on the Brazilian Island of Fernando Noronha, some 3,000 miles short of their goal in Patagonia.

Map shows flyers' route; heavy line indicates distance covered.

Gen. Ulysses Longo, air attaché at the Italian embassy, said the plane made a perfect landing after flying more than four hours without the use of one motor after the fuel line was broken during a storm.

The Italian airmen, under Col. Angelo Tondi, sought to break the 7,162 mile record set by two British royal air force planes in November, 1938, on a flight from Ismailia on the Suez canal to Darwin, Australia. At the time of landing, the plane, which took off from Rome Sunday, had covered about 4,400 miles. Gen. Longo said Tondi might fly the plane back to Italy after repairs are made or continue to the Brazilian mainland.

FIRE SWEEPS JAP CITY; 300 HURT, 50,000 HOMELESS

TOKIO, Jan. 15 (AP).—Approximately 300 persons were injured and 50,000 were made homeless today by fire which ravaged the city of Shizuoka, Japan's tea shipping center.

Despite the ferocity of the flames, which were partially controled in the western section of the city, only two firemen were known to be dead.

Starting in a private home, the fire, fed by a high wind, swept thru the business district and two home areas.

CUSTOMEROLOGY

By CALEB

SHE HAD the right idea—this capable-mannered customer with whom I was talking—and I made mental note of it for my own good.

"Yes, the gorgeous decorations are all gone—replaced by others that are lovely, but not so spectacular—the magic trees that starred your store; the shimmering reindeer; the shining Good Fairies in their crystal sleighs; the festoons and lights and ribbons and bright-red tiers of boxes. It was a lovely orgy of beauty and excitement—indispensable to the holiday season . . . and something that I am sure did spiritual wonders for the thousands of people who thronged your Christmas aisles.

"But I like quite as well the orderly calm, and the atmosphere of agreeable shopping leisure, that have replaced the breathless rush and radiance of those days. It is like enjoying the time of meditation and repose that follows some violent emotion. Extreme stimulation is best in rational doses." She waved an expressive hand.

"When I come in now, I can find and be served by my favorite salesperson, without any feeling of hurry, or a mind crowded with many things to do, and tense over the little time in which to do them. Selection is a joy—we have minutes to spare for comparison, and for exchange of ideas. I have opportunity again to look and examine and learn, with no sense of trespassing on the claims of others.

"Salespeople, like customers, are human. During recent weeks of keeping up with Holiday shopping traffic, they have had a strenuous time of it, and one is glad to greet them again under conditions more favorable in every way to doing the good job they take pride in doing.

"And the beauty of it all," she concluded, "is that one can still carry the 'Christmas store picture' in her mind, whenever she enters here, and for as long as she stays. That's what memory is for! I still see the leaping deer and sparkling colors, the glowing trees and twinkling vistas—and surely you'll admit that that is an ideal frame of mind for any shopper?" . . .

As I say, I noted her words for my own good. Packed in a few moments' expression, they taught me many values. Acceptance of, and pleasure in, things as they are. Consideration, in one's views, for the welfare of others. Understanding of the elements that enter into sound buyer-seller contacts. And not least, appreciation of how to use memory for building the happy approach to all life's situations. . . . "The world," I assured her, "needs more philosophers like yourself."

U. S. GRAND JURY INDICTS 41 IN BUILDING PROBE

Early Trial Asked in Tile Conspiracy Charges.

Federal prosecutors yesterday moved for an early trial after 41 corporations and individuals had been indicted by the federal grand jury in the government's investigation of the Chicago building trades industry. It was the first jury action to be taken here in the investigation.

Leo F. Tierney.

The indictment, charging conspiracy to establish restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman antitrust laws, named 14 corporations, a trade association, a union, and 25 individuals connected with the tile phase of the industry.

Leo F. Tierney, special assistant to the attorney general, who directed the grand jury inquiry, said he would ask an immediate trial instead of waiting until the investigation of the entire industry is completed. The full inquiry is expected to require five months. Tierney stated that the plywood branch of the industry would be investigated next.

New Orleans Jury Also Acts.

The indictment was returned here as a federal grand jury in New Orleans indicted 44 defendants, among them the building and construction trades council, most of the American Federation of Labor building trades unions and their officials. All were accused of refusing to receive material delivered by the United Transport Workers' union, affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Simultaneous action in the two cities raised to approximately 400 the number of individuals and groups indicted since the justice department began its drive last October against alleged monopolies.

Bench Warrants Issued.

The Chicago indictment was returned before Judge Charles E. Woodward, who issued bench warrants for the individual defendants, fixing their bonds at $1,000 each.

The indictment charges that the defendants entered into a combination to prevent other persons and concerns from purchasing tiles manufactured outside the state and shipped here in interstate commerce.

The indictment stated that the Ceramic, Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' union, local No. 67, which was indicted with eight of its officers, did not seek thru its acts to increase wages, shorten hours of labor, better working conditions, or promote any other legitimate or normal object of a labor union, but acted only "in furtherance of an illegal combination and conspiracy."

Charge Union "Policed" Pact.

"The effect of the combination," the indictment charged, "has been to put out of business contractors competing with members of the conspiracy, and of preventing prospective contractors from engaging in the tile contracting business. The plan was policed by the union by threats, force, violence, and boycotts."

It was asserted that the union refused to supply tile setters to any contractors not on the favored list, and that the 10 tile manufacturers in the alleged combine and their sales representatives refused to sell tiles to any one not designated as "legitimate," that is, on the favored list.

Year Prison Terms Possible.

The maximum punishment on conviction under the indictments is one year in the penitentiary and a fine of $5,000.

The 10 manufacturing companies indicted were said to furnish 90 per cent of the tile used in this area. They are the Mosaic Tile company, Zanesville, O.; the United States Quarry Tile company, Parkersburg, W. Va.; National Tile company, Anderson, Ind.; Wheeling Tile company, Wheeling, W. Va.; Robertson Art Tile company, Morrisville, Pa.; Standard Tile company, Zanesville, O.; Superior Ceramic corporation, Anderson, Ind.; Sparta Ceramic company, East Sparta, O.; American-Franklin-Olean Tiles, Inc., Lansdale, Pa., and Cambridge Tile Manufacturing company, Cincinnati, O.

The government stated that these manufacturers produce and furnish about 90 per cent of the tile used in the Chicago area.

Six sales representatives of these concerns were indicted. They are Joseph A. D'Eath of American-Franklin-Olean Tiles, Inc.; James A. Falconer and Robin K. Silvey, Mosaic Tile company; Walter Sullivan, Wheeling Tile company; Edward Derbacher, Robertson Art Tile company, and R. C. Faulwetter, United States Quarry Tile company and Sparta Ceramic company. All are Chicagoans except Faulwetter, who lives in Madison, Wis.

Four Chicago tile contracting firms indicted are H. B. Carter company, Victor E. Cole & Co., Interior Tiling company, and Ravenswood Tile company.

The trade association named was the Chicago Mantel and Tile Contractors' association, of which 29 tile contractors are members. Five of its officers indicted are Walter Perine, Walter O. Swanson, Arthur B. Peterson, Edward Krause, and Arthur D'Ambrosio.

Laborites See C. I. O. Hand.

Officers of the Tile Layers' union indicted with the union are Robert E. Shepherd, secretary and junior business agent; Henry Bartels, senior business agent; Florence J. O'Shea, president; John R. O'Keefe, William J. Dugal, Edward Hansen, Louis Miller, and Jess Harris, directors. The union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, has offices at 906 Monroe street.

Benjamin Vanderveld, attorney for the union, denied the charges, asserting that the indictment was "an outgrowth of C. I. O. influence on the present administration."

Also indicted are six members of the industry's joint arbitration board, a committee of the union and the trade association. Victor E. Cole, Harry B. Carter, and Hampton McCormick Sr. are association representatives, and Anthony B. Berheid, Fred Jasper, and Thomas McNelley, union representatives. All are Chicagoans except McCormick, who resides in Oak Park.

Another Federal Agency Tries to Adopt Snooping Tactics

An attempt by another federal agency—the wage and hour administration—to delve into private files and records of corporations was reported by the American Newspaper Publishers' association yesterday.

The organization said in a special bulletin that the wage-hour administration is sending field examiners into newspaper offices to inspect books and records ostensibly to determine whether the wage act is being observed.

Two publishers reported visits by such agents, the association said. In one case the agent demanded a list of out of state subscribers, pay roll records, and a profit and loss statement.

Agent Talks to Employés.

This agent later interviewed employés in various departments, the bulletin said, and then called on the publisher to make a statement as to his intention to observe the provisions of the wage and hour law.

Counsel for the publishers' association declared that "there is no obligation on the part of publishers or other employers to allow such fishing expeditions thru their books and records," and cited the fourth amendment to the constitution as a basis upon which access to such records might be refused.

The counsel advised that members refuse to open their records to such agents, and that accurate records on employé pay and hours be kept whether or not the employés are covered by the wage-hour act.

Quotes High Court Decision.

The counsel quoted a Supreme court decision regarding a federal trade commission case in which the late Justice Holmes said:

"It is contrary to the first principles of justice to allow a search thru all the respondent's records, revelant or irrevelant, in the hope that something will turn up."

Disclosure of the wage-hour administration's move followed a similar incident involving Securities and Exchange commission agents' attempts to get private files from a trade organization of insurance companies in Chicago last week. The files contained letters from United States congressmen and senators, and the organization refused to surrender them.

Threaten to Get Subpenas.

The SEC agents said they sought the files to get information for the insurance inquiry being conducted by the temporary national economic [monopoly] committee and threatened to get subpenas to force the insurance association to give up the files. Later Senator O'Mahoney [D., Mont], chairman of the committee, expressed disapproval of the agents' tactics.

PLEDGES THORO 2% SLUSH QUIZ IN WILL COUNTY

State's Attorney James E. Burke of Will county announced yesterday that he will make a thoro investigation of the practice of assessing state employés 2 per cent of their wages for political purposes. The money is collected for Gov. Horner's third term campaign by the Illinoisans, an unincorporated body.

Will county has a big share of state payrollers, at the Joliet and Stateville penitentiaries and the Soldiers Widows' home, Wilmington. Several prison guards have publicly told of being solicited on state property for "membership dues" in the Illinoisans.

Vote fraud trials arising from the June 5, 1939, judicial election in which Judge Edward L. Wilson was defeated have kept the prosecutor too busy to look into the slush fund collections. The Will county grand jury recently returned 157 indictments for Burke to handle in court.

DUAL DRIVEWAY IS VOTED DOWN IN EVANSTON ROW

By a vote of 8 to 7, the Evanston city council last night refused permission for a double driveway at a proposed filling station at 1101-03 Central street. That same problem two weeks ago caused a storm which for a time imperiled the seats of Ald. Frank L. Campbell Jr., of the 8th ward, and Ald. Edwin B. Jourdain, colored, of the 5th.

$1,564,960 Budget Adopted by Cicero; Less Than 1939

Cicero's town board last night adopted a 1940 budget calling for an expenditure of $1,564,960. This was $31,000 less than the 1939 budget. George Stedronsky, president of the board, said the saving was accomplished by paring administration costs in several departments. Taxation will provide $952,000 toward the 1940 budget, Stedronsky said, the remainder being met by receipts from administrative departments.

BID TO EXHIBIT QUINTS AT N. Y. FAIR REJECTED

TORONTO, Jan. 15 (AP).—The executive committee of the Canadian Red Cross society today rejected the proposal of the New York World's Fair that the Red Cross sponsor exhibition of the Dionne quintuplets at the fair this summer.

Resignation of Dr. Allan R. Dafoe from the board of guardians of the quintuplets was announced today. Dr. Dafoe will devote all his time to the quints' physical well being.

As Canada's $200,000,000 war loan went on sale today, it was disclosed that the quintuplets, thru their guardians, had made an advance subscription of $20,000.

GARAGE OWNERS' LINK WITH UNION TOLD AT INQUIRY

Dues Used to Pay Pickets, Says an Employer.

Evidence hinting at collusion between the garage owners' association in which Marinus Hvid held membership and the union which picketed him shortly after he had been expelled from it is reported to have been given the grand jury yesterday.

The testimony was presented on the 19th day since Hvid, owner of a strike-picketed garage at 3514 North Halsted street, was fatally beaten by labor goons who wielded baseball bats.

The union is the Auto Livery Chauffeurs, Taxicab Drivers, and Garage Helpers' union. The garage owners' organization is the Affiliated Garages of Chicago.

Three Tell Their Stories.

The story of the Affiliated Garages and the union was told in the office of William Crawford, assistant state's attorney, by a former president and the secretary of the Affiliated Garages and a member of its board. It was understood that the witnesses later told the same story to the grand jury.

Otto Schmidt, who retired from the presidency after disputes that followed Emil Mermall's rise to czardom in the organization, said he objected in vain to Mermall's taking 95 per cent of the members' dues for salary and office expense.

Schmidt said Mermall demanded that the dues be increased a year ago. Schmidt demanded to know what Mermall was doing with all the money. Mermall, Schmidt said, was evasive at first, but finally explained that he had to pay pickets $5 a day and give them 50 cents each in addition for lunch.

Join to Get Benefits.

Louis Torch of the Affiliated Garages' executive board said he had been a member of a south side garage owners' association. He and the other members learned that the newer Affiliated Garages had a better contract with the union; that Affiliated Garages' members were permitted to hire whomever they chose, provided the new employé joined the union within two weeks, but members of Torch's organizations were permitted to hire only members of the union.

Torch said he and his associates tried to get the same terms from the union. Failing, they joined the Affiliated Garages.

Thomas Hunter Jr., secretary of Affiliated Garages, told Crawford he was a member of the committee which hired Mermall and gave him the title of executive director. Hunter said Mermall was about to be rejected when he began telling of his close connections with the union officials. Mermall was then hired on the spot.

Fight Labor Terrorism.

Mayor Kelly and State's Attorney Courtney headed a group of public officials and business and civic leaders who pledged coöperation earlier yesterday in the search for Hvid's assassins.

The group met in the Bismarck hotel on the call of the Association of Commerce All-Chicago council. Among those who helped plan the campaign against labor terrorism were Police Commissioner Allman, Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney; Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's office; Merle Trees, Floyd Thompson, Newton C. Farr, Fred A. Virkus, James S. Knowlson, Leverett S. Lyon, J. A. Jacobs, and Chairman Frank A. Hecht of the council.

Capt. Patrick O'Connell of the Town Hall police, in whose district the killing occurred, said he had been given instructions to track down the killers at any cost.

When Palmer, member of a wealthy Chicago family, met her she was employed in a similar place at Sarasota. They were married in December, 1938. She now is awaiting the outcome of her suits for a share in Palmer's estate, estimated by her attorney at $7,000,000. Palmer died in Sarasota in May, 1939.

PARTY HARMONY URGED BY GLENN AT G. O. P. RALLY

Otis F. Glenn, who on Sunday withdrew his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States senator, appeared last night at a rally in the Hamilton hotel, 18 South Dearborn street. He had accepted an invitation some time ago from James B. Waller to address the forum.

"I'm one of those Republicans who believe a man should be active whether or not he is a candidate," former Senator Glenn said. "There has been perhaps too much selfishness in the ranks of our party. Surely the dangers of our domestic and international problems transcends mere politics. That's why I'm here tonight."

After making what the audience said was a rousing Republican speech Mr. Glenn told a reporter that he expects to help his party with other public addresses during the fall campaign.

PROSECUTOR AND MAYOR MEET 1ST TIME IN 2 YEARS

Mayor Kelly and State's Attorney Courtney, political foes since their split in the leadership of the Democratic party, met yesterday for the first time in two years. Both attended a meeting called at the Bismarck hotel by the All-Chicago council of the Association of Commerce.

"Hello, Tom!" said the mayor genially.

"How are you, Mr. Mayor?" Courtney asked.

They sat down together at the conference table.

Courtney was just back from Florida. The mayor returned from Florida a week ago. But they didn't see each other there.

BLAME WAGNER ACT FOR LABOR KILLINGS IN CITY

Employers Call for End to Crime and Rackets.

The Employers' Association of Chicago in a letter addressed to members yesterday held that the Wagner labor act is indirectly responsible for the Marinus Hvid murder and several other recent labor killings in Chicago. Repeal of the act was included in a five point program urged for ending crime and racketeering.

The letter, signed by Gordon L. Hostetler, association director, asserted that Hvid was murdered because of a system which permitted conspiracies and collusive alliances between employer groups and unions to the detriment of the public in general. The letter stated in part:

Racketeering Assailed.

"No one denies the rightful place of either legitimate organized labor or legitimate organization of employers. At the same time no one who is acquainted with the facts can deny that the benighted provisions of the Wagner act have drawn to the labor movement subversists, provocateurs, get rich quick racketeers, and criminals.

"Business, in too many of its branches, has seen organized labor as a means by which it may control competition, prices, and methods. Organized labor, in too many instances, openly and shamelessly, has offered its services to business for this end in return for wholesale, monopolistic control over the labor employed by business.

"In many cases this has enriched union malefactors in sums which would be positively startling to the public, could the full facts be obtained and made known."

Five Point Program.

The five point program urged by the association follows:

1. Repeal of the Wagner act or at least revise it to force recognition of the rights of the individual and eliminate maladministration.
2. Attack and drive out of business the conspiracies as against public policy. [Legislation similar to that in Oregon and other states is recommended].
3. Place unionism in the position of public utilities and responsible to the public in the use of its funds.
4. Get prosecutors who will treat diseases and not symptoms.
5. Make law enforcement more responsible to the public and less responsible to political machines.

Officers of the association are Raymond J. Koch, president; C. J. Whipple, and Howard L. Willett, vice presidents, and T. E. Donnelley, chairman of the advisory council.

CALL EX-BAILIFF AND LAWYER FOR JURY FIX INQUIRY

2 Face Quiz Today in Vote Fraud Acquittal.

State's Attorney Courtney yesterday obtained subpenas requiring Attorney George M. Crane and James Creed, superintendent of city dumps, to appear before the grand jury which is investigating an alleged jury fixing case. The inquiry resulted from the acquittal of two vote fraud defendants.

James Creed.

Crane was counsel for Sam Orlando, Democratic captain of the 52d precinct of the 11th ward, and Joseph Vinci, one of his workers, the defendants who were acquitted. At the time of the trial last month Creed was the personal bailiff to Judge Joseph A. Graber, before whom the case was tried.

Creed was taken to the state's attorney's office after the subpena had been served on him. He was instructed to report this morning to go before the jury. Crane notified Thomas Bugan, assistant state's attorney, that he would appear this morning.

Both Deny Knowledge of Fix.

Both Creed and Crane have denied knowledge of the alleged jury fixing or any connection with bribery of two vote fraud jurors who admitted accepting money for voting for an acquittal.

The only witness before the grand jury yesterday was Mrs. Mary C. White, 7607 South Honroe street, who served on the vote fraud jury. She and her husband, Robert, a park policeman, were subjected to a lie detector test Friday.

Mrs. White was questioned in the grand jury chambers by Courtney, Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, and Assistant State's Attorneys Gordon Nash and Bugan. White was questioned by Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, but was not taken before the grand jury. Both Mr. and Mrs. White were permitted to leave after she had testified.

Another member of the jury, Henry Satterblom, 6817 Prairie avenue, underwent a lie detector test and will be a witness before the grand jury today.

Orlando appeared before Judge Joseph J. Drucker in Felony court on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice. At the request of the state the case was continued until Jan. 29, by which time the grand jury is expected to have taken action in the alleged jury fixing.

Marvin Olson, an ex-convict, who admitted arranging the jury bribery, named the jurors who accepted money as Mrs. Lillian Conners, 51 years old, 7833 Evans avenue, and Mrs. Martha Aumond, 36, of 6234 Blackstone avenue. Mrs. Conners admitted the charge. Mrs. Aumond denied taking money. A second juror who confessed accepting a bribe is James H. McNamara, 5360 Wells street.

JURY HEARS WOMAN'S $45,000 SUIT AGAINST HER ALIMONY LAWYER

Trial of the $45,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Gladys McVeigh of Los Angeles, Cal., against Henry V. McGurren, Chicago attorney, was begun yesterday before Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan. A jury of six women and six men are hearing the case.

Mrs. Gladys McVeigh.

Attorney McGurren is accused of fraudulently inducing Mrs. McVeigh in 1935 to settle for approximately $2,000, a claim of $25,000 in alimony and child support against her former husband, Thomas McConnell. McConnell and Mrs. McVeigh were divorced in 1929 in California.

Attorney Thomas Dodd Healy, counsel for Mrs. McVeigh, said McConnell agreed to pay his former wife $250 a month for support of two children and herself but did not make any payments. The suit charges that in 1935, a year before McConnell's death, Attorney McGurren negotiated the settlement after telling Mrs. McVeigh her former husband was in financial straits. The suit charges McGurren was aware that McConnell had received a $30,000 bequest from an estate of a friend and failed to tell this to Mrs. McVeigh.

CITY TO ADOPT ROVING BRIDGE TENDER PLAN

The city will adopt the recommendation of Ald. Paul Douglas [5th] that roving crews of bridge tenders be used during the winter when river traffic is low, Mayor Kelly said yesterday. The 1940 city budget will provide funds for "tenders to be used as needed," he added. Last week council authorized an investigation of the feasibility of the plan. A report on savings will be received when council meets tomorrow. Douglas estimated $300,000 to $400,000 would be saved.

BROOKS-LYONS UNION SHAPES UP IN PRIMARY RACE

Accord Shown in Two New G. O. P. Developments.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Apparently positive indications were discovered yesterday that the candidacy of Wayland Brooks for United States senator and the candidacy of Richard J. Lyons for governor will be welded together publicly within the next three days.

The Republican units both in Cook county and downstate which started out backing the two candidates separately when it was believed both would seek the governorship have been slowly knitting together for about a month.

Two definite bits of evidence came to light yesterday.

Hotel Space Leased.

One was the discovery that the famous fourth floor of the Hotel Sherman has been leased for the entire period of the primary campaign. The space engaged is big enough for joint tenancy by two candidates, and interviews with Brooks and Lyons left room for a strong suspicion that it will be used by those two.

The second indication was a report from downstate that James E. Hill, chairman of the Republican central committee of La Salle county, has whispered to political associates that he has promised to manage a consolidated Brooks-Lyons campaign downstate.

And there were hints that Patrick Sheridan Smith, committeeman for the 6th ward and former city clerk, already has been chosen for the Chicago post.

Both Original Brooks Men.

Both of these prospective managers were original Brooks men. Hill is the official party head in the county in which Brooks has his farm and from which, at a meeting in Ottawa, he launched his candidacy for governor in 1936. When Brooks announced for senator recently Hill lined up with Lyons for governor and agreed to help direct Lyons' campaign.

Smith was Brooks' Cook county manager in 1936 and, like Hill, was with him for governor this year, until Brooks changed his plans. Then Smith was one of the 12 south side committeemen representing the old Harding organization who, after an earlier pledge of support to Brooks for senator, indorsed Lyons for governor—the first public evidence of the consolidation of the Brooks-Lyons forces in Chicago.

The inquiry concerning the leasing of the fourth floor of the Sherman hotel disclosed that Lyons had signed the contract lease.

Announcement Promised.

"Are these to be joint headquarters?" Lyons was asked after some preliminaries.

"There will be an announcement of general interest when we take possession next Thursday," the candidate replied with his biggest smile. "Until then nothing."

"Whom do you mean by 'we'?"

"Wait for the announcement."

Brooks was equally incommunicative.

As far as could be learned there was no close connection between these developments and the announcement by Otis F. Glenn on Sunday that he will not be in the senatorship race. Nor were any other immediate political shifts seen as direct results of Glenn's action. Dwight H. Green, candidate for governor, whom politicians had linked up as Glenn's running mate, continued his own campaign without abatement.

Urges Preservation of Ballots.

In the midst of a number of conferences he sent a telegram to Gov. Horner urging that if a special session of the legislature is called provision be made for action looking toward the preservation of the ballots used the Chicago mayoralty election last April in which he was a candidate.

One of the pending Supreme court actions seeks enforcement of the statute covering the destruction of ballots six months after the election in which they were used. Green asked that this destruction be prevented by special legislation.

"I call your attention to this crisis in the prosecution of vote stealing in Chicago," the candidate wired the governor. "I respectfully urge you to include in your proposed call for a special session the subject of an amendment to the election laws that will protect and preserve the ballots cast in the mayoral election and enable courts and prosecuting officers to end the mockery that has of late characterized Chicago elections."

Warren Wright, formerly of Jacksonville and now a resident of Springfield, who has been a candidate for office several times, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state treasurer. He is not related to Warren Wright of Chicago.

Wounds Bandit

Joseph Jankovic demonstrating knife throwing skill after he wounded bandit.

Joseph Jankovic, 26 years old, turned into a knife thrower yesterday after two bandits seized $175 in a holdup at his meat market, 5143 South Kedzie avenue. He picked up an assortment of cutlery from his chopping block as they fled, and started pitching. The first knife, which had a 13 inch blade, stuck in the frame of the entrance door. The next, an 8 inch weapon, struck one of the robbers between the shoulder blades.

The robber staggered out the door with the knife sticking in his back. A confederate helped him get into an automobile driven by a third man. They sped away as Jankovic ran to the door to throw another knife.

Jankovic said the same bandits robbed him of $80 last Nov. 18.

ASK HORNER'S AID FOR REFORM OF MUNICIPAL COURT

Bar Urges Revision of Election System.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Gov. Horner was asked yesterday to include the subject of Chicago's Municipal court in his call for a special session of the legislature. The request was made in a letter written by Tappan Gregory, president of the Chicago Bar association, by direction of the association's board of managers.

Tappan Gregory.

If the governor approves the request it will be possible to reintroduce in the general assembly the municipal court bill presented at the last session. This measure, sponsored by the Chicago Bar association and the Chicago and Illinois Federation of Labor, aims to take the bench out of partisan politics.

Vote Every Six Years.

The bill provides that municipal judges be chosen by election on a nonpartisan ballot. The initial term of judges so elected would be four years. At the end of that time, and thereafter at six year intervals, every judge would go before the voters on the sole question of whether he should be retained in office. A judge would be deemed reëlected unless a majority of those voting on his candidacy voted against him, and such majority was not less than 25 per cent of the vote cast on any candidates at the election.

"In justice to the many high minded and able judges serving in both our state and municipal courts," said Gregory, "it is imperative that measures be taken to reëstablish justifiable confidence in the administration of justice.

Calls System at Fault.

"It is no answer to say the voters are to blame. They have been virtually disfranchised by the prevalence of coalition tickets made possible by the dependence upon partisan political support so necessary to a candidate if he is to stand for election with any reasonable prospect of success. It is the system that is at fault and in crying need of reform. We are unalterably committed to our undertaking to bend every effort to make our judges independent of reliance on political support."

Gregory said the association had a special committee exploring the possibilities of preparing a list of men considered by the bar association as qualified for judicial office. This list would be made available to any political organization. Another committee is planning to give more effective aid to judicial candidates approved at the bar association primaries.

REVEAL EFFORTS TO HIDE BIAS OF NLRB EXAMINER

Try to Squelch Evidence of C. I. O. Partiality.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—The house committee investigating the administration of the Wagner act heard today the contention of a trial examiner for the National Labor Relations board that evidence indicating a bias for the C. I. O. on the part of a board employé ought not to be admissible in the hearing of a labor dispute.

Tilford E. Dudley.

Tilford E. Dudley, 32 year old Harvard law school graduate, who was the trial examiner in the case involving the Ford Motor company of St. Louis, Mo., in 1938, stoutly defended this position under questioning.

Dudley told of his efforts to protect from cross-examination a young colleague who was a field examiner in the St. Louis area. This was Grant Cannon, 26 years old, who graduated from a WPA job at $80 a month to a position investigating some of the most important labor board cases.

Offer to Prove Prejudice.

Attorneys for the Ford company offered to present four witnesses, Dudley admitted, who would testify that they went to the St. Louis office of the labor board to obtain information regarding the formation of a union. These four men were told by Cannon, the attorneys said, that they should join the C. I. O. which was "God's gift to the working man" and that they might get in trouble by forming or joining any other union.

The story from that point was told mainly by the introduction of confidential memoranda and letters taken from the files of the labor board in Washington.

In January, 1938, Dudley first advised the board of the Ford company's offer of proof in a letter to George O. Pratt, chief trial examiner at Washington.

"The Ford company is charging a conspiracy between the board and the C. I. O.," Dudley wrote. "I expect to refuse admission of such evidence. It has nothing to do with the issue. How far can I go to shorten it without providing material for a senate investigation?"

Argues to Bar Evidence.

Further letters and memoranda revealed the board as dubious concerning Dudley's barring of the evidence but the St. Louis trial examiner insisted it would be unwise. In a memo on March 14, Dudley notified Pratt:

"I feel it may be difficult to limit the testimony of the four witnesses. Gerhard Van Arkel [St. Louis attorney for the board] suggested that they might ask Cannon his views on the C. I. O., on communism, on Russia, etc., and that it would be difficult to exclude such testimony.

"I am very much afraid that they will call Miss Schweinitz [Dorothea Schweinitz, acting regional director in the St. Louis area] to the stand and go over her record as an individual as well as acting director to prove she is C. I. O.

"It will be difficult for her to withstand the hammering of Mr. Bartlett [Daniel Bartlett, Ford company attorney]. The result will be that the newspapers will scream with headlines regarding the charge of the Ford company against Cannon, Miss Schweinitz and the board.

Fears Precedent in Testimony.

"Cannon's reply of 'I don't remember' [whether he told the witnesses to join the C. I. O.] will not get nearly the publicity Ford's charges will get. If we allow such testimony in the Ford hearing, it will serve as a precedent for all the other companies to come into hearings with mud to throw at the labor boards."

Again, Dudley protested that "the domination of the St. Louis office by the C. I. O. is immaterial and irrelevant. If we let the bars down, the attorneys will have a field day."

At this point, Committee Attorney Edmund Toland submitted the employé card of Cannon to show his record. Cannon receives $2,600 annually at present. The card showed that he previously got $80 a month on the WPA where he was a member of the Workers Alliance, a union which the Dies committee has termed under domination of communists.

Identification Fails.

"Did Cannon deny the statements attributed to him by the four witnesses?" Dudley was asked.

"He said he did not remember talking with any of the Ford Motor company employés," Dudley answered. "At the insistence of the board, I finally had to admit the testimony of the witnesses but they could not identify Cannon who was present."

Toland then brought out that Cannon had appeared in the hearing room unshaven and wearing different clothes than when he was supposed to have talked with the Ford company employés. It was also disclosed that Cannon was protected from cross-examination concerning his C. I. O. views when the trial examiner, Dudley, sustained his own objection to such a proceeding. Cannon is still an employé of the board, Dudley said.

Dudley said political considerations did not enter into the hiring of either himself or Cannon and he said he believed that was true of the hiring of all labor board employés. Toland picked up an employé card before him which showed employment of Ray Johnson upon his admission to the Alabama bar in June, 1939. The card carried a notation that W. B. Bankhead, speaker of the house, had written that he would appreciate the hiring of Johnson.

RICHARD GREENE LEADS N. Y. VOTE FOR MOVIE KING

New York, Jan. 15.—Richard Greene and Bette Davis are in first place in the poll by newspapers in 55 cities of America to elect the 1940 king and queen of the movies. This was announced here tonight following the tabulation of initial returns from some of the 53 newspapers coöperating with THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE and the New York Sunday News in the annual contest.

The contest is an election in which readers from among the 22 million reached by the participating newspapers list their first, second, and third choices for king and queen. A vote for first place yields 3 points, second place, 2, third place 1.

Leaders in number of points based on the voting here for king of the movies were Richard Greene, with 1,601 points; Tyrone Power, 1,065; Mickey Rooney, 998; Don Ameche, 830, and Errol Flynn, 800. For queen of the movies the leaders were Bette Davis, with 1,608 points; Sonja Henie, 1,550; Priscilla Lane, 1,281; Alice Faye, 934, and Judy Garland, 785.

CHICAGO VOTES FOR STARS.

First votes tabulated in Chicago showed Mickey Rooney leading in the race for king of the movies, with 705 points, followed by Spencer Tracy, 700; Tyrone Power, 478; Clark Gable, 353, and Errol Flynn, 352. Leading in the voting for queen were Bette Davis with 707 points; Judy Garland, 468; Deanna Durbin, 357; Sonja Henie, 363; and Alice Faye, 234.

To Check Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation has you down so you feel heavy, tired and dopey, it's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat the super-refined food most people eat, the chances are the difficulty is simple—you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines.

If this common form of constipation is your trouble, eat Kellogg's All-Bran regularly, and drink plenty of water. All-Bran isn't a medicine—it's a crunchy, toasted cereal. And it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People"

Dale Carnegie has trained more business men to talk effectively than has any other living man. During the past 27 years, more than 30,000 men and women have profited by his courses in New York, Philadelphia, Washington, London and Paris. He has trained some of the most famous men in the nation. His latest book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People," is one of the fastest selling books in America. No other non-fiction book in the history of the publishing business has ever sold so many copies in such a short time. Articles about Dale Carnegie and the significance of his work appeared in The American Magazine, January, 1932; Reader's Digest, July, 1935, and in The Saturday Evening Post, August 14, 1937.

15 THINGS THIS TRAINING WILL HELP YOU DO...

The Dale Carnegie Course in Effective Speaking and Personality Development will help you to:

1. THINK ON YOUR FEET and speak extemporaneously before business conferences, clubs, organizations, dinners.
2. DEVELOP COURAGE AND SELF-CONFIDENCE. Destroy fear. Cure an inferiority complex.
3. INCREASE YOUR POISE, polish and personal force both in business interviews and before groups.
4. "SELL" YOURSELF, YOUR SERVICES, your product, your enthusiasms.
5. WIN MORE FRIENDS by increasing your knowledge of practical psychology, your skill in human relations.
6. IMPROVE YOUR MEMORY, speak without notes and recall names and faces.
7. WRITE MORE EFFECTIVE LETTERS.
8. ENRICH YOUR COMMAND OF ENGLISH.
9. READ MORE WORTHWHILE BOOKS.
10. BECOME A LEADER in your business or profession through your ability to speak.
11. BECOME A MORE ENTERTAINING CONVERSATIONALIST.
12. INCREASE YOUR INCOME by developing the ability to handle people. John D. Rockefeller Sr. once said: "I will pay more for the ability to handle people than for any other ability under the sun."
13. INSPIRE YOU WITH NEW IDEAS. You will participate in and listen to 1,500 short talks—talks that will broaden your interests and jar you out of a rut.
14. KNOW INTIMATELY FORTY AMBITIOUS MEN AND WOMEN. In these classes you will form friendships that will last a lifetime.
15. DEVELOP YOUR LATENT POWERS and improve your personality. Professor William James of Harvard declared that the average man develops only 10 per cent of his latent mental powers.

HOW THIS COURSE IS CONDUCTED

You will meet one evening a week for sixteen weeks as one of a group of 40 business men and women.

These meetings will be held in private dining rooms of hotels and restaurants, etc. Each group will be strictly limited to forty.

Your instructors will tell you what is right with your talk and what is wrong with it, and how to remedy and improve it. Every member of the class will write his suggestions for improving your talks; so when you finish, you will have the instructor's criticism and the comments of 39 of your fellow students. Your associates in the class will be very sympathetic.

As a result of this training, you will soon develop courage and self-possession. You will learn to think on your feet. You will conquer fear; and "Fear," said Elbert Hubbard, "defeats more men than any other one thing in the world."

As the course progresses, you will be shown how to plan and prepare and construct your talks, how to illustrate your points, how to be clear, how to be entertaining, how to be impressive and convincing. You will be shown how to win confidence, how to get every one agreeing at the outset, how to state your proposals, how to appeal to the motives that produce action. You will be taught how to appear to advantage before a group, how to remember what you want to say, how to begin and how to end your talks.

You will be trained to use four easy steps that will make your talks click. You will be drilled to think quickly on your feet and talk under the rapid-fire conditions of modern conference-room discussion. You will be trained to increase your stock of words and to speak with more resonance, more attractiveness.

If we described here all the things this training will do for you, it would sound like wild exaggeration. So we have prepared a booklet which outlines the benefits to be derived from this training, which will be given away at this meeting. In our files at 20 E. Jackson Blvd. are the names of students who have taken this training. If you care to investigate, we will furnish you any or all of these names. You are invited to write or telephone them and discover for yourself precisely how they have profited by it.

MAKE YOURSELF QUICKLY AND FAVORABLY KNOWN

Theodore Alvy, Chief Engineer of La Cour Iron Works, attended monthly meetings of the American Association of Engineers for twelve years without being able to say a word. After completing this training, he arose at one of their meetings and spoke for twelve minutes. He was then invited to be the principal speaker at the next meeting. He was soon appointed to committees, made a director and invited to become president.

"I made more friends," said Mr. Alvy, "and acquired more prestige by one twelve minute talk than I had been able to do in a dozen years as a silent, inarticulate member."

Hundreds of other students have had similar experiences. So can you at meetings in your business or community.

Who runs the meetings you attend, the organizations to which you belong? Have you ever sat glued to your chair through fear and let men with less ability stand up and control affairs simply because they had the courage, the confidence and the ability to think on their feet—and you did not? By speaking you can double your influence almost anywhere.

NOTRE DAME HEAD CONSECRATED AS MILITARY BISHOP

Most Rev. John F. O'Hara to Leave University.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 15.—Ancient liturgical splendor marked the consecration here today of the Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, C. S. C., president of the University of Notre Dame, as titular bishop of Milasa [Turkey] and auxiliary bishop of the diocese of the army and navy of the United States.

The three hour service was held in the cathedral-like Sacred Heart church in the center of the university campus in the presence of 35 members of the American hierarchy and hundreds of monsignori, priests, notable laymen, and leading educators. Bishop O'Hara resigned the presidency of the university to take up his work as ecclesiastical head of a newly formed military diocese. He will be attached to the archdiocese of New York.

O'Donnell Acting President.

The Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, vice president of the university, was named acting president of the university. The Rev. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., was named acting vice president.

The ancient rites which raise a priest to episcopal rank consist of five parts. These were led by Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York, assisted by Bishop John F. Noll of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Bishop Joseph E. Ritter of Indianapolis.

The five parts of the consecration include the formal liturgical examination of the new bishop, the pontifical mass, the annointing, the offertory, and the enthronement. Thirty-five ceremonial officers assisted in the mass.

Covers All Armed Forces.

The new diocese will include all Catholics on active duty in the military and naval service of the United States, all Catholic civilian employés of the government having residence at a military or naval station, post or reservation, and all immediate relatives of these two groups. He will supervise the work of 31 commissioned Catholic chaplains of the army and the 19 navy chaplains.

In addition he will be in charge of 67 Catholic chaplains of veterans' hospitals, 212 Catholic reserve chaplains and 64 chaplains of the National Guard.

Archbishop Spellman praised Bishop O'Hara in a banquet address following the consecration. He said that Bishop O'Hara will occupy a unique status in the church. This status results from the fact that altho Archbishop Spellman holds ecclesiastical authority over the army and navy diocese, he stated today that he had delegated such authority to Bishop O'Hara.

COUNTRY TOWN VOTERS MUST REGISTER TODAY

Today is the last day for country town voters in Cook county to register for the April primary with village or town clerks. This applies only to voters whose permanent registration file has been voided for some reason, such as change of address, those who have just come of voting age, and those who have moved into the state since the last registration.

Registration also may be made at County Clerk Michael J. Flynn's election department until March 12. Neighborhood registration days for Chicagoans and those living in the nine suburbs under the jurisdiction of the Chicago board of election commissioners have not yet been set. The suburbs are Chicago Heights, Berwyn, Harvey, Cicero, Summitt, Stickney, Morton Grove, Elmwood Park, and Niles Center. Voters in this classification also may appear in person at the board's city hall office up to and including March 11. Cards showing changes of address of registered voters may be mailed to the election board or the county clerk.

HORNER HASTENS BACK TO CAPITAL AFTER PARLEY

Gov. Henry Horner, who had not intended to terminate his week-end in Chicago until late yesterday afternoon, hurried up his departure because of official business awaiting his attention and left for Springfield on a noon train.

Attorney Charles P. Schwartz, state tax commissioner, who accompanied the governor during his stay in Chicago, said that there had been no political conferences following the one with Mayor Kelly on Sunday, but a number of friends paid brief calls at the Horner suite in the Congress hotel.

Before going to his train the governor went to the Passavant hospital to see De Witt Billman, chief of the legislative reference bureau, who is under treatment there.

MRS. GIVAN TAKES POST ON M'NUTT CAMPAIGN BOARD

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Louise N. Givan of Milwaukee, a member of the Democratic national committee, announced tonight that she will serve as associate chairman of the Paul V. McNutt for President organization. Her headquarters will be in Washington and in Indianapolis. Frank McHale of Indiana will be the other co-chairman.

Just as Mrs. Givan was announcing her selection as co-director of the McNutt campaign, William B. Rubin, leader of the extreme left wing Democrats, loosed an attack upon the Democratic Party Organization as a camouflage Roosevelt organization used by some of its leaders to promote the McNutt candidacy. The Rubin attack was given publicity by Charles E. Broughton, the other member of the Democratic national committee for Wisconsin. Broughton published the attack in the Sheboygan Press, official state paper, of which he is editor. Mrs. Givan has not been identified with the party organization.

NEW ARCHBISHOP PAYS CITY A VISIT ON HIS WAY SOUTH

Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch paid a brief visit last night to Chicago, his new archdiocese.

The archbishop was on his way from Milwaukee, where he has been archbishop since 1930, to Clearwater, Fla. There, he said, he hopes to have a brief rest before assuming his new duties in Chicago. He said he does not yet know when his official arrival in Chicago will take place, as he must await the papal bulls carrying his appointment by Pope Pius XII.

The archbishop was reticent about discussing plans for his new work. "When I get to Chicago," he added, "I'll study and learn."

HARDING FRIEND TELLS OF RAISING $73,000 IN 1936

Testifies in Miner's Suit Over G. O. P. Financing.

George J. Halligan, 5808 Lake street, a contractor, testified in Probate court yesterday that he collected $73,000 in contributions to the Republican party campaign fund for the 1936 primary and election.

Halligan was one of the witnesses called as Julius H. Miner, Republican leader, continued presenting evidence in support of his $25,000 claim against the estate of George F. Harding, former Republican national committeeman.

In 1936 Harding was Republican county treasurer. Miner claimed he advanced the $25,000 for campaign expenses with the understanding it would be repaid when contributions were sufficient. The money had not been repaid, Miner says, when Harding died last April 2.

Praised for Party Zeal.

Halligan was put on the stand to indicate the extent of collections. He said he brought in $58,000 for the primary and $15,000 more for the election campaign.

"The first batch of checks were made out to John J. Mitchell of the Continental Illinois bank," said Halligan. "Then Mr. Harding directed that future checks be made out to him.

"When Mr. Harding found out how much I had turned in, he said I had done fine. He told me I was a wizard."

Attorney George W. Lennon, who helped Harding pay bills of the campaign, again testified from accounts of the party organization. His figures placed the total cost of the campaign at more than $213,000.

Testifies on Underwriting.

Lennon said it was his understanding that Harding and Miner were to underwrite the campaign, Harding to pay two-thirds of any deficit and Miner the remaining third, not to exceed $25,000.

A claim of $150,000 was filed against the Harding estate yesterday by the City National Bank and Trust company on notes for which Harding put up $750,000 in bonds of the Chicago Railways company as collateral. Renewal of the notes was obtained last Nov. 1 by Miss Jessie Katz, formerly Harding's confidential secretary, who is executrix of the estate.

Miss Katz was given leave by Judge John F. O'Connell to employ the firm of Poppenhusen, Johnston, Thompson and Raymond to represent her in a suit filed by Harding's daughter, Mrs. Hardin Thompson of Barrington. Mrs. Thompson seeks to set aside the will and remove Miss Katz as executrix.

MAGAZINE FOUNDED BY THACKERAY QUITS UNTIL AFTER WAR

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Cornhill magazine, founded in 1859 by William Makepeace Thackeray, novelist, over cups of coffee in an old house in Waterloo place, has suspended publication "until paper gets cheaper and the world gets saner."

The January issue did not come out and an official of the John Murray company, the publishers, said no more will appear until after the war. The high price of paper, a slump in advertising and the difficulty in guaranteeing delivery to subscribers overseas were given as reasons.

Thackeray planned the magazine with the publishers and advertised the first issue. It achieved the remarkable circulation of 186,000. Thackeray was editor until 1862, when he resigned. The "Roundabout Papers," containing some of his best essays, appeared in Cornhill, as did "Lovel the Widower" and "Adventures of Philip."

The magazine had a circulation of about 6,000 last month.

U. S. SEALS PRINT SHOP OF FOE OF PAY ROLL TAXES

Detroit Plant Closed in Row Over $10.60 Item.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 15 [Special].—Failing to collect $10.60 in penalties and interest on unpaid social security taxes, federal internal revenue collectors today sealed all machinery in the small job printing plant of R. R. Purcell in suburban Plymouth. They even sealed his small adding machine.

Purcell paid $23 in social security taxes today and told the collectors he was unable to pay the penalties and interest. The controversy started five months ago when Purcell was billed for $2.60 penalty and interest and refused to pay.

Employs 7 Persons.

Purcell is a former newspaper printer who went into business for himself about 10 years ago. He employs four men and three girls in his plant and in addition to doing general job work publishes a weekly paper called the Citizens' League News.

The publisher also is president of the Citizens' league, an organization formed to fight all pay roll taxes—federal and state. His publication is devoted to the anti-pay roll tax cause.

Purcell also has been printing and distributing free each week 20,000 protest slips to be attached to checks sent to the government and state in payment of pay roll taxes.

Can't Afford Needed Help.

The protest slips are distributed free to any employer who will use them. The theory back of the protest slips is that refunds may be claimed from the government if the social security act ever is upset by the Supreme court.

Purcell escapes paying a pay roll tax to the Michigan unemployment compensation fund because he has only seven employés, and the law applies only to concerns employing eight or more. He often has work for an eighth person, he said today, but can't afford to employ that person because he then would have to pay $350 a year to the state compensation fund.

Also Fought NRA.

The Master Printers' federation of Detroit elected Purcell president in 1934 after he refused to accept the NRA code and Blue Eagle. At that time he said he could not operate under the code and keep his plant open.

Purcell's case is similar to that of Fred Perkins, York, Pa., battery manufacturer, who defied the NRA and went to jail and whose two trucks were seized and sold a week ago by the government to satisfy a claim for $117.46 social security taxes.

Roosevelt to Decline 3d Term, Says Capital Paper

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—The United States News said today that President Roosevelt will announce he does not choose to seek a third term. The announcement will be made either on Jan. 20—one year before the next President takes office—or on March 4, the anniversary of the day Mr. Roosevelt took presidential office, the News said. The paper is an independent weekly published by David Lawrence.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Europe has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns. Hence, therefore, it must be unwise in us to implicate ourselves by artificial ties in the ordinary vicissitudes of her politics or the ordinary combinations and collisions of her friendships or enmities."—From the Farewell Address.

THE END OF A RACKET.

In its annual report the department of justice announced that the use of consent decrees in antitrust cases has been abandoned. The declaration of policy is found in the section prepared by Mr. Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of the antitrust division. He explains the change of heart by saying that the administration will no longer engage in the condoning of past offenses.

The new policy is sound and it is a pity that the report was not more candid in justifying it. As has repeatedly been shown in these columns, the so-called consent decree was an engine of blackmail. Men would be indicted for an alleged criminal violation of the antitrust laws. While under the threat of prosecution and the penitentiary they would be encouraged to confer with the department of justice on the terms of a decree in which the course of their business practices for the future would be charted. As in the automobile finance decree stipulations forbidding the defendants to do things which are lawful might be introduced. Or, as in the packers' decree, other stipulations forbidding the defendants to do things which their competitors, present or future, were left free to do, might be included.

To call the product of such negotiations a consent decree is to ignore the meaning of words. A much more accurate designation would be extorted decree. The department of justice would tell the men under indictment that they could save themselves the expense of a trial and the risk of Alcatraz by signing on the dotted line. Of course they didn't have to sign. They could suit themselves. But if they didn't sign, all the force which the department of justice could bring to bear would be exerted to convict them.

As might have been expected, many defendants yielded to this pressure, to find that they had signed away their rights to engage in lawful practices and to a jury trial. The government at any moment could bring charges of violation of the decree and these would be tried as a contempt of court rather than as an offense against the nation's laws.

The gangster tactics of the department of justice offended every standard of justice and decency. When the late Judge Geiger in the United States District court in Milwaukee saw what the department was doing to obtain a consent decree in the automobile finance case he dismissed the proceedings, and in doing so added greatly to his standing as a judge and as a man.

THE TRIBUNE has repeatedly denounced the consent decree racket and for long was almost alone in doing so. The fact that the department of justice has now abandoned the practice is therefore a source of considerable satisfaction, even tho the principal justification for the change was given no emphasis. It is gratifying to know that the department of justice of the United States is no longer engaged in the business of extortion under threat.

THE AVONDALE ROUTE.

Spokesmen for a number of northwest side neighborhood associations have expressed their preference for the Avondale avenue route for the proposed northwest superhighway. They believe the recent recommendation of the county highway engineers that the road be constructed parallel to Elston and Clybourn avenues is subject to a number of criticisms.

The estimated costs of constructing the two projects are about equal. There are marked differences, however, in design. If Avondale avenue is followed the road will be elevated; if the other route is taken the road will be depressed thru much of its length. All the evidence suggests that in weather such as Chicago has experienced in the last few days the elevated highway is distinctly preferable because snow accumulates in a depression but the wind sweeps an embankment clear. It seems probable, therefore, that the elevated road will be both safer and less expensive to maintain.

At any rate, if there are no decided engineering advantages one way or the other, the choice of the people living in the vicinity of the improvement should govern. On this point there appears to be little doubt. The people of the northwest side who have studied the problem with relation to their own needs have expressed a definite preference for Avondale avenue. That being the case, they should have it.

JAPANESE TRADE TREATY TO LAPSE.

In his annual message to congress a year ago President Roosevelt denounced "aggressor nations" and declared that they might be informed of America's adverse opinion of them by "many measures short of war, but stronger than mere words." It was soon made clear that the administration meant to take steps which would injure Germany, Italy, and Japan.

Against Germany an increase in duties of 25 per cent was announced in the spring. Then, on Italian silks, increased "countervailing" duties were imposed. As to Japan, Senator Pittman, chairman of the foreign relations committee, pressed for adoption of a resolution authorizing an embargo on war material shipments to that country. If the President had declared that a state of war existed between Japan and China he could have put the neutrality law into effect without Pittman's resolution, but then, if that had been done, the embargo would have been effective equally against China.

While Senator Pittman's bill was being considered in committee Senator Vandenberg of Michigan pointed out that the United States had contracted not to place an embargo against Japan so long as the treaty of commerce and navigation of 1911 was in effect. Six months' notice had to be given of intention to abrogate the treaty. The Vandenberg position made it clear that if we invoked an embargo against Japan while the treaty was still in force Japan could denounce us as a treaty violator. And so the administration took the longer way around. On July 26 Japan was given the six months' notice of our intention to terminate the treaty. Simultaneously, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced that penalty duties on Japanese goods and a possible embargo on imports of gold and silver from Japan were under consideration by his department.

Many thought that the intervening six months would be used to work out a new treaty, but Jan. 26 is near and there are no indications of progress on a new or even an interim agreement. At a date which is rapidly approaching our trade with Japan will be carried on without protection of an international agreement. Either party will be in a position to levy penalties and interpose restrictions on imports of the other party at any time and without warning. The way has been cleared for Mr. Pittman's embargo on arms and Mr. Morgenthau's embargo on silver and gold and general countervailing duties.

Meanwhile, those engaged in carrying on our very large trade with Japan have been in the dark. What will be the situation late this month, particularly as regards Japanese goods brought here in Japanese ships? The importers' appeal to the government for enlightenment was answered on Dec. 22 by a joint statement of the treasury and commerce departments. The statement points out that, using authority given by an act of 1828, President Grant on Sept. 4, 1872, issued a proclamation suspending discriminating duties with respect to Japan. The statement says that President Grant's proclamation was never revoked and will be in effect when the treaty of 1911 dies. Therefore, unless congress, the President, or the Japanese government does something to alter the situation there will be no embargoes and no countervailing duties, and trade will go on as under the treaty—subject, however, to change without notice.

The Roosevelt administration has made a great to-do about the reciprocal trade agreements which have been entered into with 21 countries. Many of these are small countries. To none of them except the United Kingdom and Canada do we sell anything like as much goods as to Japan. Agreements facilitating business of 5 million dollars a year with Haiti and of 4 million dollars with Nicaragua were the work of a statesman, we have been told. But trade running to a quarter of a billion dollars' worth in a year, with a customer with whom there is no controversy over vital American interest, is subjected to the greatest hazards. Our exports to Japan in the first 11 months of 1939 exceeded 200 million dollars. In foreign trade as in other matters the Roosevelt administration makes a great to-do about chicken feed and treats transactions running into the hundreds of millions with cool indifference. Is there at Washington any real desire to promote the nation's foreign trade?

MR. GLENN'S WITHDRAWAL.

Former Senator Glenn has withdrawn his candidacy for the Republican nomination to the United States senate. His retirement will be regretted by all those who remember with gratitude and respect the fine record he made in Washington, both as the representative of Illinois and as a leader of his party.

Illinois is fortunate in the fact that Mr. Wayland Brooks remains in the running. Tho no other candidates appear at the primary, Illinois will be assured of a Republican nominee for the senate who will present the issues forcefully, who has consistently run well in relation to his ticket, and who has earned the respect of the people of this state, both in the metropolitan area and downstate, by his courageous opposition to the dictatorial trend in the Democratic party.

While Mr. Glenn's retirement is a disappointment to his many friends and admirers, the fact that the remaining candidate is virile, clean cut, and able is an evidence of the rehabilitation of the party in this state.

Editorial of the Day

ONE REVERSAL.

[Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph.]

It has long been a source of complaint in the central west that industrial production of this section is under a handicap compared with areas along the east coast or the west coast.

Cheap water transportation, discrimination of tariffs and other factors, give the industries of the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards an advantage in marketing their products which those in the central west do not possess.

When a case comes to light of the opposite sort it is worth noting. Dispatches from New York tell of the abandonment of a manufacturing plant of the Corn Products Refining corporation, located on the Jersey side of the Hudson river opposite New York, and the removal of the machinery and force to other plants, both located in Illinois, one at Pekin.

It is stated that distance of the New Jersey plant from its chief source of raw materials, that being corn, is the main reason for the shift.

Since the present trend of effort is to increase use of farm products in industry, the central west should profit by future location of other industries which rely on corn as their chief raw material.

HE SHOULD KNOW.

MR. PEPYS' FAVORITE WORD.

15th Jan.—Did naught over the week-end but frowst at home, save for making a trip to have a picture framed, and another to get a new suit from the tailor, and still another to see a basketball game, and yet another to find some books that would take my cares off my mind. And when I did settle down to frowst in earnest, behold, my little dog must be taken around the block, every hour on the hour, it seems, whether it is raining or snowing, until I thought I had better be like other columnists and do my frowsting in cabarets instead of at home.

This word "frowst" is one that I use often in speech, but nobody seems to know what it means, and I thought, Perhaps it is not in the American language at all, tho it certainly is common enough in the English. So I turned to my big dictionary, and lo, it was not there. But in the Concise Oxford you can find it with the definition, "To stay in and enjoy fusty heat in a room." It is spoken in Miss Connie Bennett's play, "Easy Virtue," and it is used dozens of times in Rudyard Kipling's schoolboy stories, but still, when I say it, people think it is something I have made up. Indeed, it seems to describe the trouble at the University of Chicago over football, where the dons want their young men to frowst over their books all the time.

So during the week-end, save when prevented by errands and dog-walking, I frowsted over "Lizzie Borden: A Study in Conjecture," by Mrs. Belloc Lowndes; and "Over My Dead Body," by Rex Stout; and "Death at the Inn," by R. Austin Freeman. Now I arise like a giant refreshed to continue my labors, which consist chiefly in throwing pieces of paper into a waste basket.

SONG OF AN ICICLE.

I am the fang of the lean grey wolf
That harries the herd on the drifting floes,
Hunger and death racing side by side
Thru the dim white arctic snows.

In the midnight sky I pulse and glow
Where the boreal warriors leap and dance;
I march and I march and countermarch
And brandish my fire-tipped lance.

I thrust from the roof of the jeweled cave
That lures man from mortal sight,
And I hang, a menace to all who come,
The keen and deadly stalactite.

I am the javelin the horseman throws
As he rides on the wings of the blast,
And one in the forest screams and falls
Keeping a tryst with Thor at last.

I am the tool the gravers use,
Carving the glacier, trace by trace,
And I am the shaft that breaks away
From the looming iceberg's face.

I am a part of the frieze that trims
Cathedral, castle, and hall,
And the shanty's eaves I make as fine
As the noblest baron's wall.

S'Amuser.

'Approved Theory for Origin of "30."

The earliest organization which presented any semblance to a press association came into being in Washington in the 1870s. It specialized in news of congress, the administration, and the Supreme court.

A few news writers got together and peddled their wares to a few New York, Boston, Albany, and Chicago papers in the beginning, and these papers were connected direct with Washington by means of Western Union wires, for which they paid regular press rate tolls. It was not until some years later there was an incorporated press association with leased wire service.

Receiving operators copied the report with a stylus, making from 4 to 13 carbon copies. Their wire form required the separating of each item or story with the letter X below the article and in the center of the sheet. At the end of the report—when there was no more matter to be transmitted, about 3:30 in the morning—the form was to place triple X after the last item, so that when it reached the telegraph editor's desk he would know that was all for the night. Since XXX represents the Roman numerals for 30, the figure 30 came into general use with the introduction of the typewriter in press work in the early '90s.

A Philosopher Gets Excited.

I have made the astounding discovery that the Line uses rubber type! In trying to set my typewriter to match a column as printed, I find the right margin fluctuates erratically, altho the printed sheet is quite even. For example, one Line article has the following number of letters and spaces in its lines: 47-42-42-46-40-44-46-45-43-48, etc. I insist on an explanation before I conclude my typewriter is to blame. Quizzicuss.

One amusing thing about all the people who are jumping into their cars and heading for the sunny southland, after taunting their stay-at-home friends, is this:

Fifty miles out of Chicago they run into deep snow and stick there, cursing their fate.

GETTING ABOUT WITH FRACTURES AND SPRAINS.

AS EVERY one will admit, quiet is highly desirable if we are to aid recovery. We cannot expect a cut finger to mend if the wound is irritated constantly. Neither would we sandpaper an ulcer periodically and expect new cells to form. They just would not have time to grow. This explains why we protect all cracked surfaces against further harm and the added assaults of bacteria.

We look upon every sprain, dislocation, or split in a bony structure as carrying with it damage to the muscles, tendons, and blood vessels. The black and blue discoloration which usually appears two or three days later tells us plainly that a good deal of internal bleeding has taken place. We realize then that the entire region has become filled with escaped blood and lymph. This fluid must be either reabsorbed by the capillaries or utilized as a network in the formation of new fibrous tissue. This is a part of nature's process of cementing together severed areas—for example, fragments of bone. But should material surrounding an injured joint become transformed into an unyielding mass, a less useful member will result. In fact, this is the chief cause of stiff ankles, wrists, shoulders, etc. Furthermore, as we all know, when muscles are not used they waste away and hence will have less power to function—if the interval of "do nothing" is prolonged unduly. The answer then is: Do something; get about.

Every fracture is treated by bringing the broken bits together and keeping them there. This denotes proper splinting or fixation. The next job is to make certain that the circulation is not only as good as average but better, as it must carry away all old blood that otherwise would form a scar. This demands exercise, but only that amount which will not dislocate or disturb the impaired segments.

"But," you ask, "do you mean to say that a broken arm or leg should be treated just as tho the individual were normal?" No, not quite. But massage may be utilized as well as heat and the electric current with enough stimulation to accelerate absorption. With a crack in the bones of the lower leg—gentle manipulation of the toes or the foot may be sufficient to achieve our purpose. In other words, the more actively the locality can be engaged during the period of repair, the better.

A common fracture is that which occurs in the wrist. With the splints applied, the thumb and fingers should be left free, as should the elbow joint. The site of the disunion, however, is fastened rigidly so that movement of the pieces is impossible. By flexing and extending the fingers many times daily we accomplish what we wish. The muscles of the forearm are exercised thereby and if we can bend the elbow backward and forward, we will keep the muscles of the upper arm in good tone.

In a sprain of the ankle—when the ligaments are torn and the swelling is quite extensive—firm strapping will generally suffice, with the foot in about the position as when one is standing erect. But this will permit freedom of the leg. This circulation can be maintained and we will have far fewer so-called chronic sprains if this precaution is observed. Of course good judgment is called for always, and for the first two or three days little effort should be made to engage in activity. As soon as pain has abated, however, some motions may be begun. In fact, if the patient can be trusted not to touch the injured member to the floor—forcing it to bear weight—it is well to insist that he assume a sitting posture varied with walking about on crutches.

There was a time years ago when complete and absolute rest for the whole body was demanded should a bone be fractured. But modern procedures have changed all this. The broken hip victim—thru the employment of a special metal pin—can be seated comfortably in an easy chair reading his newspaper a few days after the accident. Exertion—except for the involved part—aids speedy healing and more stable union.

CONTAIN LITTLE STARCH.

Mrs. L. P. writes: Are apples fattening? I have been informed that apples contain as much starch as potatoes.

REPLY.

A ripe apple contains little or no starch. Its food valu is supplied by sugar. A pound of apples will furnish 290 calories; a pound of potatoes [starch], 385.

IT ISN'T TRUE.

B. E. writes: Is it true that a person loses a drop of blood with every sigh?

REPLY.

Fortunately no. If this were true, many a lovesick swain would require a transfusion daily.

SOY BEAN AS A FOOD.

F. L. writes: Are soy beans of value as food?

Of all of the beans they supply the most nutriment. They are rich in starch, proteins, and fat and constitute an excellent source of calcium, phosphorus, and vitamin B.

HEART DISEASE.

L. H. writes: What does "arteriosclerotic heart disease" mean?

REPLY.

That type of heart disease associated with or due to hardening of the arteries.

GRAFT AND HOW TO END IT.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—The editorial "Graft and How to End It," in the Sunday issue, has attracted wide attention. Graft, corruption, and waste of public funds is an old story in many American cities; perhaps to a degree in all cities. When courts and prosecutors fail to punish dishonesty in government, the fault is not entirely attributable to the average citizen. He does not have ready access to all the facts, nor to practical means of invoking complicated legalisms in cleaning up political skulduggery. He has to make a living and that takes time. If he manages to handle himself with reasonable intelligence in choosing his political representatives he must be provided with the most simple and workable system that modern experience can devise.

That is why city manager government has been adopted by over 450 cities in America. That is why proportional representation as a simple system of recording the wishes of citizens is growing in use.

To dismiss with a nonchalant wave of the intellectual hand the advance and improvements that have been made in the administrative processes of municipal government by 10 or 12 millions of Americans in their home cities where city manager government operates successfully is not exactly logical. There are scores of cities where city manager government has reduced the per capita cost of government as much as 25 per cent and at the same time improved the municipal services. Any person doubting the practical results of city manager government can resolve the doubts by asking Dun & Bradstreet to express a professional opinion as to the relative merit of the new form over the old. City manager government is far more vital than "tinkering with the forms of government." It is the application of well proven principles of business organization to the administration of city affairs.

It is easy for men of weak character to remain honest when the accounting system makes it extremely difficult to be dishonest. Every improvement in administration and accounting practice in banks and business houses has helped the employed and the supervisory forces to stay honest. Likewise, city manager government makes it easier for men in municipal government to keep honest.

There are so many thousands of illustrative instances that the experience of Kansas City [often quoted by critics of the city manager plan] deserves a more detailed explanation than the press has given. The Kansas City Star is authority for the statement that the city had better government under the city manager than before. The centralization of authority and responsibility made it easier to fix the legal blame. And, finally, the Kansas City charter was not a city manager charter in the full sense of the term. It permitted the election of four councilmen from the equivalent of wards, and thru that fault the power of the Pendergast machine was partially preserved. If Kansas City had gone the whole length in writing her charter the machine would have faced greater difficulties.

The advocates of city manager government for Chicago are not indulging in dreams of a form of government that remakes human nature and insures perfection. On the contrary, the program calls for the organization and maintenance of a permanent citizens' association to watch government and encourage the widest possible participation by every class of citizens in government. The need for voters to keep an eye on government is clear. But it is easier for the average man to participate in an administrative plan that he understands than in a complicated, confused, outmoded, and outgrown system.

H. BARRY MCCORMICK,
Chairman,
Chicago City Manager Committee.

A ONE WAY STREET.

Keokuk, Ia., Jan. 10.—A lot of otherwise intelligent people seem to believe that if this country goes dictator in November that we will change back very quickly if we do not like the foreign plan. They seem to feel that all we need is to have a majority of the people dissatisfied in order to overthrow a dictator.

Alas! Dictatorial governments do not work that way. The majority of the people do not amount to much since real voting is not allowed. What a dictator government is chiefly interested in [and in most countries is getting] is possession of a majority of the government offices. That's what they are after [and are getting] in the United States.

BIRDWELL SUTLIVE.

THE SHOOTING OF THE STEER.

Evanston, Ill., Jan. 11.—The picture of the Western Springs police sergeant with his posse and the wounded steer in this morning's TRIBUNE startled me. I probably should not criticize any one for going after a runaway steer with a gun, tho any one who has ever lived on a farm knows there are better ways. But to pose over a wounded animal after it had been shot down is too much for me to keep still. H. E. WEECHMAN.

BIAS ALLEGED.

Elwood, Ill., Jan. 4.—I am neither a Democrat nor a Roman Catholic. Nor am I a Catholic hater, and only an independent Republican. However, I believe in the eternal consistency of things, political, religious, and otherwise.

Protestants outnumber Roman Catholics in this country at least four to one. But for the most outstanding Protestant event in this country you give little more than bare notice. But when a new cardinal is named by the pope [and I honor him for his high position], you give him your largest headline, and near to four columns of notice, on pages one and six, while the President of the United States in his message to congress gets about the same amount of space, but on page 10.

You claim to be independent, but you certainly lean in toward Roman Catholicism so strongly that you are earning anything but respect from your Protestant constituency. Yet I read THE TRIBUNE daily. I wonder why?

HARRY E. PORTER,
Presbyterian Minister.

A CONTRARY VIEW.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—I was greatly surprised to notice the world's greatest newspaper did not give an editorial of welcome to the Most Rev. Samuel A. Stritch. With all its great army of Catholic readers in Chicagoland, THE TRIBUNE should have had an editorial on this subject. I would not suggest or even think this great newspaper is bigoted, but there was a slip somewhere. Why?

EDWARD R. PORTER.

AT THE CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—We are the parents of a 6 month old boy recently admitted to the Chicago Contagious Disease hospital with a severe meningitis. We found from the highest doctor and nurse to the lowest salaried employé in this institution nothing but the greatest respect and courtesy. Thru their great work he has recovered largely from his severe illness. The employés of this institution should be applauded for the tireless life saving work they are carrying on.

MR. AND MRS. E. DUFFY.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

REPAIRS NEEDED.

Chicago, Jan. 10 [Friend of the People].—The property at 2612 of our block has been reported to the building association, board of health, and to the mayor's office and nothing has been done about it. A man sent from the mayor's office said "the building was beyond repair." Now we also had an officer from the district police station to show him about a rotten window frame from which the panes of glass are slipping, some of which are about ready to fall. Children play immediately under this window in my back yard and should one of these panes fall they would be seriously injured. K. H.

Our inspector reports that this two story frame building appears level and plumb, but is in a generally dilapidated condition. The owner has been notified to make all necessary repairs and our inspector will make periodical inspections until the work has been completed. RICHARD E. SCHMIDT,
Commissioner of Buildings.

RIGHT TO DISINHERIT.

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 10 [Legal Friend of the People].—My mother, 83 years old, just died leaving a will [1] which I think is unjust. The heirs were three boys and myself, an only girl. She left her entire estate of 120 acres of land and a house and lot in town, with no debts—to be equally divided between the three boys and didn't mention my name at all in the will.

2. What can I do?
3. Can I break the will?
4. What steps shall I take? E. C. F.

1. The law does not require that a will shall be just. A parent is permitted to disinherit any child arbitrarily provided there is no undue influence and the parent has testamentary capacity.
2. Nothing on the bare facts stated.
3. See 1.
4. If you have any evidence of undue influence or lack of testamentary capacity you should submit such evidence to an attorney in a personal interview.

How Our States Got Their Names

8. FLORIDA.

Florida was the name given to the territory which Ponce de Leon discovered on Easter Sunday, 1512. It is from the Spanish "Pascua Florida," or Feast of Flowers, the name given to Easter day. Some historians say the vast number of flowers in bloom also influenced De Leon in his choice of a name. Florida became a state March 3, 1845.

Florida state seal. The scene is a view of sun's rays over distant highland, a cocoa tree, a steamboat, and an Indian girl scattering flowers. Outer edge bears legend, "In God We Trust."

Florida's nicknames include the Alligator, Everglade, Flower, Orange, Peninsula, and Gulf state. It also is known as the Land of Flowers. An everglade is a swamp. The other nicknames explain themselves. Florida was first settled in 1565 by the Spaniards. Its flower is the orange blossom, and the state bird is the mocking bird. The state motto is "In God We Trust," and the state song "Florida, My Florida."

LOUISIANA VOTES FOR GOVERNOR IN TODAY'S PRIMARY

5 Democrats in Race for Chief Executive.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 15 (AP).—Louisiana's hot campaign, with state-wide scandals as the chief issue, ended tonight, and tomorrow the state will choose between the political heirs of Huey Long and a reform government.

The state's Democratic voters, 600,000 strong, are expected to go to the polls in a primary which will decide the vote of the Long machine, in power since 1928.

End of the platform warfare found no letup in activities of four gubernatorial candidates seeking to defeat Gov. Earl K. Long and break the power his brother established as governor 12 years ago.

Long Closes Campaign.

Long himself closed his public campaign with a rally at Baton Rouge, not far from where the slain "kingfish" lies buried on the capitol grounds, his grave a shrine for the hero worshippers whose votes Earl seeks tomorrow to "carry on the memory of Huey."

"This campaign has taken 5 years off my life, I've lost 22 pounds," the 44 year old Long said in a statement claiming he would carry New Orleans by a big majority and lead in all but 10 of the state's 64 parishes [counties].

This claim was ridiculed by Sam Houston Jones, 42 year old Lake Charles attorney, newcomer to politics and widely regarded as the strongest of the reform candidates for the Democratic nomination which is tantamount to election. The gubernatorial term is four years and the successful candidate wil be inaugurated in May.

Assails State Machine.

He declared Louisiana faces "the problem of whether or not Louisianans will vote out of office for once and for all a crooked, thieving machine that brought disgrace upon the citizenry." He added a warning against any effort to steal the election, saying "a cell in the federal penitentiary is waiting for any poor little shots who are forced by the big shots to try any stealing."

Jones' watchers will go to the polls with candid cameras to photograph some of the allegedly 10,000 fake registrants against whom former Gov. James A. Noe, another candidate, has brought suits seeking to prevent them from voting.

Leads "Convict" Parade.

James H. Morrison, noisiest of the opposition candidates, tonight led his "convict parade" down the streets of Shreveport as a backdrop to his final speech in which he denounced Long and claimed victory.

The fifth candidate, Henry Vincent Moseley, closed with radio speeches denouncing all his opponents.

If none of the gubernatorial aspirants gains a clear majority, a runoff primary will be held Feb. 20.

The polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. [Chicago time], with a slow count expected.

GIRLS' SCREAMS ROUT BANDIT IN 2D OFFICE HOLDUP

The screams of office girls yesterday routed a bandit who was making his second raid in the office of the United Small Loan corporation on the second floor at 6253 Woodlawn avenue.

The bandit got $235 in a holdup in the office Jan. 3. Since then two detectives, John Kustusch and William Armstrong of the Woodlawn district, have been on guard there. The robber, gun in hand, pushed open the door yesterday and was recognized immediately.

He wheeled when he heard the screams and dashed down the stairs with the policemen in pursuit. They fired several shots as he darted into an alley. They found his overcoat, in which were two bullet holes, but the robber got away.

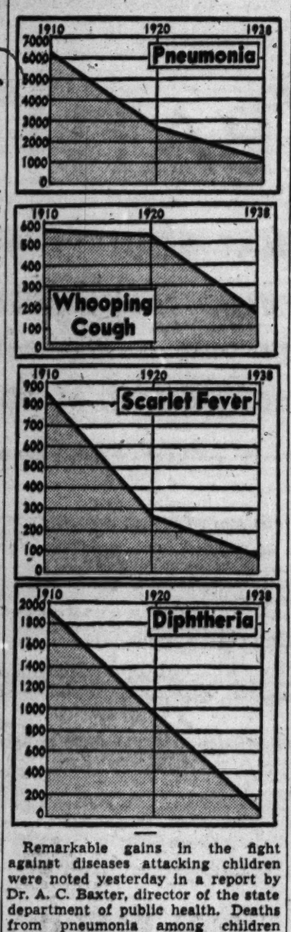
Armstrong won the $100 Tribune hero award in May, 1938, when he killed a restaurant bandit.

BELVIDERE WOMAN, 80, DIES.

Belvidere, Ill., Jan. 15 [Special].—Mrs. Helen L. Bernard, 80 years old, a lifelong resident here, died today at the home of her niece, Miss Helen Storms. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Siebert, pioneer residents, and is the last of her family. Funeral services will be held Thursday.

Child Disease Deaths Decline

These diagrams show how children's deaths from four principal diseases have declined in Illinois between 1910 and 1938.



Remarkable gains in the fight against diseases attacking children were noted yesterday in a report by Dr. A. C. Baxter, director of the state department of public health. Deaths from pneumonia among children under 10 years of age dropped from 6,156 in 1910 to 1,065 in 1938. Pneumonia, nevertheless, remains the greatest hazard, the chief danger being to babies less than 2 years old. Diarrhea, formerly in first place, is now second. Deaths from diphtheria dropped from 1,940 in 1910 to 90 in 1938.

Deaths in Illinois of children under 10 years old from the eight most prevalent diseases were as follows:

	1910.	1920.	1938.
Pneumonia	6,186	2,770	1,065
Diarrhea	3,376	3,820	487
Whooping cough	562	545	168
Measles	643	434	162
Tuberculosis	859	388	147
Scarlet fever	849	270	94
Diphtheria	1,940	990	90
Epidemic meningitis	254	69	9

Dr. Baxter said the improvement in the campaign against pneumonia could be attributed to better feeding, better protection against all kinds of infections, and better medical care.

DENY COURTS CAN HALT JARECKI IN VOTE FRAUD QUIZ

An argument that the Circuit court has no power to restrain County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki in contempt cases was raised yesterday in Circuit Judge Robert J. Dunne's court. It came up during a hearing on an injunction suit brought by Attorney Joseph T. Harrington to restrain Judge Jarecki from continuing the prosecution of election fraud cases pending a decision of the state Supreme court in a mandamus suit brought by Carl Stockholm, a former six day bicycle rider and now owner of a chain of dry cleaning shops. Stockholm seeks to have all ballots six months old destroyed.

Opening for the defense, Jacob Shamberg, assistant state's attorney, representing Judge Jarecki, held the Circuit court is without jurisdiction in the injunction case. Hearing will be continued today.

Plunge Victim's $270 Gone, Inquest Told by Brother

Roy A. Peterson of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., expressed interest yesterday at a coroner's inquest in learning what had become of $270 his brother, Clarence, carried when he left their home Friday. Clarence, 47 years old, plunged to his death Sunday from a 14th floor room in the Y. M. C. A. at 826 South Wabash avenue. He had 16 cents in his pocket. The jury was unable to determine whether he leaped or fell to his death.

URGES NATIONAL PROGRAM TO FIND SYPHILIS CASES

Health Congress Told It Can Be Stamped Out.

Dr. Albert E. Russell of Chicago, the surgeon in charge of syphilis control in industry for the United States Public Health service, yesterday urged adoption of a case finding program for syphilis similar to that used in the fight against tuberculosis. Dr. Russell spoke in the Palmer House before the second annual Congress on Industrial Health, sponsored by the American Medical association.

"Both syphilis and tuberculosis," Dr. Russell said, "have their greatest incidence in the low income groups and among the uneducated. Both are infectious diseases and therefore it is important to find the early infectious case, make proper diagnosis, and isolate or quarantine until the infectious period is passed."

It Can Be Stamped Out.

Dr. Russell said the Scandinavian countries have shown that it is possible to stamp out syphilis. He said that a syphilis control program reaching the 15 million workers in the mining, metal, and mechanical trades and their families would include half the nation's population.

Dr. Russell told his colleagues that the discharge of workers with positive cases of syphilis placed a burden on the worker, community and nation, and deprived the affected person of money with which to pay for treatment. In time, he said, both the discharged worker and his family became public charges. He said such persons should be permitted to continue working if the disease is in a noninfectious stage.

Opposed to Discrimination.

Dr. Harvey Bartle, chief medical examiner for the Pennsylvania railroad, also urged no discrimination against syphilitic workers, assuming that they are noninfectious cases and tnat the disease does not make the worker more liable to accident than his fellow workmen. Persons whose nervous systems or other faculties are impaired should be carefully placed and supervised, he said.

R. O. T. C. REVIEW WILL HONOR COL. BROWN, RETIRING AT U. OF I.

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 15 [Special.]—Col. Fred R. Brown, commandant of the University of Illinois R. O. T. C. brigade, will review his final military formation Friday when the advanced corps passes in review at retreat. Col. Brown will be retired from the army Feb. 29 after more than 44 years in the service.

Dr. Arthur C. Willard, president of the university, and the deans and directors of the schools and colleges on the campus have been invited to attend this formation in honor of Col. Brown, who will relinquish his command Feb. 1, when he goes on leave.

Col. Robert G. Kirkwood, former commander of the 10th field artillery, Camp Lewis, Wash., and recently Col. Brown's executive officer, will succeed to the U. of I. command. Col. Kirkwood is recovering from injuries received in a holiday automobile accident near Washington, D. C., and will be discharged from Walter Reed hospital within a few days.

Here are the oranges to buy for JUICE

Pick up a Florida orange next time you're at your grocer's and notice this:

A Florida orange is thin-skinned. That means more room for juice.

And it's heavy in your hand—which means the juice is there.

That extra juice naturally means more for your money.

It also means more healthful vitamins and minerals from every orange you squeeze.

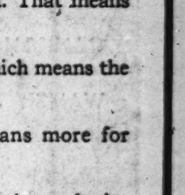
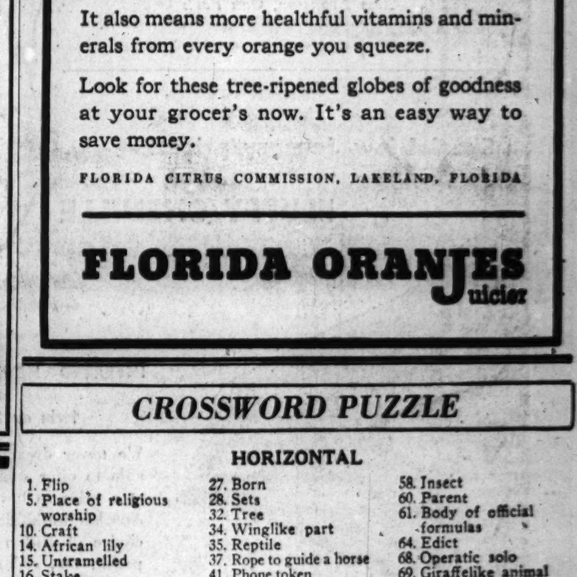
PUZZLE OF MONDAY, JAN. 15, SOLVED





UNION PRESIDENT FREED OF CHARGE IN LABOR KILLING

State Says It Hasn't Enough Evidence.

John Martin, 50 years old, president of the Scrap Iron and Junk Handlers' union, who shot and fatally wounded Attorney Leon R. Cooke in the union headquarters at 3159 Roosevelt road last Dec. 8, was freed in Felony court yesterday on a charge of assault to kill.

John Martin.

Assistant State's Attorney Joseph O'Connor informed Judge Joseph J. Drucker that the state had no evidence beyond that presented to a coroner's jury which absolved Martin of blame in the slaying last Wednesday.

In a death bed statement, Cooke, one of the union's founders and its former attorney, told police:

"I told Martin he ought to have obtained a pay raise for the men in one junkyard. He was stormy, and in a little while we were scuffling. When he grabbed a gun, I told him he was crazy, and started to leave. He shot me in the back."

Martin's story at the inquest was that Cooke drew a gun on him and struck him in the face. He said that as he fell, the gun went off and Cooke dropped it, and that both of them struggled for possession of the weapon.

"It was him or me," said Martin, explaining why he fired when he got control of the gun. The weapon was never found to corroborate Martin's story that it belonged to Cooke, nor was there any witness to substantiate his account of the slaying.

State's attorney's police confiscated the charter of the union after the slaying and announced that the union would be suppressed unless its rank and file could show they wanted a legitimate organization. Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator, said Martin would not be permitted to remain as an official.

NO JURORS SELECTED IN MURDER TRIAL OF POLICE SLAYER'S PAL

Selection of a jury qualified to inflict the death penalty was begun yesterday before Judge John A. Sbarbaro in the Criminal court to try Joseph Russano, 23 years old, for the murder of Park Policeman Harry Francois. The policeman was shot to death Nov. 20 when he interrupted a holdup in Humboldt park.

Joseph Russano.

At the end of the day the state and defense had failed to obtain a single juror. Twenty-five veniremen were excused for cause when they expressed conscientious objections to the death penalty.

Russano's confederate, Jerry Mangano, 22, named as the bandit who shot Francois, was convicted last Friday by a jury and sentenced to the electric chair. Italo Begani, 17, third member of the gang, has pleaded guilty and is to be sentenced at the conclusion of the present trial. Assistant State's Attorney Richard Devine stated that he expected to prove that Mangano fired on a shouted command from Russano to shoot.

INVENTORY LISTS $437,768 ASSETS IN O'HARE ESTATE

Placed in Trust for Son and Two Daughters.

An inventory of the estate of Edward J. O'Hare, front man for the Capone syndicate who was slain by shotgun assassins on Nov. 8, was filed yesterday in the Probate court and approved by August Urbanski, assistant to Probate Judge John F. O'Connell. It listed cash and securities amounting to $437,768, exclusive of real estate and stock holdings with with no par value.

Much of the O'Hare holdings consisted of stock in kennel clubs and horse race tracks. He was president of the National Jockey club, which operated Sportsman's Park race track, successor to the old Capone dominated Hawthorne Park dog track.

O'Hare's will left his estate in trust for his son, E. J. O'Hare Jr., an officer in the United States navy, and his two daughters, Patricia and Marilyn. The Northern Trust company was appointed administrator.

One item not listed in the inventory was $25,000 which investigators found in a safety deposit box. Since then it has been claimed by Edmund L. Dolan, former city treasurer of Boston, Mass., and John Walter Quinn, former Boston political power. Both are in jail serving two and one-half year terms in connection with a jury bribery attempt.

Cash assets of the estate amount to $59,938. This includes checking accounts in the First National bank [$43,738], and in the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company [$5,801].

$30,965 in Notes Listed.

Notes totaling $30,965 were listed. These apparently referred only to business deals. Three for $8,000 were due from Koenigsberg-Edlin & O'Hare, Inc., an advertising agency. Among the cash assets was $6,750, listed as being an unsecured note which was paid after O'Hare's murder.

O'Hare's stocks with a listed per value were given a total valuation of $346,865. Following are the largest of these, the number of shares and the par value:

Shares.		Par value.
200	Emmas-Parrish-Lovejoy Co., Inc. [advertising]	$ 10
601½	Jacksonville Kennel Club, Inc.	100
333⅓	Koenigsberg-Edlin & O'Hare	10
1,068⅓	[capital] Miami Beach Ken'l club.	100
3,490	[capital] National Jockey club.	50

Among the stocks of no par value were 1,000 shares of the capital stock of the Alpha Realty and Investment company. This is a real estate investment house in which Judge Eugene J. Holland of the Municipal court also had an interest. Holland's business connections with O'Hare have been under investigation by the state's attorney's office.

MORAN, PARKER AND 10 FREED IN RAIL BOND PLOT

George [Bugs] Moran, north side gang leader of prohibition days; Frankie Parker, one time airplane bootlegger, and 10 co-defendants won their liberty yesterday on two charges of forgery and one of conspiracy involving $230,000 in counterfeit New York Central railroad bonds.

George Moran [Top] Frankie Parker.

Moran, Parker, and nine of the others were freed by Chief Justice John Prystalski in the Criminal court after the state asked permission to dismiss the charges under the four term act. It provides for dismissal of charges if demand for trial is made and not granted in four successive grand jury terms.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert Wright dismissed charges for want of prosecution against the other defendant, Ralph Hanna, an investigator for the state's attorney's office under the régime of John A. Swanson.

The cases were dropped because of inability to find Carl Silver, a fugitive defendant, who was required as a state's witness.

Moran and Parker were found guilty last April 30 of conspiracy in a $62,000 travelers' check forgery and were sentenced to one year in jail and fined $2,000 each. They are appealing the case. Parker also is under sentence of two years in a counterfeit money case.

ARREST TWO DETROIT DETECTIVES; TESTIFY IN $1,600 HOLDUP CASE

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP).—Detectives Byron E. Farrish and Wilfred E. Brouillet, whose flight last Thursday touched off a major shakeup of the Detroit police department, were returned to Detroit tonight and were placed on the witness stand in a holdup case. They were arrested near Erie, Mich.

Under direct examination Farrish declared that $1,600 was involved in the holdup last summer of Dr. Martin Robinson and that he returned $1,000 of recovered loot to Dr. Robinson upon orders of an inspector.

Their arrest came shortly after Frank D. Eaman, new Detroit police commissioner, continued his reorganization of the department by abolishing ten high salaried positions, demoting five ranking officers and promoting two others.

Bench warrants for the two detectives were issued by Recorder's Judge Thomas M. Cotter, presiding at the trial of four men charged with the holdup of Dr. Robinson.

STATE OFFICIALS' PLEAS DENIED IN MANTENO CASES

Three state officials yesterday lost their pleas to quash indictments against them in connection with the typhoid scandal at the Manteno hospital. Their petitions were denied by Judge Roscoe C. South in Circuit court at Kankakee. The defendants then asked that their cases be transferred to another judge.

The defendants are A. L. Bowen, state welfare director; Dr. Ralph T. Hinton, suspended managing officer of the institution, and Mrs. Lillian Williams, the institution dietician. One of the three indictments against Mrs. Williams was quashed by Judge South, but two others were allowed to stand.

Judge South set the hearings on the change of venue pleas for Wednesday and said that Circuit Judge James Bartley of Joliet will hear and rule on them. Judge Bartley also is expected to hear and rule on a motion to quash indictments against Dr. Louis Steinberg, managing officer of the institution.

MY DISPOSITION'S IMPROVED...I SLEEP MUCH SOUNDER...AND FEEL MUCH BETTER GENERALLY, THE VITALITY BOOST IS WHAT'S DOING IT!
MRS. MARGARET JENSEN, 2759 E. 79th Street
THE VITALITY BOOST has certainly done a lot for me. I sleep better at night and my work goes easier all day long. My husband says my disposition has improved plenty.
WITH 2 CHILDREN and a house to take care of, I need all the pep and vitality I can get. That nightly glass of Bowman Milk does wonders to keep me fresh and untired.
I DON'T EVEN MIND getting up to feed the baby at 6 A.M. (What a chore that used to seem!) Yes, the Vitality Boost certainly does work. I'm keeping it up!
THE VITALITY BOOST :
At bedtime every night a glass of Bowman's!

Based on scientific facts, the Vitality Boost can do a lot to help you feel better too. Try it!

● What the Vitality Boost is doing for Mrs. Jensen is not an isolated case. Thousands of other Chicagoans are enjoying that nightly glass of Bowman Milk, and they all report similar results. Better sleep, more pep when they wake up in the morning, a general "pick-up" all day long.

If there is nothing wrong with your health and you still seem to lack pep and vigor, the Vitality Boost may be just what you need. Try it for 30 days. See if it doesn't work for you too.

It should because it's based on 3 proved facts of science.

(1) You take it when your stomach is empty. Preventing hunger pangs, it helps you get more restful sleep.

(2) It reduces the tax on your energy store that even sleeping takes. (Your body's need of fuel each sleeping hour is actually 40% of the average for all your waking, working hours! That's because your heart keeps pumping, breathing continues, "relaxed" muscles are always under tension.)

(3) It gives your body, in easily digestible form, a greater variety of nutritional essentials than any other food can provide!

So tomorrow night, start getting your Vitality Boost. Drink a full glass of fresh, pure milk at bedtime. You'll enjoy it particularly if the milk is Bowman's. More people in Chicago and vicinity drink Bowman Milk than any other kind. Produced with extra care, it has a specially delicious flavor.

BOWMAN Grade "A" MILK

THE MILK OF SUPERIOR FLAVOR. Preferred by more people in Chicago and vicinity than any other brand

A LITTLE LADY MAKES A PIKER OF ARCHIMEDES

Lift World? She Could Pull It from Solar System!

BY MARCIA WINN.

Archimedes, the ancient Greek mathematician, once said: "Give me a place to stand, and I will move the world." Vivien Kellems phrases it differently and promises more. "Give me a good grip on the world," she says, "and I will pull it out of the solar system."

Vivien Kellems holding grip she manufactures.

Archimedes spoke of the lever. Miss Kellems, the only woman manufacturer in the electrical industry, spoke of what she refers to affectionately as "my grip"—a wire mesh cylinder the grip of which becomes stronger in proportion to the weight of the object being held.

The Chinese and the Egyptians once used it as a puzzle and a plaything.

Supports World's Cables.

It remained for Miss Kellem's brother, Edgar, to improve it in 1928 and for her to make it into an industry that today pulls [or has pulled] and supports the world's greatest cables. In reduced size [called "Jr."] it is used to grip fractured toes and fingers and hold brushes and brooms in closets or on walls.

It pulled the cables for the underground electrical systems of such far flung spots as Shanghai and Barcelona. It pulled the giant aluminum steel cables for the English "grid," which electrifies all England. It is used on United States battleships to support cables leading to the turrets.

Quite at Home in Chicago.

All this is why Miss Kellems is one of the three women members of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Her home is in Westport, Conn., but she is in Chicago for two days, and is feeling quite at home.

"For," she says, "I've pulled most of the cable in the streets of Chicago."

Miss Kellems isn't an electrical engineer. She was studying for her Ph.D. in economics at Columbia university when her brother turned his invention over to her. She is little [about 5 feet 2 inches] and feminine, with a passion for old clocks and dress designing, but when she mentions "the art," don't be misled. She is speaking of the patent grip art.

'Annoyed, So She's Speaking.

She isn't here because of her grips. She is here to make a speech tonight before the women's division of the Chicago Electric association, and she is speaking [without fee] because "I'm so annoyed."

"I'm annoyed," she says, "because only three women in the whole electric industry—and I'm one of them—make more than $250 a month, and the industry needs women.

"So I'm out campaigning for a place for them."

TRAIN, PLANE, 30 SHOVELERS FIGHT SNOW TO AID GIRL

Seaton, Ill., Jan. 15 (AP).—An airplane, a special train, and 30 snow shovelers were called into service last night and today to get aid to Barbara Anderson, 11 years old, ill of spinal meningitis at the home of her grandparents near here.

The shovelers opened a path last night. The doctors, Paul Hockberg of Seaton and R. G. Hickerson, followed. They took samples of the stricken girl's spinal fluid. Then couriers floundered thru the 13 inch snow to Keithsburg, Ill., where a special train on the Minneapolis and St. Louis railway picked up the spinal fluid and made its way to Monmouth behind a snowplow. A laboratory test convinced physicians the girl had meningitis.

The nearest source for serum was a hospital in Galesburg. The roads were impassable.

Arthur Currey, proprietor of the Galesburg ariport, volunteered to fly the serum thru. He flew over the isolated farmhouse shortly before noon and dropped the serum in a parachute.

Wall Street Broker's Son Is Found Shot to Death

Jericho, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP).—George M. Pynchon Jr., socially prominent son of a Wall street broker, was found shot to death in the stable on his Long Island estate tonight. In his left hand was a double barreled shotgun. Deputy Medical Examiner Abraham Freireich said he had committed suicide. The body was found after a search of the estate by Pynchon's wife, the former Katherine V. Brown. Mrs. Pychon said she knew of no reason why her husband should commit suicide.

George Hermann Jr. Gets $104,000 Estate of Wife

George Hermann Jr., president of the George Hermann & Co. insurance agency, will receive the $104,000 estate left by his wife, Mary, it was revealed yesterday when her will was admitted to probate. Mrs. Hermann died Nov. 13. She and Mr. Hermann lived at 230 South Taylor street, Oak Park.

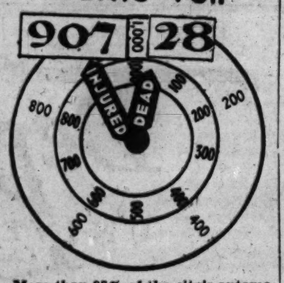
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Came the Brawn

THE MASSACRE Chicago's 1940 Traffic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an urban superhighway.

MOTHER AND SON HURT AS FREIGHT TRAIN HITS CAR

Mrs. Adeline Lyons, 47 years old, of 417 Wisconsin avenue, Oak Park, and her son, Fred, 26, escaped with slight injuries yesterday when their automobile was struck by the engine of a Santa Fe railroad freight train at 64th place and Harlem avenue.

The son said he had halted for one freight train and started to drive across the tracks after it had cleared the crossing. At that moment a freight approaching from the opposite direction bore down on his car. He swerved the car and the locomotive sidewiped it and demolished the radiator. He and his mother were treated at Berwyn hospital.

Dr. Edward Kopriva, 37, a dentist, of 3256 South Hamilton avenue, died in the county hospital of injuries incurred Jan. 1 when he was struck in Halsted street near Jackson boulevard by a car driven by Henry Ilkenhans, 3800 North Sacramento avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 39 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 28 were killed in Chicago, where 907 were injured in the same period. No traffic fatalities occurred in the county in the previous 24 hours.

DR. R. F. EAGLE, 59, DIES; AUTHORITY ON BACTERIOLOGY

Dr. Richard F. Eagle, authority on bacteriology and a vice president of Wilson & Co., meat packers, died yesterday in Roseland Community hospital of pneumonia after an illness of five days. He was 59 years old. Dr. Eagle had been connected with the packing firm since 1913, serving as a division superintendent and assistant general superintendent until 1931, when he was appointed vice president in charge of the produce plants in the middle west. He served as an instructor in pathology and meat hygiene in the Institute of Meat Packing at the University of Chicago and at other colleges. Since 1931 he was president of the Institute of American Poultry Industries, and he was also a director of the American Butter institute. During the Boer war he was a member of the remount division of the British army. He was a Scottish Rite Mason. His widow, Agnes, and three daughters, Mrs. William S. Barwick Jr., Salt Lake City, Utah; Mrs. Roger Arneman, and Mrs. W. C. Van Etten, survive. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Morgan Park Methodist church, 110th street and Longwood drive, with burial in Mount Hope cemetery.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WINTER VISITORS FIND FLORIDA HAS REDUCED PRICES

Rents on Small Units Generally Lower.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 15 [Special].—Despite an increased demand for living quarters in Florida this winter, the price range in the moderate class is lower than last season.

There are several reasons for the reduction in rentals. Tourist cabins renting for $1 to $3 a day have been built along many of the main highways. An increasing number of permanent residents are renting rooms to tourists or are moving into garage quarters and renting their houses furnished. Also 600 houses have been built here in the last two years.

According to Dr. J. C. Crist, a former Chicago physician, who is in the real estate business here, rooms in private homes are plentiful at $1 to $1.50 a day. These same rooms commanded $2.50 a day last year.

Double Rooms $15 a Week.

A room with twin beds may be had for $15 to $20 a week. Houses which brought $300 to $400 last year can be had this season for $300 to $350 a month.

In the upper brackets, however, owners of large houses are getting more rent than they did last year. A typical case is a house which represents a real estate investment of a little more than $18,000. The lease for this season calls for a rent of $4,000 as compared with $2,500 last year and $1,500 in 1933. The scheduled price of hotel rooms is about the same as last year.

The food situation is comparable with the rent situation. The Florida visitor can pay either a lot for his food or by careful shopping can live just as well at a moderate cost.

Food Averages Lower.

Food prices advertised today were compared with prices of a year ago and some were up slightly while others were down.

The average cost of food appeared to be somewhat lower than last year, except for the premium cuts of meat. Milk costs 17 cents a quart, as it has for several years.

A wide range of food and drink prices are to be found in night clubs, restaurants, and taverns, all catering to a different class of patronage. A mixed drink in one place can be bought for 25 or 30 cents, while the same drink in another place will cost $1. Meals are the same—it all depends upon where and what you want to eat.

QUADS, 3 GIRLS AND A BOY, BORN AT NAUVOO, ALA.

Nauvoo, Ala., Jan. 15 (AP). — Quadruplets born last night in a coal miner's home were reported in good health today by the small town doctor who delivered them.

Dr. H. J. Sankey said the quadruplets—three girls and a boy—were born to Mrs. Clyde Short at her rural home two miles from here. Each of the babies weighed a few ounces over 3 pounds.

The girls have been named Faith, Hope, and Charity, but no name has been selected for the boy.

Dentist Stricken at Wheel of Auto; Parks and Dies

Dr. Clinton D. Cook, 66 years old, a dentist with offices at 140 North Dearborn street, suffered a heart attack last evening as he was driving home in Washington boulevard. He steered his new sedan out of the heavy rush hour traffic and stopped at the curb in front of No. 562, where police found him dead at the wheel a few minutes later. Dr. Cook lived at 618 North 7th avenue, Maywood.

Mrs. Clifford Chickering Dies in California Home

Mrs. Clifford C. Chickering, wife of a retired Chicago piano manufacturer, died yesterday in San Marino, Cal. She was the former Mrs. S. Fred Brigham. She and Mr. Chickering were married in Chicago in 1929, but moved to Pasadena where he had established a home some years earlier. She leaves her husband and two children by a former marriage, Mrs. Robert F. Pfeiffer and Franklin B. Brigham, both of California. Funeral services will be held Thursday in Pasadena.

OBITUARIES

Edward De Briae.

Funeral services will be held today at 2 p. m. in the chapel at 706 West Chicago avenue, East Chicago, for Edward De Briae, 4322 Magoun avenue, one of the pioneer residents and a former mayor and city judge of East Chicago. He died suddenly Saturday night at the age of 97. Mr. De Briae was born in Quebec and settled in East Chicago in 1889. He was in the insurance business for a number of years, and in 1906 was elected the first Democratic mayor. He was city judge later for four years. He was a member of the Elks and Odd Fellows. Two sons, George and Frank De Briae, and two daughters, Mrs. L. W. James and Mrs. J. V. Haugh, both of Wilmette, survive. Burial will be in Ridgelawn cemetery.

Herman J. Lohman.

Herman J. Lohman, 76 years old, former chief of the Aurora fire department, died yesterday of a heart ailment while tending the furnace in his home at 16 North Madison street, Aurora. He joined the fire department in 1889 and retired in 1931. Surviving are his widow, Retta B., and a son, Fred.

Dr. John C. Groenewoud.

Funeral services for Dr. John C. Groenewoud, an osteopathic physician in Chicago for 28 years, will be held at 11 a. m. today in the chapel at 4227 Cottage Grove avenue. Dr. Groenwould, who lived at the Hyde Park hotel, died on Saturday. He was the husband of Mrs. Jennie K. Groenewoud.

George F. Gubbins.

George F. Gubbins, a manager of industrial properties, died yesterday in his home at 331 East Grove road, Riverside. He had been ill for several years. Surviving is his widow, Rose. Funeral services will be conducted at 9 a. m. Thursday in St. Mary's church, Riverside. Burial will be in Mount Carmel cemetery.

Rear Admiral L. A. Bostwick.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—Rear Admiral Lucius Allyn Bostwick, retired, died last night at the age of 70 years. At one time he was commander of a battleship division. His last post was as commandant of the 4th Naval district, at Philadelphia.

HAIL MILDRED GARDNER AS MOST BEAUTIFUL HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT

Mildred Gardner, 17 years old, 716 South Tripp avenue, was adjudged the most beautiful girl high school student in Chicago yesterday. Mildred, a junior at Marshall High school, won the distinction over more than 350 competitors. The beauty contest was held in connection with the annual Crane Technical R. O. T. C. military ball to be held in the Chicago Towers club next Saturday. Mildred will be queen of the ball and her two runners-up, Gloria Schaefer, 17, of 425 North Kedzie avenue, a student at Providence High school, and Barbara Riley, 17, of 3538 Monroe street, a Marshall High school student, will be ladies-in-waiting.

Mildred Gardner.

FORECAST MORE SNOW FOR CITY; STATE DIGS OUT

Chicago, which was slipping and sliding and skiing yesterday because Sunday's storm brought 2.3 inches of snow, has more snow on the way. Forecaster C. A. Donnel said last night that today will be cloudy and unsettled, with snow in prospect by night.

Donnel said present signs did not indicate the snowfall would be heavy. Temperatures will be low, from about 5 to 8 above zero this morning to a high of about 20 in the afternoon.

Residents of northwestern Illinois and eastern Iowa were digging themselves out of snowdrifts 8 to 10 feet deep yesterday. Schools were closed in Moline and Rock Island, Ill., Davenport, Ia., and in several smaller cities in Iowa and southern Wisconsin. Main highways for the most part were reported passable after a day's work with snowplows by the state highway department.

Motor traffic bound from Chicago to vacation spots in Florida, or to New Orleans, moved over icy but gradually improving roads in Illinois and Indiana. Bert Vanderwarf, head of the Chicago Motor club touring and travel bureau, said conditions south of the Ohio river were normal.

ASK CALIFORNIA FOR SURRENDER OF WILLIAM BIOFF

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 15 (AP).—The governor's office received requisition papers today from the state of Illinois asking the return of William Bioff to serve out a jail term on pandering charges.

Bioff, recently indicted by a federal grand jury for asserted income tax law violations, is west coast business representative of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employés union.

M. Stanley Mosk, executive secretary to Gov. Culbert L. Olson, said George Breslin, Bioff's attorney, had raised a question of jurisdiction and the hearing on the extradition would be delayed until it was settled. Breslin contested the right to consider Bioff's extradition while federal charges were pending against him in Los Angeles.

6,000 TO COMPETE IN CITY SCHOOL'S CHORAL CONTEST

Six thousand students will compete in the 15th annual choral competition for Chicago high school groups starting tonight. Boys', girls', and mixed choruses will compete for the opportunity to represent the four Chicago districts in the national high school contest in Springfield May 12 and 13.

District 1 will hold its contest tonight at Lane Technical High school, 2501 Addison street. Tomorrow night, at Hyde Park High school, 6220 Stony Island avenue, schools in District 4 will perform. Competition in District 3 will open Thursday at Harrison High school, 2850 West 24th street. On Friday night, the songsters of District 2 will perform at Austin High school, 231 North Pine avenue.

RUTH H. WARD, 17, SPORTS EDITOR'S DAUGHTER, DIES

Ruth Helen Ward, daughter of Arch Ward, sports editor of THE TRIBUNE, died yesterday in Presbyterian hospital in New York City. She was 17 years old.

She died after an operation Saturday for a diabetic complication, from which she had been critically ill since September. She had suffered from diabetes since she was 11, and had been in Passavant hospital here all fall.

She was born in Rockford and came to Chicago with her parents, Mr. Ward and the former Helen Carey, in 1925. She was in the senior class at St. Scholastica's academy. Surviving, besides her parents, is a brother, Thomas.

The body will rest in the chapel at 5501 North Ashland avenue from tomorrow until Friday. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Friday in St. Hilary's church, California and Bryn Mawr avenues, with burial in All Saints' cemetery. Bishop Bernard J. Sheil will preach the funeral sermon.

LAUDS HOSPITAL INSURANCE PLANS FOR THE LOW PAID

Provision for low income groups must be made in hospital insurance plans and only the actually indigent persons sent to public institutions, Dr. S. S. Goldwater, New York City commissioner of hospitals, said last night. He spoke before the Chicago Hospital council meeting in the Blackstone hotel.

Private hospitals are facing extinction if not given greater support, he warned. He asserted that government subsidies will cause their death, just as surely as will lack of public support. The extension of such insurance as the Plan for Hospital Care can save hospitals, he said.

Dr. Goldwater listed numerous advantages of private hospitals and said that the private hospitals have contributed a great deal to forcing the public institutions into material improvements for the use of doctors. The public institution clears the private hospital field of cases such as chronic illnesses and tuberculosis, he said.

Looking at Hollywood
By Ed Sullivan

Behind the Scenes

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 15.—There is no place in southern California that bears so many resemblances to Hollywood as the racetrack at Santa Anita, because both are predicated on showmanship and gambling instinct. A motion picture producer investing $1,000,000 in a picture is not so far removed as you might think from a racetrack bettor risking $2 on a 10 to 1 shot. They both expect to win enormous returns on the original speculations, and both of them draw about the same number of blanks.

The motion picture producer has for aids a director, writers, a photographer, a set designer, actors and actresses and their past performances. The $2 bettor has the experts supplied by the newspapers and the racing papers, he has hunches, he has a jockey and he has a horse and he, too, has past performances. The implements are different, but both of them, producer and bettor, have an abiding belief in their ability to pick a winner. Wet weather complicates matters for both of them: Rain hurts theater business and thus cuts down the profits of the producer; rain hurts the $2 bettor because he then must distinguish between mudders and non-mudders—that is, horses that can stride well in sloppy, heavy, slow or muddy going.

There is no more pleasant place in the world where a producer can be separated from his bankers' bankroll than Hollywood, an indolent paradise. By the same reasoning, there is no more pleasant spot in the world where a $2 bettor can be separated from his $2 than Santa Anita. The racetrack where the movie stars and the movie fans congregate occupies the flat of the Santa Anita valley, and for a purplish background there are the Sierra Madre mountains, the loftiest peaks of which are snow-capped. North of the track are the iron rails which carry passengers and freight eastward and occasionally you can see the silvered streamlined trains speeding along. Often, above the streamliners, you sight the silver transport planes flashing in the sun as they, too, head east.

Before the notes of the bugle have died away the thorobreds have come mincing to the track from the saddling area. . . . The sun delineates the colors of the horses—chestnuts, blacks, browns, grays—and shines hotly on the arched necks and quivering nostrils. Insinuating their small bodies into the motion of the horses are the jockeys, bedecked in the silken jackets that are every shade of the aurora borealis. One has a scarlet red blouse, three gold chains front and back, and a red cap. The next has a white silk blouse, with green cross sashes, gold star front and back, green stripes on sleeves, green cap. The third has a blue silk blouse, with gold sleeves and a blue and gold cap. There is one with an old rose blouse and gold sash, gold collar and gold cuffs. Burnt orange, yellow, cerise, red and white diamonds, red triangles, aquamarine, turquoise blue—a field going to the post explores every inch of the spectrum.

It is a fundamental of the American way of living that all men are created equal. The racetrack is less hypocritical: All thorobreds are created equal, but when they come to the racetrack, they are graded in value in proportion to performances. I have seen one of Man O' War's sons running in a $1,500 claiming race, and yet his brother, on the same day, might have been racing in a $10,000 stake race at Saratoga. They were created equal, but by some unexplained reason, one was touched with greatness, the other with mediocrity. There is an old fallacy that blood will tell. It should be amended to read: "Blood will tell, with luck." . . . It's the same with human beings.

Now the gates are sprung electrically at the starter's signal and the horses explode into the open, moving so fast that the silk blouses are a blur of color. Bred for racing, the horses need no encouragement to strain every muscle and sinew as the pack heads for the first turn. Often a jockey is thrown at the start, and yet the racing instinct is so strongly bred that the riderless horse will continue the race all the way around the track. At New Orleans, Black Gold, Kentucky Derby winner, broke a rear leg and yet continued gamely to hobble to the finish line.

As in everyday life, the horse leading at the start, or even the three-quarter way mark, is rarely the winner. Out of the churning pack comes a horse with a late bid for victory. The tiring leaders can't stand off this new challenge and he pokes his white flecked chest in front. Then behind him, another horse leaps in pursuit, and another. Now the wide track is full of hurtling bodies and the jockeys can be seen lashing at tiring horses with whips. The roar of the crowd has become bedlam. Determining factors in that final charge to the wire are the weight of the jockey, the expertness of the jockey, and the gameness and fitness of the horse.

Some horses, like humans, quit under pressure. Some horses, like humans, seem to be at their best when the chips are down and the goal only a few strides ahead. It is the oldest spectacle in the world and yet it always is thrilling—this duel that produces champions and what the racetrack calls "also rans."

The only consolation to all of us is that the history of the world, like the history of racing, owes as much if not more to the also rans, because we outnumber, if we do not out-finish, the champions.

Mrs. Cavenaugh New President of Service Club

BY JUDITH CASS.

MRS. ROBERT CAVENAUGH was elected president of the Service club yesterday at the annual meeting held at noon at the Arts club. Miss Emily Goehst, who has directed the activities of the club for the last year, had refused to accept reëlection, but she now is a member of the board of 39 directors.

Miss Peggy Sargent was reëlected first vice president; Miss Barbara Emerson, recording secretary; Mrs. Edwin Sims Jr., treasurer, and Mrs. Richard Vanderwarker, production manager of the annual revue.

The other new officers are: Second vice president, Mrs. Peter Fortune, and corresponding secretary, Miss Dorothy Herbst. New board members are Miss Barbara Behrens, Miss Mary Louise Burgess, Mrs. C. Bradford Carpenter, Miss Joyce Cavenaugh, a niece of the new president's husband; Mrs. Frank O. Elliott, Miss Lucile Freeman, Mrs. Paul Loeber Jr., Miss Meredith Manning, and Miss Elizabeth Stenson.

Mrs. Philip K. Wrigley, Mrs. John J. Mitchell, and Mrs. Paul Walker, who have been directors for more years than they care to remember, probably, but who would be so sorely missed that they never will be permitted to resign, were reëlected, of course.

Composer Will Attend Chamber Concert Today.

Thornvald Otterstrom, Danish composer, will be the especial guest at this morning's concert of the Russian Trio at the Arts club. The trio will present the world premiere of a Bach trio transcribed from a sonata for viola da gamba and piano by Mr. Otterstrom. A new violinist, Hans Meunzer, will succeed Herman Felber in the trio.

Mr. Otterstrom will be a guest of the board of the Chamber Music society at luncheon following the concert.

College Friends Will Attend Buck Wedding.

Altho Miss Caroline Buck and Frederick D. Sauter will have a small wedding on Saturday, several of Miss Buck's Vassar classmates will be here for the ceremony. It is to be performed at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. Herbert L. Willett at the home of the bride's parents, the Nelson L. Bucks of Evanston.

Miss Katherine Eaton will come from her home in Pittsburgh; Miss Margaret Wrightington from Lexington, Mass.; Miss Suzanne Tobler from New Haven, Conn.; Miss Eleanor Beattie from Utica, N. Y.; Mrs. Dudley Dommerich from Greenwich, Conn., and Miss Marian Schriber from Oshkosh, Wis.

Mrs. Winthrop M. Robinson of Winnetka will be her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids will be Mrs. Richard Cragg, Miss Marian Klink, and Miss Jane Hoover.

Allen Sauter will be his brother's best man. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Sauter of Chicago. Ushering will be the bridegroom's Princeton classmates, Homer Dixon, Charles Dering, Barton Cameron, Thomas Beers, Robert Upham Jr., and Thomas Werbe of Indianapolis.

Tomkinson-Robinson Nuptials to Be Saturday.

Several Chicagoans will go to Akron, O., for the wedding on Saturday of Miss Helen Louise Tomkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Tomkinson, to McMillan Robinson, son of Mrs. William H. Barnes of Evanston. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will attend with his mother, Mrs. Charles O. Barnes of Evanston, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Barnes of Wilmette.

William Barnes will be best man. The bridegroom's brother, Dudley Robinson, will share ushering duties with Pierre Bouscaren and E. David Coolidge. Mrs. Richard H. Mandell of Cambridge, Mass., the bridegroom's sister, will be a bridesmaid.

Alliance Francaise Will Hold Benefit.

The Alliance Française has planned a benefit card party and fashion show for the afternoon of Jan. 30 at the Casino. Miss Anne Morgan, who is to be the especial guest, will make a short talk. Mrs. Ralph James is chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Charles S. Dewey as vice chairman. Mme. René Weiller, wife of the French consul-general, and Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine are the honorary chairmen.

Mrs. James H. Winston is chairman of the committee disposing of bridge tables. Mrs. Edward Byron Smith is chairman of the fashion show. Mrs. Harry Dingman is in charge of the tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Babst of New York have issued invitations to the marriage on Feb. 3 of their daughter, Alice Edwina, and George Payne Bent of Chicago. The ceremony will take place at 4 o'clock in the chapel of St. Bartholomew's church, New York. A reception will follow at 4:30 o'clock in the ballroom of the Colony club. Mr. Bent and his bride will live in Chicago.

The Rev. and Mrs. John H. Hauser became the parents of a son on Saturday at the Presbyterian hospital. He will be named John Odell Hauser II. for his grandfather, who lives in Merwood, Pa. The Hausers have a 3 year old daughter, Virginia. Mr. Hauser is the assistant rector at St. Chrysostom's church.

When you buy or make whole wheat bread which contains no white flour at all, you do not expect, and you do not get, a loaf which is light in texture. White flour lends the lightness.

Home made whole wheat bread usually contains some white flour. Any good white bread recipe may be used to make whole wheat bread, with a fourth to a half of the flour replaced with the dark kind.

This recipe, from my new booklet, "Better Homemade Breads and Rolls" [23 cents, by mail], is an excellent one. It makes two rather small loaves of exceedingly good whole wheat bread.

Whole Wheat Bread.

[2 loaves.]
1 cup scalded milk
2 cakes compressed yeast
1 cup lukewarm water
1½ tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon melted shortening
3 cups white flour
3 cups whole wheat flour

Scald the milk and cool it to lukewarm. Soften yeast in a small amount of the water and add with remaining water to the milk. Add sugar, salt, and shortening. Add flour, working it in thoroly. Turn the dough out onto a floured board and knead for 10 minutes, or until the dough is smooth and elastic, and does not stick at all to the board. Round up, place in a greased bowl, brush lightly with melted fat and cover the bowl with a plate and then a towel. Let stand in a fairly warm place, free from draughts, until dough has risen to double bulk. Punch gas from dough by plunging the fist into it. Fold over the edges, turn upside down, and let rise a second time until half again its original size. Flatten dough on a floured board and cut in half. Mold each half into a ball, cover and let stand for 15 minutes. Shape into loaves and place in two small greased bread pans. Cover and let stand until well risen. Bake at 400 degrees about 45 minutes.

Whole wheat rolls now and then are welcomed by any family. They may be made from any good roll recipe, substituting whole wheat flour for a part of the white flour called for. Whole wheat orange rolls are delicious. This recipe, also from our new booklet, may be used for plain or orange rolls.

Whole Wheat Refrigerator Rolls.

[3 dozen.]
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup fat
1 tablespoon salt
2 cups milk
2 cakes compressed yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
2 eggs
5 cups white flour [about]
2 cups whole wheat flour

Add sugar, fat, and salt to milk and heat to scalding. Cool to lukewarm and add yeast, which has been softened in lukewarm water. Add beaten eggs and three cups of flour. Beat until smooth. Add remaining flour and beat well. This is a soft dough. Place in greased bowl, cover closely, and leave in the refrigerator overnight, or until ready to use. Let come to room temperature. Shape dough into small balls and place three in each section of greased muffin pans. Let rise until double and bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

To make orange rolls, shape two balls to the muffin pan, and place a teaspoonful of orange marmalade between them. Let rise and bake as described.

Refrigerator doughs are softer and contain more sugar than doughs which are to be made into rolls the same day they are mixed. The recipe for plain bread rolls on page 18 of "Better Homemade Breads and Rolls" is an excellent one to use with part whole wheat flour. This is the recipe to choose for "same day" rolls.

Jussi Bjoerling, who is due to sing here at a Finnish benefit to be held at the Civic Opera house next Sunday, is telling a new version of the old "I milk elk" yarn.

The story is the one about the woman interviewing an applicant for a maid's job—a girl recently arrived from Europe—and asking her if she could cook, clean, do laundry work, to all of which the applicant answered no. Finally, in despair, the housewife inquired: "Well, what can you do?"

"I can assemble a machine gun," was the prompt reply.

When Rachmaninoff Laughed.

Sergei Rachmaninoff must have been pleased with the size and enthusiasm of the audience that packed the Auditorium Sunday in the Northwestern university series, and one remembered the comment once made by Dr. Stock after Rachmaninoff had played with the Chicago Symphony orchestra. William Darrow had asked Dr. Stock afterward if Rachmaninoff had not been pleased by his reception.

"Well, he almost cracked a smile," answered Stock.

The great Russian pianist lost his reputation for solemnity of countenance at a recent function in New York, presented and attended by the musically great of the world. It was a benefit for the Chatham School of Music, and in the skits presented the actors were Horowitz, Feuermann, Tibbett, Toscanini, Milstein, Mischakoff, Wallenstein, and other musical geniuses. Chicagoans present were Pianist Gitta Gradova and her husband, Dr. Maurice H. Cottle. There was one skit in which applicants were applying for entrance to a music school, the applicants being Horowitz dressed as a foolish lad, Feuermann in a Tyrolean costume, Heifetz as a hillbilly, Tibbett as an aspiring opera singer.

"Have you had any experience singing before the public?" asked Samuel Chotzinoff, who was interviewing the applicants.

"No," answered Tibbett, "only at the Metropolitan."

That was one of the points at which Rachmaninoff is reported to have laughed so heartily he almost fell off his chair.

Attacks State's Failure to Get Children's Aid

More than 45,000 needy children in Illinois are denied help which might preserve their homes because the state legislature has failed to pass legislation enabling federal aid. Illinois pays all federal taxes that other states pay, but money taken from Illinois is never returned to Illinois' dependent children. It is distributed, instead, to 40 other states and Hawaii.

This charge was made yesterday by Chauncey McCormick, president of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, at its annual meeting at the Palmer House. Mr. McCormick declared that a bill to aid dependent children failed to pass in the last session of the legislature.

"Either from ignorance or indifference," Mr. McCormick continued, "citizens, who have already been taxed for this purpose, must shoulder this great unnecessary burden."

"Ever since 1936," he added, "the federal government has been ready to give our children the assistance we help pay for in other states and asks only that the proper enabling legislation be passed at Springfield."

"Once Illinois is qualified under federal regulations, this state can receive federal grants on a 50-50 basis to match the money now being spent in Illinois for dependent children, a sum of approximately 7 million dollars a year."

Mr. McCormick urged more careful selection of personnel in the state welfare department, where, he charged, standards are not as high as in the animal husbandry department.

"There are many exceptions, of course," he said, "but many employés in the welfare department are chosen for political reasons rather than their ability to deal with welfare problems."

The annual report, read by Mabbett K. Reckord, general director of the society, disclosed that 2,029 needy children were cared for during the year. Of that number 188 were kept in their own or relatives' homes, and 794 were placed in boarding homes. Only 104 were placed in adoption homes.

Lack of funds forced the society temporarily to discontinue taking new children in the early summer. Despite the curtailment of its service, more than 604,000 days' care were given during the year, and advice and information were given regarding 1,930 children not accepted for care.

Figty-six per cent of the society's aid goes to boys, and 44 per cent of its attention is directed to youths older than 14. Only 7 per cent of its children are under two years. The society has operated its state-wide service to children for 57 years.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

I like Don Ameche, Andrea Leeds, technicolor, southern songs, and minstrel shows. But I couldn't greatly care for "Swanee River," which features them all.

This movie version of the life of Stephen Foster has been made with too much dog. It's not nearly so convincing—or appealing—as a "short" on the same subject which I saw not so awfully long ago.

According to this tale, the struggles of the young genius against poverty and disbelief are not of long duration. . . . His sale of "O Suzanna" to Minstrel Man Christy, for the measly sum of $15, turns out to be a first step on the road to success.

Christy, having profited mightily by the number, looks up the young composer, who has fumed and fretted no end over, his folly in disposing of the ballad. Christy, laid low by a punch in the jaw from the composer, rises to bail his assailant out of jail and offer him the job of music composer for Christy's minstrels.

Money pours in. . . . Foster marries the girl of his heart and maintains her in luxury until drink—and a bad heart—bring about disaster.

The picture ends on a heart warming tribute to Foster by Christy—and an audience which had come to jeer and remains to weep—and applaud.

The picture is pleasingly acted and effectively backgrounded. The music, of course, is lovely. But the film's too long, too saccharine and, variously, just a little too, too . . .

See you tomorrow.

Spring Prints Introduce New Color Pairings

BY RHEA SEEGER.

A preview of early spring prints reveals a brand new trend in color contrast and design. Red with yellow looks just as revolutionary as it sounds. Red backgrounds are liberally spattered with yellow floral patterns, red jackets top clear yellow dresses, red dots pepper yellow backgrounds, and the same ideas in reverse make some of the most sensational mixups ever featured.

Dots come "in" each spring, but this year you'll find all the daring color contrasts, chartreuse on navy, black on cinnamon brown, pink with green, gray on yellow, and so on with every size of dot from the pinpoint to the 50 cent piece diameter.

Navy blue with red dots, with green, delft blue, gold and white dots will probably make record sales, for navy blue is high fashion in all fabrics. Red and yellow, then all shades of green come along in next place in the fashion parade.

The newest pattern excitement will be the many prints of bowknots, unquestionably the most feminine design ever used. Small, coquettish bows, many of medium sizes, and the huge flamboyant effects for evening gowns will come in every delicate and strong color against dark or light backgrounds. Some of the knots will be in garland formation, others just hit and miss all-over effects and some will be used with small dots between the ribbon bows and long ends.

Daytime dresses with this bowknot design will be unusually flattering, with the newest, more flattering and feminine hats. Even the hats will have bowknots in ribbon or velvet. Lingeries are something else that will have bowknot trim. It should be the most interesting and different print news of the season to come.

Ringling Furniture Goes on Sale in New York Today

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

Tho this winter hasn't been a severe one, the complaints about bath itch and uncomfortably dry skin pour in as usual. More and more people want to find lotions to be used after the bath—always with the stipulation that these lotions, while helpful in replenishing the oil that vanishes in cold weather, must not be sticky or greasy.

There are several of these products on the market now. The demand has created a good supply in the last few years. An outstanding one, in our opinion, is a "hand and body balm" that's one of the best winter beauty aids we know of.

This is the consistency of a liquid cream, faintly yellowish in color and with almost no perfume. It's rich in soothing oils, but is absorbed quite promptly into the skin and doesn't leave it greasy. It's an excellent hand lotion, a protective and soothing body lotion and, we have found, a good foot lotion. And it's amazingly inexpensive. There are a 16 ounce and six ounce sizes, and the large one is a great bargain.

This balm is so rich and creamy you must use it sparingly. Work it into the skin of elbows, arms, knees, and legs and you'll never be bothered with chapping on those areas during cold weather. You'll find, as a matter of fact, that the skin there becomes soft and smooth. If you are a victim of bath itch use it all over the body after you bathe. Massage it in well. It won't leave a sticky film that will soil clothing.

One mother we know, whose children's knees and hands were always chapped in winter, has trained the youngsters to use this daily. It's inexpensive enough to be used lavishly, and it's wonderfully efficient as a protective as well as a remedy.

On the House

For those who are building this year there are firesafe possibilities for concrete floors in a home, especially a first floor of the house, which are well worth investigating. You can, of course, have the concrete colored and marked into patterns and brought to a high polish. Or you can have any type of hardwood floor laid over the concrete. Or, if you prefer, floors of linoleum, rubber tile, cork or asphalt tile can be laid. While pads, placed between your floor finishing material and the concrete will eliminate noise under foot and afford comfortable walking!

The Girl in the Shadows

By Roy Vickers

[Copyright: 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

On the eve of her marriage, Cynthia Brentiford, fashion artist, is sentenced to 18 months in prison under the name of Clara Brown—an innocent accomplice with Rory Clarke in crime. Unaware of the disaster, her fiancé, Michael Alloway, is on his way from Malta for the wedding. At Honeybyker, Cynthia's childhood playmate, Bessie Stockley, is a prison wardress. Bessie manages to take Cynthia's place and let Cynthia slip out in the guise of a wardress on a two weeks' leave. Cynthia marries Michael with his mother and sister Marion present. After a stolen fortnight of happiness, Cynthia persuades Michael to go back to Malta alone, pretending she has to have an operation and will join him later. Rory Clarke blackmails her. Back in prison, Cynthia discovers she is going to have a baby. Her only help—Bessie—has been transferred, but Cynthia is determined not to have her child born in prison.

INSTALLMENT VIII.

THE SOLICITOR.

Rory Clarke! In a neat mustache and Victorian side whiskers! Got up, furthermore, in a morning coat, his silk hat on the table beside a brief bag. A perfect stage representation of a young solicitor in a prosperous firm.

Cynthia was too dazed to acknowledge the kindly nod the chaplain gave her as he left the room, shutting the door behind him. How on earth had the man swaggered himself into that prison? And why?

Both questions, did she but know it, had a comparatively simple answer.

Clarke, tho a rash fool without sense of right and wrong, was, in an almost monkey way, highly intelligent and he had soon solved the mystery of Cynthia's recent escape. The girl had gone to prison—next, she had incredibly broken prison—and then, with his own eyes, he had seen her return to the prison as a wardress. They could be only one explanation, the true one, and he had found it. He had burgled the flat and had there found the checks made out to Bessie Stockley. He had traced her to Aylesbury and extorted a confession, together with the contents of Bessie's postoffice savings' account, and had compelled her to cash the checks for £10 each.

Even with this money he had to lie low until a successful robbery of a girl carrying the wages of a small factory had placed him in full funds. Then a little cleverness with notepaper and addresses had enabled him to approach the home office as a solicitor and to obtain the necessary permit.

"Well, Miss Brown, I've had an offer for the cottage and the paddock ——" he began while his eyes mocked her.

"Why have you come here?" she whispered.

"Business. Everybody believes I'm a pukka solicitor but you. Won't you congratulate me?"

The man was incredible. A beast of prey—and yet, in some queer way, a playboy. A murderer—and yet more of a gambler than a criminal.

"Suppose I were to tell them who you are?" she challenged.

"You won't, because you'd do yourself a bit of harm and my—er—execution would not really be a recompense. To be frank, I have come here at considerable inconvenience and no little risk——" this in the solicitor's voice, for the man could never stop play acting—"to remind you, my dear Miss Brown, that at our last meeting you were good enough to think of lending me a little capital."

Two upright chairs had been provided and Cynthia dropped into one, her elbows on the table.

"I'm not going to pay you anything to keep my secret," she said firmly, "because if I'm in here another week it's bound to be found out."

"O, the secret of your identity. Quite so. But there's another little secret, isn't there, that you share with Miss Stockley, at present at Aylesbury?"

So the brute was threatening to betray Bessie. Cynthia nearly wilted. But she collected her wits.

"I am worth more to you outside this place than in it."

"That had crossed my mind. Those clothes certainly don't let you do yourself justice. Speak on, beautiful."

"Get me out of here and I'll give you £500."

"It had crossed my mind," he repeated. "I have a friend who has paid several visits here—in my business one has to know all sorts of people." From the immaculate morning coat was produced a folded sheet of paper which he spread out, showing a rough pencil sketch of the courtyard.

He indicated a point—an embrasure in the wall within 30 yards of the checking room, the very spot where Cynthia had decided she could hide and wait for a rope ladder and "the gang"—and here was the gang. And the gang would no doubt provide a rope ladder.

"I can get there any day at a few minutes before 4, she whispered. "And I could probably wait there without any one knowing, until a few minutes to 6."

Clarke folded the paper away again.

"No elaborate plan. No fellow conspirators. A personal tour de force—a simple stratagem that succeeds by the brilliance of its own daring," he declared, working up his own enthusiasm.

"And you'll bring a rope ladder?"

"Two rope ladders. You go up the first and leave it. Down the second and leave it. I shall be in a car at the bottom. Have you ever seen a rope ladder?"

"No."

"Put your hands up as high as you can reach. If you don't, the thing will bunch on you. You'll graze your knuckles and your knees, but you'll have to stick it. As your head shows above that brickwork you'll probably be seen. There will then be about 10 seconds to get down. If you stick on the top, or don't get down smartly, I shall drive off and leave you. Sorry to be so brusque, beautiful, but you do understand, don't you?"

Cynthia nodded. There was something faintly exciting to her in his speech in spite of the repugnance she felt for his personality.

"If I don't do my part I shan't blame you for not doing yours," she told him.

"If you come unstuck and I don't its 250 for me," said Clarke. "They'll let you write a check here on the application of your solicitor."

"Agreed," said Cynthia. She could not afford to refuse. "When is it to be?"

"At once, or your nerve will fail. Tomorrow afternoon about 5. Its Halloween. That's a good omen. We shall be lucky."

"Tomorrow at 5, and my nerve won't fail," said Cynthia.

"O course it won't! I oughtn't to have said that. Do forgive me, beautiful. It must have taken the devil of a lot of nerve to work the Stockley trick. We are both infinitely clever and infinitely daring. We shall succeed in anything in which we are really working together."

"I'm not clever, but I think I can tell you how to consolidate your identity here. Have you got £10?"

He nodded as if reluctantly.

"Pay it to the prison authorities before you leave. Say that you are paying it on my behalf for expenses. I needn't explain why because, as my solicitor, you need not know the real reason. But it will convince them that the man who saw me this afternoon really was my solicitor."

"Hm! Ten pounds is a lot of money. And I don't believe in taking precautions—they're unlucky. On the other hand, its unlucky to cross a pal, so I'll do as you say. Better go now, beautiful. Till tomorrow."

The Alloways had what is commonly called a "nice little place" in Devon on the fringe of Exmoor. A dozen acres and a 17th century manor which looked as if it had come off a Christmas card. Actually, it was a bit of a problem, for it had to be run with two servants and a daily cleaner from the village. But all the Alloways loved it, so they found plenty of excuses for not selling it.

That first letter of Cynthia's had caused a flutter.

"My dear Mrs. Alloway. It's simply awful, but I shall not be able to sail with Michael. Yesterday morning Dr. Treadgrove, an old friend of mine, discovered that I've appendicitis."

Is Your Child Gifted? Then Use Caution

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you suspect that you have a gifted child you may be interested in these facts:

When a boy shows great ability in drawing or a girl is talented musically, in ordinary conversation we say, "What a gifted child." That is, we use the expression when a child shows a special aptitude chiefly along artistic lines. But when the term "gifted child" is used by the psychologist and educator it means only gifted intellectually, mentally brilliant or superior. If a child is 8 years old and has a mentality of 11 or 12, he is in this gifted class. These children are discovered by testing intellectual achievement.

Another interesting fact that research reveals is that there are as many children well above average as there are below. Perhaps the reason we have not realized this is because for so many years our energies were devoted to caring for the subnormal. It was not deemed important to give special opportunity to the especially bright. In the last 15 years or so we have awakened to the fact that the brilliant child needs an education fitted to him in order to develop him fully, not only for his own good, but for the good of this world we live in. We need leaders in thought and action.

The mentally superior child usually evinces early in life an interest in the exact meaning of words and in numbers. I have had most interesting examples of this. I have seen young children start a sentence, find that its construction was not going to express perfectly their meaning, and go back and begin all over again, deliberately recasting the form to convey precisely what they meant.

I have also seen young children almost as soon as they learned the value of various coins do mental gymnastics with quarters and dimes and dollars. And later toss large numbers about long before they could really "do arithmetic"—I mean such things as "a thousand thousand makes a million, don't they?" or "a half of a million is the same as five hundred thousand, isn't it?"

The bright child is drawn to dictionaries and encyclopedias.

He is often the youngest in his class.

He does not talk or think loosely. What his mind does it does with precision.

He sees many sides of a question and as Dr. Hollingworth says, will frequently use the expression, "that depends."

He usually learns to tell time with ease much earlier than other children and with great accuracy. At 6 or 7 or earlier he will be interested in calendars, asking questions about them and about clocks in general.

A more general indication of his mental superiority is the character of the questions he asks.

Girls Finding Hospitality Is Unrewarded

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"We are a group of girls who are getting weary of being always on the nonreceiving end of things from boys. And believe us when we say we're no gold diggers. We're not out for big gifts or big money spending on us. Just regulars, us.

"Well, we invite these boys places time after time. We have to or we'd be sitting home twiddling our thumbs. They readily grab at the invitations, too, showing they are not reluctant to spend time in our company. They're nice enough kids, as boys go nowadays, from nice families and all that. But you know what happens? They smoke our cigarets, drink our drinks, eat our sandwiches night after night and admit it's all fine but never do the dummies think of putting their hands in their pockets to spend a dime. And there must be dimes there some of the time.

"WE FOUR GIRLS."

How about it, boys? Do you think you're doing enough for the girls endowing them with your charming company? It may be all of that, too! Apparently the girls like you or they wouldn't keep on inviting you to their affairs.

Try some time contributing something beside your company, nice as it may be. The girls won't tell you that that's what you ought to do, but we're telling you.

Now Amazing Proved Hygienic Protection for Married Women

Thousands upon thousands of women have now learned to use a sensational, scientific discovery for hygienic purposes. This boon to womankind is not a poison, yet actually kills germs at contact. It is called Zonite, and its action is amazing when used for feminine hygiene. It instantly kills germs and bacteria on contact, yet it is proved safe—will not harm delicate tissues. And Zonite deodorizes—assures daintiness. Helps keep one fresh, clean and pure. So successful has

Lucy Monroe Thrills W-G-N Radio Audience

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

Lucy Monroe, vivid soprano of the operatic stage, captivated a radio studio audience of 600 persons who filled the auditorium of W-G-N last night to hear the station's weekly Pageant of Melody. The program, directed by Henry Weber, conductor of the W-G-N Concert orchestra, starred Attilio Baggiore, with Miss Monroe as guest artist. It was heard over the Mutual Broadcasting company's nation-wide network.

From the moment she entered the stage, a slender young beauty with long dark curls brushing the shoulders of her flame chiffon gown, the audience was hers. Her first song was Juliet's Waltz song from Gounod's "Romeo and Juliet," and as she reached the climax, a sustained high C, a middle aged man in the front row shared her triumph.

"On the head!" he whispered rapturously if unmusically. "Boy, she's good!"

Miss Monroe appeared four times, first to sing the Juliet aria, then the persuasive Micaela aria from "Carmen," with Baggiore as Don Jose, and again with Baggiore, the chorus, and W-G-N Concert orchestra in Sigmund Romberg's "Wanting You," from "The New Moon." Then, unannounced, she returned to join with the studio audience in the national anthem at the end of the program.

The evening was not altogether Miss Monroe's. Baggiore, familiar to W-G-N audiences, won generous acclaim with his own solo, "In Fernem Land," from Wagner's "Lohengrin," and the ingratiating music of the concert orchestra under Weber's baton was welcomed with a tumult of applause.

The orchestra first played the flowing first movement of Mendelssohn's "Italian Symphony," then the swirling "Perpetuum Mobile," a Johann Strauss melody; then Lencona's "Andalucia," and finally a rollicking interpretation of Rimsky-Korsakov's "Dance of the Tumblers."

Weber left the conductor's stand to take his place at the piano, accompanying the orchestra and chorus in an air by Adolph Hoffman, principal cellist with the concert orchestra. It was entitled "Farewell."

Pianist Britten Well Liked in Own Concerto

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Yesterday was British day in Chicago music. Benjamin Britten, English composer and pianist, made his American concert debut in the Blackstone theater last night, playing his own concerto with the Illinois Symphony orchestra under Albert Goldberg's direction.

In the afternoon Joseph Victor Laderoute, Canadian tenor, gave his first Chicago recital at the Woman's Athletic club under Musicians Club of Women auspices.

Mr. Britten—tall, slim, and 26—is as English as rain. His music, however, indicates that he has been influenced not only by such of his own compatriots as John Ireland but also by schools and composers outside his own country.

The concerto has a patness, lightness, verve and humor more suggestive of France or even of Russia than of England. This is not meant to imply that Mr. Britten has slavishly imitated any one or anything but merely to indicate that in the expression of his own vigorous ideas he was influenced by the modes current in various parts of the world.

The audience liked the concerto's quaint, out-of-focus melodies, its pungent but never extravagant harmonic touches, its odd, percussive rhythms, and the free, almost improvisatory character of the whole. The audience also liked Mr. Britten's competent, off-hand manner of playing, and gave him quite an ovation at the end.

Mr. Laderpute's afternoon recital programmed Handl, Bach, Schumann, Schubert, and a modern and near modern miscellany. An easily produced voice of remarkable range and hornlike beauty of tone is combined in this happy artist with that natural musical sense which makes phrasings and colorings come right almost automatically. Mr. Laderpute's singing had directness and simplicity and great communicative power.

The recital of Tito Schipa, scheduled for the Civic Opera house on Jan. 27, has been indefinitely postponed.

The Housewife

"The Play's the Thing" is the name given to an intriguing, smart new display of lamps for the home. Each model is shown in an appropriate setting, a vignette of a room, as it were, and each is inspired by a current theatrical success.

"Du Barry was a Lady" shows an enormous rose glass lamp with a rose silk shade decorated with rows and rows of white lace ruffles.

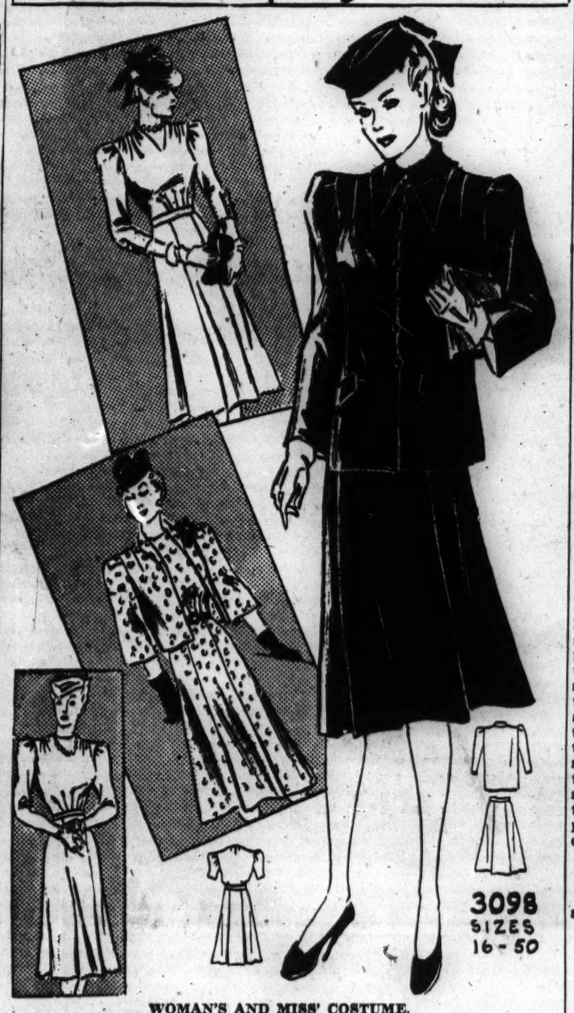
Wearable Spring Costume



WOMAN'S AND MISS' COSTUME.

There's plenty of wear in this versatile costume, which consists of a one piece dress with long or three-quarter length sleeves, and a jacket to match or contrast. The illustration suggests some schemes you might like.

The dress may have a V or round neckline, and its shoulders are deftly shirred. Above the snug waistline are sunburst tucks to soften the bodice lines. The paneled skirt is moderately flared. As for the jacket, it may be in the unusual hip length and buttoned down the front, or it may swing freely and extend only to the waistline. Its sleeve length is optional. Crêpe, plain or printed, and sheer woolen are the best choices for this slenderizing costume.

Style No. 3098 is designed for size 16 and for 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 5 yards of 39 inch material for dress and jacket combination; 3½ yards for dress with three-quarter sleeves.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

For 15 cents buy the winter Chicago Tribune book of Clotilde Fashions, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Towers; 10 cents if ordered with a pattern. Address mail orders to the New York address above.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

One of the most effective defensive coups in bridge is the holdup of an honor to make the declarer believe that a second finesse will succeed, the first one having apparently succeeded. The value of this coup is enhanced by the great number and variety of opportunities that occur for its use. In today's hand this stratagem defeated a vulnerable slam.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	1 heart	2 clubs	Pass
2 spades	Pass	3 diamonds	Pass
4 diamonds	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
6 diamonds	Pass	Pass	Pass

West would have liked to rebid his club suit, but over East's two spades was afraid to do so because failure to show a preference between diamonds and spades would have conveyed the impression of a complete misfit. West's following four heart bid was, of course, a control showing device. The fact that it was not bid sooner guarded against an assumption by East that West had a very big hand.

Despite West's bidding claim of first round heart control, South could find no better opening lead than the heart king. Dummy ruffed with the four of diamonds. Next the diamond jack was led and passed. Declarer would have been glad to lose to the queen then and there, since he still had a trump left in dummy to stop a heart return. But South was able to divine that very hope, and without a flicker of hesitation played low to the jack of diamonds.

Declarer "fell" for the ruse, jumping to the superficially persuasive theory that North had the queen of trumps, probably thrice guarded originally. So he took another finesse and was horrified to see South pounce on the trick with his queen and cash the setting heart trick.

South's stratagem deserved full credit in that no other play could have been successful, but the declarer still deserved a black mark, not for failing to see the trap, but for failing to make an obvious safety play. His safest course, by far, would have been to finesse originally to his own 10 and, when both opponents followed, to have ruffed his remaining heart in the dummy, then to return to a high spade in his own hand and lay down the ace, king, and, if necessary, a small trump to force the queen. After that nothing but a 4-0 club division plus failure to locate the spade queen could defeat his slam contract.

RUPERT HUGHES is one of the greatest figures of American contemporary literature. Novelist, playwright, biographer of George Washington, composer and sculptor—his talents are apparently boundless. For a long while, Mr. Hughes has averaged a novel a year and has written many short stories. His latest work—"Attorney for the People"—was published less than two weeks ago—and promises to be a BEST SELLER.

RUPERT HUGHES SAYS..

"There's a Jiggs and Maggie on every Main Street in the U.S.A."

"For more than 25 years," says Rupert Hughes, "I have been keeping in touch with Jiggs and his Maggie in Bringing Up Father and found it as irresistibly fascinating as spying on my neighbors — though none of them lead as incessantly funny or fantastic lives as the stormy couple pictured by the jovial George McManus. The comic-page people portrayed by him and other geniuses make up an American folk-lore."

comedy and high adventure are among the most widely known and best-loved personalities of our day—Skippy, Tillie the Toiler, Blondie, Jiggs and Maggie, Flash Gordon, Toots and Casper, Pop-Eye, Barney Google and the Katzenjammer Kids—to mention just a few.

In the entire field of literature, no "best seller" has ever enjoyed the vast continuous readership of Puck—The Comic Weekly. Its heroes of romance, of pathos, of Distributed through 15 great Sunday newspapers from coast to coast—Puck—the only national publication of its kind—has built the largest weekly reading audience on earth. The gifted men who contribute their skill and genius to Puck are among the highest paid literary talent in the world.

That is why Puck—The Comic Weekly—is eagerly read week after week by twenty million men, women and children in more than 5,500,000 homes—why it has proved time and again for advertisers to be the world's "Best Seller".

Puck circulation closely parallels the retail sales of the nation. 73% of its 5,500,000 circulation is concentrated in the 995 cities and towns of over 10,000 population where 70% of all retail sales are made.

TIGERS SALVAGE TROUT OUT OF BROKEN EMPIRE

Landis Reverses His Ruling on Pitcher.

More from Landis

THERE will be another bulletin issued at Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis' office today but it is presumed to cover only his interpretations of the rules pertaining to working agreements and player transfers between majors and minors. The minors recently requested the commissioner to give them a definite idea of just what he considered legal or illegal.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The picture of a $20,000 windfall conjured up by Paul Trout, Detroit Tiger pitcher, when he learned he was included in the list of 92 athletes awarded their free agency in the spectacular verdict handed down on Sunday by Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis, was shattered yesterday.

Trout, who before the ink was dry on the commissioner's bulletin, joyfully declared his liberation would mean $20,000, if not more, for his bank account, will not be able to sell his services to the best bidder.

Leslie O'Connor, the commissioner's secretary, announced yesterday that while Trout had been originally caught in Landis' net, he had been fished out and restored to the Detroit club roster. Belated discovery of papers proving he had not been shuffled illegally between Detroit and the latter's farm clubs was responsible for the correction.

Bidding Becomes Lively.

The alteration in the Trout case came hours after many of the big league clubs had opened negotiations not only with the pitcher, but with Roy Cullenbine and Benny McCoy, two other Tigers turned loose because the commissioner found, after months of investigation, that they, like 89 others in the Detroit farm system, had been the victims of "covering up." This is a ruse by which big league clubs, simply by failing to record player transfers or agreements with minor league clubs, maintain secret ownership of players, thus hampering the victims' possible advancement in the profession.

In his decision Commissioner Landis ruled that none of the liberated players can be signed for fifteen days from last Saturday, but there is no restriction on talking terms with the athlete during the interval. They cannot be re-signed by Detroit until after three years have elapsed. The Cubs, who were fined $1,000 for tampering with McCoy and Cullenbine, also are barred from the market in regard to these two. The St. Louis Browns, who were assessed $500 for approaching McCoy before he was made a free agent, are prohibited from negotiating with this player. The Cubs planned on bidding for Trout.

McCoy Favors White Sox.

McCoy, who will be the most sought of the Tiger pair, has declared his choice of employer for the immediate future to be James Dykes, the White Sox manager. Dykes is already on the young man's trail and will personally attend to the necessary bidding. The Cincinnati Reds also are in the market, not only with an eye on McCoy, but on Cullenbine as well. The 22 year old McCoy played 55 games at second base for the Tigers last season.

Connie Mack, veteran manager of the Athletics, said in Philadelphia he would make McCoy an attractive offer. Last December, at the major league meetings in Cincinnati, Mack made a conditional trade with the Tigers, giving up Outfielder Wally Moses for McCoy and Pitcher George Coffman. This deal was nullified by Landis' decree. Mack added that Moses would be sent a Philadelphia contract.

The Cubs' tampering with McCoy and Cullenbine consisted of long distance phone calls to the players from Clarence Rowland of the Chicago National league organization. Suspicious that there probably was tampering, as in the case of Bob Feller when it was thought he might be declared a free agent, Landis wangled the information of the phone calls from the players.

Galan Spurns Terms.

Along with the official notice from Landis of the $1,000 fine the Cubs' office received other disconcerting news yesterday. Augie Galan fired back his contract, accompanying it with a note informing the club he thought he was worth more than the salary offered. That makes him No. 4 on the list of balkers. Diz Dean and Hank Leiber have returned their papers. Clay Bryant hasn't returned his document, but has declared himself a candidate for bigger pay.

Commissioner Landis, who started on a vacation as soon as he had corrected the Detroit club's farm system, called a meeting of the baseball rules committee for Feb. 12 in Belleair, Fla. Each major league will be represented by its president and three others. The minors will be represented by Judge W. G. Bramham.

BOILERMAKERS TAKE LEAD AS MICHIGAN LOSES

Illini, Indiana, and Iowa Victors.

Columbus, O., Jan. 15 [Special].—Ohio State's defending Big Ten basketball champions shaded Northwestern, 32 to 31, tonight in a game in which the score was tied 11 times, six times in the first half. It was Ohio State's second Big Ten victory against two losses and the Wildcats' second defeat in four starts.

The Wildcats broke a 12-all tie with a minute to play in the first period when Dick Klein sank two sleeper shots to give Northwestern a 16 to 12 advantage at the half.

The Buckeyes came back strong in the second period and tied the score at 16 all on baskets by Jack McLain and John Schick. Klein's basket was matched by Jed Mees and Les Harmon's by Bill Sattler.

Ohio took the lead on Mees' foul, but Northwestern went back in front as Klein scored. The Buckeyes came right back as Sattler tipped in another basket and McLain made a free throw for a 24 to 22 Ohio State lead.

Shepard's basket from the foul line tied it again and Vance's foul and basket gave the Purple a 27 to 24 edge. Ohio tied at 28 all on baskets by Gil Mickelson and Capt. Robert Lynch while Northwestern was counting a foul throw by Harman. Lynch dribbled the length of the floor to put Ohio ahead, 30 to 29, and Dick Fisher's basket from the side was matched by Klein to make the final 32 to 31.

PURDUE WINS, 50 TO 34

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 15 [Special].—Purdue took the undisputed lead in the Big Ten conference basketball race, defeating Minnesota here tonight, 50 to 34, while Illinois bounced Michigan out of the unbeaten ranks in Ann Arbor.

It was the fourth consecutive conference victory for the Boilermakers.

The Gophers, who attempted to match Purdue's speed, wilted before the consistent drive of the Boilermakers after keeping pace for the first ten minutes, when Purdue was leading, 9 to 6. The Boilermakers increased the margin to 26-20 at half time.

In the first half scramble, Don Carlson, Gopher sophomore, kept the visitors in the running as he slipped thru the Boilermaker defense for four of his five field goals.

The second half was all Purdue as the Boilermakers moved out in front, 38 to 25, and increased their advantage to 43-27, with five minutes left to play.

Purdue's scoring was well divided between five players. Dan Fisher, whose defensive play, particularly on rebounds, was even more brilliant than his scoring, took high point honors with five field goals and three free throws for 13 points. Bob Igney was close behind with 10. Lineups:

ILLINI, 48; MICHIGAN, 43

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 15 [Special].—Capt. Bill Hapac and his Illinois teammates knocked Michigan out of the undefeated ranks in the Big Ten basketball race here tonight as they defeated the Wolverines, 48 to 43, before 4,500.

Hapac flashed all this brilliance as he scored nine baskets and two free throws for a 20 point total as the desperate Wolverines fought in vain for their fourth straight victory. Michigan previously had defeated Ohio State, Wisconsin, and Iowa, while the Illini had been able to trounce only Chicago in three starts.

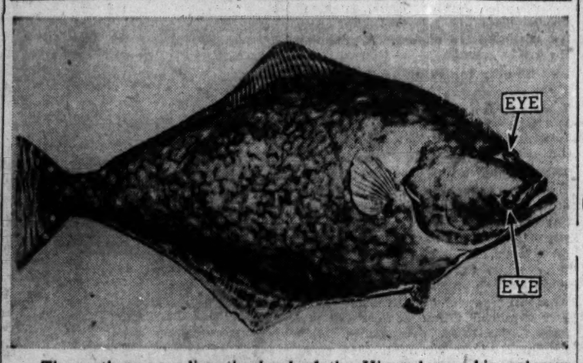
Decapitation for Economy



The myth surrounding the head of the Hippoglossus hippoglossus (halibut at your favorite fishmonger's) has been punctured by local ichthyologists. Real reason for the absence of the halibut's head is that it constitutes one-sixth of the fish's total weight, and economy dictates decapitation to reduce transportation fees.

The Headless Halibut Myth Gets the Hook

BY BOB BECKER.

Probably no one species of salt water fish causes so much comment among nonfishermen as the widely known salt water halibut. For years, various stories about why one never sees a halibut with a head on it have been repeated and argued about until today one may expect them to pop up any time. One story is to the effect that the head of the halibut is so repulsive that to display them in the market would discourage sales. Another story, one that comes to our desk every month of the year, is that the head of the halibut bears a close resemblance to the head of a human.

All of these stories may be classed as sheer buncombe. Walter H. Chute, director of the Shedd aquarium, and Alfred C. Weed, curator of fishes, Field Museum of Natural History, state that they are myths which go in the same classification as the one about the hoop snake.

It's Matter of Weight.

Halibut do not come to market with heads on them for the simple reason that the head of the fish makes up about one-sixth of its weight. Inasmuch as consumers do not consider halibut heads edible, there is no reason to ship a specimen whole and thus pay transportation charges on so much waste. This simple economic factor in the halibut business tells why the public does not see a whole salt water halibut on display.

All of the halibuts and the flounders to which they are closely related do have unusual looking heads to a fresh water angler, due to the fact that they are bottom feeding fish. When the young halibut first develop from spawn they swim vertically and have eyes in normal positions in the head. That is, there is one eye on each side of the head like those of a crappie bass or other fresh water species. But before long the fish assume a horizontal position on the bottom and become very flat in shape. [Hence the phrase "flat as flounder."]

The Eyes Move Up.

Then comes a change in their eyes. Both take positions on the upper side of the fish. This gives the fish a tremendous advantage. When it rests on the bottom of the ocean it has two eyes with which to look upward instead of just one. The fact that the halibut has two eyes on the upper side of its body, instead of just one, doubtless has given rise to the ridiculous stories about its repulsive appearance and the fact that it comes to market without a head.

Very few persons ever have seen a live halibut because it is extremely difficult to bring one to the surface of the water alive. They live in deep water. Jordan says that some species have been taken as deep as 2,400 feet below the surface and naturally survive tremendous pressures. When a fish of this species is brought toward the surface the internal pressure expands air bladders in its system and causes internal injury. No halibut are on display at the Shedd aquarium for this reason.

Morton Quintet Rallies to Beat Wright, 43 to 40

Morton came from behind to defeat Wright, 43 to 40, yesterday in an Illinois Junior college conference basketball game at Wright. Wright led, 25 to 13, at the half.

REPORT MANDEL AGREES ON PRICE FOR LION ELEVEN

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 15 [Special].—Agreement on a sale price for the Detroit Lions was said to have been reached tonight by Frederick L. Mandel of Chicago and representatives of George A. Richards, owner of the team. Announcement of the sale and appointment of George [Potsy] Clark as coach of the team is being withheld pending completion of the transaction later in the week, it was reported.

Mandel, a director of Mandel Brothers, a large Chicago dry goods store, has been in Detroit for several days conferring with William Alfs, vice president of the Lions, and P. M. Thomas, secretary and treasurer. Alfs and Thomas were designated by Richards to represent him in the sale of the club last December when physicians ordered that he dispose of his interests. Richards is in Palm Springs, Cal., suffering from a heart ailment.

Clark, who organized the Lions as the Portsmouth Spartans and moved them into Detroit, where they won their only National Football league championship in 1935, came to Detroit Saturday night from his home in Brooklyn. Clark left the Lions in 1936 and took over the Brooklyn Dodgers. He was dismissed as the Dodgers' coach this year after a disastrous season.

Clark and Mandel were not available to reporters tonight. It is not known what price had been agreed upon, but early in the week it was learned that Richards had asked $250,000 for his share of the stock, estimated at 78 per cent.

SAYS FOOTBALL LOWERS STUDENT TYPE IN COLLEGE

Akron, O., Jan. 15 (AP).—A professor of politics at the University of Chicago, which recently dropped out of Western conference football competition, tonight said good football teams usually are followed by a less desirable crop of students.

"In my twenty-some years of teaching I have found that after a successful football season there is a noticeable decline in the type of students entering the school the next year," Jerome G. Kerwin reported at a women's meeting here.

"Not only that, but at schools where football is a major little is accomplished in the classrooms thruout the fall.

"The students—and many of the faculty, too—live from game to game," Kerwin declared, terming "athleticism" a major fault of higher education in the United States.

Armstrong, Montanez Speed Up Drills for Jan. 24 Meeting

New York, Jan. 15 [Special].—Henry Armstrong included sparring in his training program for the first time today in preparation for his defense of the world welterweight title against Pedro Montanez, Puerto Rican, in Madison Square Garden Jan. 24. He boxed four rounds, two each against Jackie Murray and Cal Holmes. Montanez sparred four rounds at Stillman's gymnasium against Victor Corchado and Lenny Mancini.

DEFERRED BOUT OF HOSTAK, ZALE SET FOR JAN. 29

Causes Conflict with Marigold Show.

Chairman Joe Triner and Commissioner Sheldon Clark of the Illinois boxing board yesterday granted Promoter Bill Rand Jan. 29 on which to offer a 10 round nontitle bout between Middleweight Champion Al Hostak and Tony Zale in Chicago Stadium. The announcement of the new date was made after X-ray pictures disclosed a lung congestion, from which Zale was suffering last week, had cleared up. The match originally was scheduled for Friday.

Zale, who contracted a cold last Tuesday, was sitting up in his home in Gary yesterday. He will be able to resume workouts Friday, according to Dr. L. J. Danieleski, the fighter's family physician.

Hostak, who was given a layoff on Sunday and Monday, will return to training chores Thursday.

Claim Conflict Unavoidable.

The commission recommended the fight be postponed until Jan. 30 or 31 because the Jan. 29 date will conflict with a listed show in Marigold Gardens. But Nate Druxman, Seattle promoter, who has an option on Hostak's services, explained he planned to use the champion on Feb. 13. As a result the Chicago fight could not possibly be held later than Jan. 29.

Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun, Marigold promoters, protested vociferously when notified of the commission's decision.

"It is unfortunate the new date will conflict with a Marigold show," Chairman Triner said, "but in view of the unusual circumstances surrounding the bout we had no alternative in reaching our decision."

Commission Apologizes.

"It is not our intention or our policy to interfere with weekly shows. We made our decision after a conference with every one involved, including Promoter Schoenwald. We trust this situation doesn't occur again, but Jan. 29 was the only date agreeable to all concerned."

Promoter Rand said he was willing to repay Schoenwald any money he might lose if he ran in opposition to the Stadium fight. Schoenwald refused this offer, countering with a request for $500 to release his option on the date. Rand replied this request was unreasonable."

MIGRATORY BIRD ACT VIOLATION BRINGS $200 FINE

Wallace Evans Jr., owner of the Evans game farm, St. Charles, Ill., yesterday was fined $200 and given a suspended jail sentence of six months for a violation of the federal regulations governing migratory birds. Evans pleaded guilty to the charge of purchasing and selling live migratory waterfowl without a federal permit. In suspending the jail sentence Judge Phillip L. Sullivan of the United States District court placed Evans on probation for a year.

Federal Warden John Martin and United States Deputy Game Warden Philip M. Geiseler, who prepared the case against Evans, said yesterday that this was the first involving the interstate shipment of live ducks ever prosecuted in the central states.

Fear Dempsey Protege's Victim Suffers Broken Jaw

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 15 (AP).—Bill Boyd, heavyweight protége of Jack Dempsey, knocked out Al Boros of Bridgeport, Conn., tonight in the eighth round with a terrific blow to the jaw. Dr. M. L. Lichtenberg, boxing commission physician, said Boros may have suffered a fractured jaw and ordered that X-rays be taken.

Drake Beats Tulsa, 42-33, for 3d League Victory

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 15 (AP).—Drake's Bulldogs, bounding back from their defeat by the Oklahoma Aggies, defeated Tulsa, 42 to 33, here tonight for their third Missouri Valley conference basketball victory in four games.

Football Is Gone, but the Instinct Lingers On

Every One Has a Wild Night; De Paul Wins, Loyola Loses

BY WILFRID SMITH.

De Paul university continued its victory march and Loyola university lost its eighth consecutive game in last night's basketball double header in the Coliseum. Both battles were bitterly contested, with Capt. Stan Szukala of De Paul and Bob Brice of Detroit being ejected for fisticuffing as the Demons moved along to a 47 to 37 victory over the Titans.

Loyola faltered in the second half and lost to Duquesne, 28 to 27, with the final point being made after a technical foul was levied against the Duquesne coach, Charles R. Davies, when he dashed from the bench and grabbed the ball from Umpire Sam Pecoraro's hands. Davies threw it into the crowd while incensed because Pecoraro had called traveling on a Duquesne player and was giving possession to Loyola, which then was two points behind.

Crowd Boos Coach.

Capt. George Wenskus of Loyola threw the point as the crowd of 3,000 bobed Davies. After the game Davies strode to midcourt and berated Pecorara, who chased him from the floor. Spectators ended the incident by holding the official.

De Paul and Detroit carried on the motif after a slow start in the opening minutes when nervousness, particularly by Bob Calihan, Detroit center from Chicago, who committed three personals and made only one free throw, disrupted the Detroit attack.

Later, when Calihan had recovered, he scored six field goals and another penalty shot, pivoting in front of the backboard after a fake which frequently drew his guard out of position.

Possner Scores 20 Points.

Altho Detroit scored first, De Paul raced ahead 12 to 4, went on to 17 to 5, and after a belated Titan rally finished the half leading 22 to 11. Lou Possner, De Paul's best marksman, accounted for six points. He stepped up production in the second half and made 20 points in all.

The game grew rougher and just before the Titan staged their rally which carried them within three points of a tie at 27 to 24, Capt. Szukala and Brice fell to the floor in a tussle for the ball and then started punching. Players separated them and after each had scored on the double foul, they were sent to the sidelines.

Possner, Ed Norris, and Chet Tollstom then opened up an eight point gap which De Paul used as a lever to control the game. Norris' second goal of the evening stretched the margin to 10 points, 47 to 37.

Loyola opened the scoring with Vince Graham's field goal and Graham then added another point on Ed Milkovich's foul. This placed the Dukes in the runner-up position which they held thruout the half altho they tied Loyola four times.

Midway in the period the Ramblers piled up a 12 to 6 advantage but Becker, who made four goals in the period, was principally instrumental in tying the score at 16 to 16 and again at 18 points after Graham's pivot shot for Loyola. Becker suffered an ankle injury just before the half ended and was replaced by Wilmer Adams, but recovered sufficiently to throw the game-winning basket.

Duquesne Goes Ahead.

Lou Kasperik broke the tie shortly after the second half opened and after Lee had scored for Loyola, Duquesne went ahead, 24 to 20, on a pair of long goals. Ed Schell dribbled in for a goal. He was loose several minutes later on a sneaker to take the long pass and score from under the back board.

With three minutes to play Graham dribbled in thru Duquesne's set defense to tie the count at 26 to 26.

WACKER DROPS MURRAY IN 1ST; WINS DECISION

Henry Wacker, hard hitting Taylorville, Ill., heavyweight, pounded out an eight round decision over Ed [Tipperary] Murray in Marigold Gardens last night.

Tho Wacker won a clear decision, Murray made a fight of it all the way. Wacker came close to scoring his third straight knockout in the first round when he crashed a right to the jaw which sent Murray to the canvas for an eight count.

Marion Mosley, Chicago heavyweight, defeated Bob Ray of Decatur in a five round semi-final, scoring his seventh straight triumph. In an additional fight of five rounds Ralph Guajardo, south side welterweight, beat Bobby Ryan of the west side. George Kontopolis, west side junior welterweight, obtained revenge for an earlier defeat at the hands of Johnny Balmer by whipping the Peoria fighter in four rounds. Orlando Trotter, south side 178 pounder, was outweighed 40 pounds, but easily conquered Johnny Williams.

JUST STAY AS YOU ARE, M'CARTHY'S PLEA TO YANKEES

He'll Settle Gladly for 106 Victories Again.

New York, Jan. 15 (AP).—The world champion Yankees won't have to be any stronger next season to suit Manager Joe McCarthy. "If they're just as good as they were last year and the year before I'll be satisfied," he declared today.

Joe McCarthy.

In town to confer with President Edward Barrow concerning the problem of how many rookies to take south, McCarthy took his customary calm approach to the club.

"We won 106 games last season; that's mighty good and we won't have to be any better to suit me," he drawled. "Of course, the team had a little slump and lost five games in a row. But that was the first time in nine years that they lost five games straight, and I guess they're entitled to a little slump once in a while.

Won't Bid for Free Agents.

"We'll take 33 or 34 players to camp, but naturally I plan to start the season with the same lineup as I had last year. I've gotta. We can't make any deals and I don't know whether we'd want to if we could.

"I'm not interested in anybody let loose in that Detroit decision and I think we're set very well."

Asked if acquisition of Lee Grissom from the Cincinnati Reds meant the Yankees would carry three left handed pitchers next season, including Vernon Gomez and Marius Russo of the 1939 team, McCarthy commented:

"I'd carry six if they were good, or six right handers. I don't care which side they throw from if they're good."

Likes Grissom's Chances.

"Frankly, I think Grissom has a chance to be a great pitcher for us. He's big and every time I've ever seen him he was fast. He looked good to me the little bit he worked in the world series. It's just a chance, but unless his arm is gone I don't see any reason he won't click. If he doesn't we haven't given up anybody we were counting on."

As far as McCarthy is concerned, the champions haven't shown any signs of disintegrating, either.

"Gomez at times last year showed me all his old stuff," he explained, "and I think a good season for him is just a matter of getting a good start. Bill Dickey ought to stay up a long time yet on account of his build. Even when I wanted to rest him last summer he'd say 'No, I want to catch.' And don't forget Spud Chandler. He wasn't able to join us until midseason, but he looked good at the finish. There is nothing wrong with his arm."

SPARTANS ROUT MARQUETTE IN 48 TO 19 CONTEST

East Lansing, Mich., Jan. 15 [Special].—Michigan State tonight completely outclassed the Marquette five, 48 to 19. The Hilltoppers were unable to register a field goal during the entire second half.

Both teams played on even terms during the first half with the Spartans enjoying a 14 to 12 lead at half time thru Joe Gerard's basket in the final minute.

Chet Aubuchon went on a scoring spree at the start of the second half and made six points. State then went on to run up its advantage and coasted the rest of the game. Lineups:

WOMEN TO OPEN BADMINTON MEET ON THURSDAY

Play will begin Thursday in the 1940 women's handicap badminton tournament in the Lake Shore Athletic club. Plans for the tournament announced by Loris A. Hoyt, badminton chairman, call for an unseeded draw and elimination play to wind up in February. Three courts have been installed to accommodate the tournament.

Minor Skiers Get Inning in Norge Tourney

Not all of the thrills will be supplied by the nationally known skiers when they meet for the Norge Ski club's championship in the tournament next Sunday at Fox River Grove. The finest field of jumpers available is being enlisted to compete in the three minor divisions.

In class B, for skiers over 18 years old who have not yet won a tournament title, a battle for top honors is assured. With promotion to class A awaiting the winner, at least eight entrants in this division are given an excellent chance to gain this honor.

Riley's Nephew Enters.

In this group are Robert Riley of Coleraine, Minn., nephew of the once famous Barney Riley and one of the few Irishmen participating in this Scandinavian sport in the country; Elmer Saari of Ishpeming, Mich.; Ernest Jacobson of the Norge club; Mauno Pera of Iron Mountain, Mich.; Robert Seablom of Ishpeming, Clifford Bergstrom of Minneapolis, Thomas Richards of Ishpeming, Roger Nelson of Minneapolis, and Robert Bartholomai of Milwaukee.

This will be Riley's first appearance in Chicago, where his uncle won several championships and did much to popularize ski jumping here. Young Riley has inherited much of his uncle's skill and has won class B titles so far this season.

Close Race in Class C.

So closely matched are the class C jumpers that none of the Norge officials will venture to guess the probable winner. They look with most favor, however, upon the chances of Walter Hyry, one of the daring young jumpers from the Finnish colony at Ishpeming.

Sobek Lost to Notre Dame in Game Tonight

Notre Dame, Ind., Jan. 15 [Special.]—George Sobek, first string sophomore forward from Hammond, Ind., may be unable to face Butler here tomorrow night because of an ankle sprain received in the Kentucky game Saturday. Sobek scored 10 points against Kentucky but concealed his injury until today's practice.

Kenneth [Red] Oberbruner, senior from Ashland, Wis., will replace Sobek in the starting lineup. Coach George Keogan said he will stick to his guard combination of Don Smith and Bob Smith in place of Larry Ryan and Gene Klier, and that Rex Ellis will start at center instead of Capt. Mark Ertel. Probable lineups:

NOTRE DAME.		BUTLER.
Riska	F	Dietz
Oberbruner	F	Gunn
Ellis	C	Joseph
Don Smith	G	Steiner [c]
Bob Smith	G	Neat

Referee—Lane [Cincinnati]. Umpire—Enright [Chicago].

Two dollar mutuels paid: Highomar, $5.20 straight, $3.40 place, $3.10 show; Winning Chance, $4.50 place, $3.40 show; Go Home, $4.40 show.

HIGHOMAR, much the best, broke slow as usual, began to make up ground turning out of backstretch, came thru on inside and finished fast. WINNING CHANCE, well up and kept out in the firm going, came very fast at end. GO HOME, showing unusual speed, raced DOUBLE B into defeat, then weakened. DOUBLE B had plenty of speed and had no mishap. MODEST QUEEN quit.

SIXTH RACE—Purse $1,200. Three year olds. Seven furlongs, out of chute. Start good. Won handily; place easily. Went to post at 4:32. At post ½ minute. Winner, b. c., 3, by Reigh Count-Black Carse, by Black Toney. Owner, Calumet Farm. Trainer, B. A. Jones. Net value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 1:27 1-5.

IOWA, 41; CHICAGO, 27

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The University of Iowa basketball team last night decided that joint possession of the Big Ten cellar with the University of Chicago was not to its liking and so it took its leave by licking the Maroons, 41 to 27. The result leaves the Chicagoans in familiarly homelike surroundings with a record of four defeats in four games, the Iowans moving upstairs with one victory and three losses.

Erwin Prasse, Nile Kinnick's football colleague, demonstrated he's handy at basketball, too, by sharing scoring honors with Vic Siegel. Each collected nine points. Ralph Richardson, the Maroons' push shot expert, hit four times from the floor, while bespectacled Joe Stampf made one basket and five free throws in six attempts.

Hawks Pull Away.

The contest started out to be one of those snug arguments such as the Maroons lost to Wisconsin and Illinois, but the Hawkeyes came out of the first half with a comfortable advantage of 23 to 17.

After Richardson's first two field goals had given Chicago a 4 to 1 lead, Gil Wheeler made a basket and Siegel a free throw to tie it up. Wheeler, the under-the-basket recipient of most of Iowa's long passes, then made good again and the Hawkeyes were never headed therefrom, the Maroons' best effort being to draw up within two points at 15 to 13 with four minutes of the half remaining.

Iowans Coast Along.

The Iowans were content to spend the first four minutes of the second half playing catch safely outside the Maroons' tight zone defense with the result that no points were scored within that span.

The Maroons went scoreless for 9¼ minutes of the second period before Jorgenson made good on one of two free throws on Siegel's foul. After that the Chicagoans never came closer than 33 to 24.

The Maroons meet De Paul Saturday in the Midway fieldhouse.

INDIANA, 40; WISCONSIN, 34

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15 [Special].—Indiana capitalized on superior speed to defeat Wisconsin, 40 to 34, in a rough and fast battle in the field house tonight. It was the Hoosiers' third victory in four games and the Badgers' third defeat in four starts.

The score was tied at the half, 19 to 19. Wisconsin took a 4 to 0 lead on two baskets by Gene Englund, and held the upper hand for 10 minutes. The Hoosiers' offense then started to function and they jumped into an 18 to 8 lead, but Englund came back with four baskets and a free throw and Bob Schwartz popped in another field goal for the Badgers. Bill Menke dropped a free throw for Indiana to tie the score.

Schwartz gave the Badgers a momentary lead at the outset of the second period, but Indiana soon pulled into an advantage it never relinquished.

Englund was the high scorer, dropping thru eight field goals and three free throws for 19 points. Lineup:

Mangrum to Assist Metz at Oak Park

Chicago district golf yesterday made another important acquisition with the appointment of Lloyd Mangrum, 25 year old Los Angeles star, as assistant professional to Dick Metz at the Oak Park Country club. The appointment was announced by Walter G. Leininger, chairman of Oak Park's professional committee.

Mangrum, youngest of three golfing brothers [the others are Ray and Paul] will be no stranger to local fairways, for Chicagoans saw more than plenty of him during the western open last July at Medinah. It took a closing drive by Byron Nelson, national open champion, to beat young Mangrum by one stroke for the championship.

Mangrum on Coast.

Despite one of the fastest fields in western history, Mangrum hung on to the pace from the start of the tournament. One shot behind Metz, his new boss, at the end of 36 holes, Lloyd went into a 54 hole tie with Dick at 209, where they led Nelson by a stroke. Mangrum finished with 282 to Nelson's final card of 281, traps at the 66th and 67th holes ending his chances for victory or a tie.

Mangrum, who is now on the California winter tour, will report to Metz at Oak Park in the spring. The post is a new one for Metz also, for he did not sign up as head professional until Oct. 30.

District Meet Jan. 26.

The Chicago District Golf association's executive committee will hold its next regular meeting following a dinner in the La Salle hotel on the evening of Jan. 26. Past meetings have been held after noonday luncheons.

The United States Golf association's definition of an amateur golfer has been changed by fixing the eighteenth birthday as the time limit for excusing prior violations of the definition. Heretofore, the time limit for certain violations was the 16th birthday and the 18th for others.

BUDWEISERS WIN THREE GAMES TO INCREASE LEAD

Winning three games with high series of 3,091 last night, the Budweisers extended their lead to three games in the Windy City Major league on the Windy City alleys. The second place Mineralites lost two to drop back only one game in front of the Joseph Gills.

George Notz of the Gills had high individual series of 682 on games of 211, 227, and 244. Joe Wilman of the Budweisers scored 198, 246, and 230 for 674. Scores:

Silver Skates Victors Enter Elgin Races

All eight of the 1940 Silver Skates winners of Sunday's 23d annual Chicago Tribune Derbies will be seeking additional speed skating laurels next Sunday when the Tri-State championships are held in Lord's park, Elgin.

The octet includes George Shimek, Cedar Rapids., Ia., the men's Silver Skates champion; Genevieve Swierkos, C. Y. O. star who won the girls' senior blades; Junior Haenisch of the Northwest Skating club, intermediate victor; Shirley Klaris, C. Y. O. star and intermediate girls' title holder; Charles Edwards, Northwest club, boys' junior winner; Ann Parker of Waters playground, junior girls' champion, and Walter Rust of Elgin and Donald Laser of the C. Y. O., who were Silver Skates winners in the juvenile and midget classes.

Title Holders Good, Too.

These will try to claim the titles now held by Vic Ronchetti, senior Tri-State title holder; Elaine Bogda, senior girls' champion; Joe Phillips, intermediate; Dot Soldanski, intermediate girls' title holder; Frank Gregory, junior boys; Shirley Jane Burnett, junior girls' champion; Walter Rust, who won the Silver Skates and will defend the juvenile Tri-State crown; Marlyn Telfer, who also holds the national 220 yard title, and Dave Roll, beaten out in Sunday's Silver Skates contest by Don Laser. Roll is the midget Tri-State title holder.

In addition to the Elgin tournament there will be two park events this week. The west side division of the Chicago park district will hold its annual meet Friday night at Garfield park. Skaters from the following parks will compete: Shedd, Altgeld, Dvorak, Stanford, Sheridan, Columbus, Douglas, Harrison, Austin Town Hall, Franklin, and Garfield park.

Park Skaters Go Saturday.

The entire Chicago park district competition is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at Humboldt park. Both of the park meets are under the direction of Sid Novak and Pete Miller, park directors, who are secretary and president, respectively, of the Illinois Skating association.

Hawks' Drill Turns Into a Giggling Bee

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks yesterday were so jubilant about stopping the New York Rangers' world record string with a 2 to 1 victory in Chicago Stadium Sunday night, that they couldn't get their minds on practice when they assembled at their rink for what had been scheduled as a 90 minute drill.

Sammy Lo Presti, rookie goalie from St. Paul recently purchased by the Hawks, was dressed in his paraphernalia for a three-day show-off, so some of the lads obliged by shooting at his upholstery while Manager Paul Thompson looked on. But mostly the fellows sat around giggling over the victory over the Rangers.

The Hawks, by playing one of the most intelligent and skilful games ever presented by a Hawk team, terminated a Ranger success string which had seen them go thru 19 games without a defeat. In beating the Toronto Leafs, 4 to 1, Saturday night the Rangers made it ten straight victories and the 19 game mark broke the 12 year old world record of the Montreal Canadiens.

Praise from Patrick, Too.

Sunday night the Rangers showed no signs of fatigue resulting from the Saturday night game in Toronto. It is traditional for hockey players to sob about the rigors of train riding in luxurious Pullmans to play on successive nights. Spirited bunch that they are, the Rangers jolted this ancient hockey squawk. If ever a bunch swarmed, the Rangers swarmed and kept swarming on the Hawks Sunday night.

Manager Thompson complimented all hands yesterday, and was especially lavish in his praise of the phenomenal goal tending of Rookie Paul Goodman. Even Lester Patrick, master mind of the Rangers and father of two of the New York stars, had many praises for the Chicagoans as he lingered in Chicago yesterday. Said Lester: "I hated to see the string ended, of course, but I get some personal satisfaction out of the fact the team which stopped us was managed by a fellow I brought out of the amateur ranks and taught to play big league hockey."

In addition to this salute to Skipper Thompson, Boss Patrick might have added a few bons mots for four other pupils of his who contributed much to the excitement. George Allen, Bill Carse, and Joe Cooper, who collaborated in the production of the first Hawk goal, and Earl Seibert, who played one of his good games, all are former Ranger chattels.

It's No. 11 for Hawks.

The Hawks, in stopping the Ranger streak before it got too fat for any team to shoot at in the future, had the additional satisfaction of becoming as successful against the current Rangers as the rest of the National league combined. The Rangers this season have lost only four games, two of them to the Hawks. They lost to the Leafs, 1 to 0, on Nov. 12, to the Hawks, 3 to 2, on Nov. 16, and to the Canadiens, 3 to 2, on Nov. 19, their last setback prior to last night.

It was the first game in the second half of the Hawks' schedule and afforded them their eleventh victory of the season. With 23 games to play, the Hawks have to win only one to tie their total victories for last season.

Today Lo Presti will have more of a chance to show his talents than he did in yesterday's restful drill. The goalie is 20 years old and weighs 205 pounds. He, like Frank Brimsek of the Boston Bruins and Mike Karakas, for five years of the Hawks, played for the Eveleth, Minn., High school team, coached by Cliff Thompson. After his three day demonstration here, he will return to the St. Paul team.

Ramblers Get Scouts' Report on Polo Foes

When the Detroit Rangers return to the 124th Field Artillery armory Saturday night for their game with the Chicago Ramblers, they'll discover they've been well scouted by their opponents.

In fact, Capt. Romeo E. Mura, leader of the Ramblers passed up a trip to Cincinnati, where he was scheduled to play with Lieut. Bill Fergus and Lieut. Don Rice of the 124th trio, in order to see the Detroit team in action here against Oak Brook last week. Capt. Mura, in mufti, was observed taking copious notes on the Rangers' style of play.

Starting this afternoon, the Ramblers will bear down in practice sessions on ways and means of halting Volney Bayley and his Detroit teammates, who eked out a pair of one-point victories in their last two appearances against Evanston and Oak Brook.

Only a 10 to 9 defeat of Detroit in overtime when they met the 124th Field artillery prevents the Wolverines from being in first place in the Metropolitan Polo league senior division. They now are second.

Students Halt Classes in Plea for Conzelman

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 15 (AP).—Jimmy Conzelman, head football coach at Washington university, was asked to reconsider his resignation today as angry alumni and students sought the "real cause" of his willingness to quit after a successful season.

Announcement that the board had refused to accept Conzelman's resignation, tendered Saturday night, helped restore order on the Washington campus where a demonstration was staged by 500 students claiming he was fired.

Led by Bud Schwenk, all-Missouri Valley conference half back, and other members of last year's Missouri Valley championship team, the noisy parade attracted students from classrooms and left many professors without audiences.

Conzelman, a talented musician, composer, and sports writer, said he was turning from football to radio and would begin a sponsored broadcast over a national hookup Feb. 1. He has been coaching eight years.

WELLS, TILDEN JUNIOR QUINTETS ARE VICTORIOUS

The Wells and Tilden junior basketball teams triumphed in the only two Chicago Public High School league games played yesterday.

Dempsey Group Hopes to Break Jacobs Ring Trust

New York, Jan. 15 [Special].—If the revival of the Jack Dempsey-Jack Kearns promotional partnership, with James J. Johnston as an added starter, is to go anywhere after Detroit, it will be to Ebbets field, Brooklyn.

This was revealed today by Max Waxman, Dempsey's manager, who admitted negotiations for the Brooklyn baseball park had been going on for some time.

In fact, the view as expressed at the signing of Bob Pastor, recognized by the New York Boxing Writers' association as the leading heavyeight contender, and Red Burman for a 12 round elimination on March 14 at the Detroit Olympia, was that what the fight game needs is competition.

The report is that the new combination aims to cut in on Mike Jacobs' promotion monopoly.

Johnson expressed the fear of many managers that the Twentieth Century Sporting club, enjoying as it does what practically amounts to a monopoly, will, if it can, eventually control boxers in the same way the wrestlers are controled. The managers, under such an arrangement, will be reduced to seconds, trainers, and rubbers, and at the same time purses will be cut and guarantees eliminated.

Lew Jenkins, Davy Day, Lou Salica, Kayo Morgan, Harry Jeffra, Al Hostak, Abe Simon, Valentin Campolo, Tommy Tucker, and, of course, Pastor and Burman are among the fighters figured to be available to the Dempsey-Kearns-Johnson combination.

MISSOURI BEATS IOWA STATE FOR SECOND VICTORY

Ames, Ia., Jan. 15 (AP).—Missouri scored a 27 to 16 victory over the Iowa State college basketball team tonight for its second Big Six victory. The game was tied, 9 to 9, at the intermission, but from there on the defending conference champions were never seriously threatened. Lineup:

CHANGE PLAYOFFS.

Kansas City, Jan. 15 (AP).—American Hockey association directors decided today to make the semi-final Shaughnessy playoff series three out of five games instead of three out of four.

BRUINS HOPE TO END THREE GAME LOSING STREAK

The Chicago Bruins, harassed by ill luck in losing their last three games, will try to shake their jinx tomorrow night when they face the Detroit Eagles, second highest scoring club in the National Basketball league, in part of a double header at the 132d armory, Madison and Rockwell streets.

The Bruins lost to the Hammond Ciesars, 34 to 33, in Hammond Sunday.

Woodrow Wilson and Wright, two of Chicago's rival junior colleges, will meet in the opening half of tomorrow's program. Wilson has won six out of seven games this season and is tied with Morton and Joliet for first place in the Illinois Junior College conference. The game will be a regular league contest.

Average 40 Per Game.

Outscoring the Eagles may prove a difficult task for the Bruins. Detroit is one of two clubs which has averaged more than 40 points per game. The Akron Firestones lead in this department with an average of 43.8 and the Eagles follow with 40.6.

In the matter of individual scoring, however, the Eagles have no peers. Four Detroiters are among the top fifteen scorers in the league. They are Nat Frankel, who is third with 121 points in 13 games; Irving Torgoff with 86, Urgel Wintermute with 72 and Bud Jeannette with 67.

Prep Mates Reunited.

All are collegians except Frankel, who was a prep mate of Torgoff at Samuel Tilden High in Brooklyn. The two Jewish lads parted for a few years as Torgoff entered Long Island university while Frankel stepped immediately into pro ball in New York. They were reunited with Detroit this season.

Jeannette is a former W. and J. star. Wintermute was the center on Oregon's national collegiate champs last year.

WARN BUSINESS MEN TO ANSWER CENSUS QUERIES

Severe Penalties Provided for Noncompliance.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 [Special].—Compliance with the 1940 census requirements is mandatory and business concerns particularly face stiff penalties for noncompliance or furnishing incorrect information, census officials warned today. They said, however, that enumerators have been cautioned against "waving their pencils" threateningly at business concerns and the general public. Enumerators, who also are subject to penalties, have been instructed to be considerate and explain that the information is required by law.

William L. Austin, director of the census said:

"Compulsory submission of reports by business firms dates from 1880. The taking of the census of population is provided for in the constitution.

Law Requires Information.

"Since its results provide the basis for congressional representation, all persons are required by law to give correct answers to the inquiries of census enumerators.

"Fortunately, in the 150 years of census-taking, the records show that it has rarely been necessary to resort to compulsion. The penalties provided for noncompliance with the 1940 decennial census were set by congressional enactment of 1929. Similar penalties have been provided by census law for more than 100 years."

The persons interviewed are supposed to give answers to all questions asked by the enumerator. The census of business and manufactures began on Jan. 2 while the general census on population, farms, and housing will be taken during April by 120,000 enumerators.

Will Cover Broad Field.

The census of business will cover approximately 1,700,000 retailers, 180,000 wholesalers, 750,000 service businesses, 50,000 hotels and tourist camps, 5,000 theaters and other places of amusement, 200,000 construction contractors, and about 2,500 sales finance companies.

The census of manufacture will cover approximately 200,000 establishments in 400 separate industries. In addition to a general schedule there are 147 special schedules to cover varied industries. In the general schedule there are nine divisions dealing with description of the plan; persons engaged; wage earners employed by months; salaries and wages; cost of materials used during year; power equipment, fuel and electric energy used; expenditures for plant and equipment; and inventories; while the 10th division deals with the specific product of the industry.

Can't Make Any Money; Illinois Bank to Close

Marissa, Ill., Jan. 15 [Special].—The 37 year old Marissa State bank will be liquidated because of the depositary's "inability to make money," Andrew Brown, president, announced today. Brown said there would be no loss to the 250 depositors.

F. W. WOOLWORTH.

What is the record of Woolworth company on paying dividends on its capital stock? I am interested in the company's performance.—C. K.

Answer: F. W. Woolworth company and its subsidiaries operate the largest chain of variety stores in the world. It has more than 2,000 stores in the United States, Canada, and Cuba, and more than 800 in Europe.

The "5 and 10 cent system" started with a single store in 1879 in Lancaster, Pa. The present company was incorporated in 1911. The subsidiaries are F. W. Woolworth Co., Ltd., Toronto; F. W. Woolworth Co. of France; F. W. Woolworth & Co., Ltd., London, and F. W. Woolworth Co., G. m. b. H., Germany.

Until 1932 the maximum retail price on Woolworth merchandise was 10 cents. This was lifted to 20 cents and in 1936 the restriction was removed to provide a flexible price policy.

Intensive competition from other chains has slowed expansion of the Woolworth system in this country and Canada. Profitable new sites for stores are scarce. In Europe the war and exchange restrictions have tended to retard the growth of the foreign companies.

Capitalization of the parent company is composed of $10,000,000 in 3 per cent debentures due 1947 held privately, $2,532,825 in purchase money mortgages, and 9,703,610 shares of $10 par capital stock. Dividends have been paid on the capital stock each year since incorporation. Since 1929 the quarterly dividend rate has been 60 cents a share and in 1931 an extra payment of $2 a share was disbursed.

Sales in this country, Canada, and Cuba, consolidated net income, and earnings per share of capital stock in recent years compared as follows:

Sales.	Net income.	Earned per share.
1934.....$270,685,000	$32,142,000	$3.31
1935..... 268,750,000	31,247,000	3.22
1936..... 290,387,000	32,625,000	3.36
1937..... 304,775,000	33,177,000	3.42
1938..... 304,305,000	*22,585,000	*2.95

*Excluding unrealized dividends of German subsidiary.

The lower earnings in 1938 were explained by the company as resulting from foreign exchange restrictions in Germany and increased taxes, wages, and operating costs.

Sales in the first 11 months of 1939 increased almost 5 per cent to $266,500,000 from $253,915,000 in the corresponding 1938 period.

Total assets of the company were $229,614,592 at the end of 1938, according to its consolidated balance sheet. Current assets of $65,685,127 were more than seven times current liabilities of $9,766,502.

WHEAT CLIMBS AS WAR THREATS SPREAD ABROAD

Corn, Other Grains Also Advance.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the May delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$1.00⅝	$0.98⅛	$0.68⅝
Corn	.58⅝	.57¾	.52⅛
Oats	.39¾	.39¾	.29⅛
Rye	.69½	.68⅛	.40⅝
Soy beans	1.18	1.17	.83

Reports of increased political tension in Europe, reflected in the mobilization of additional troops in Belgium and Holland, dominated the action of American grain markets yesterday.

Wheat prices advanced 2 to 2⅛ cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade, with the close at the top. The rally restored the dollar quotation to the blackboards. Shorts covered freely on the way up and some speculators who sold their holdings last week were said to have reinstated their lines. At no time was there any material pressure on the market, altho weather conditions over the week-end were regarded as favorable for the new crop.

Other Grains Make Gains.

Corn and other grains followed wheat and prices averaged higher. Corn closed ⅝ to ¾ cent higher, with some buying of futures attributed to exporters. Rye was ⅝ to 1 cent higher and soy beans were 1 cent higher.

Additional purchases of North American cash wheat are expected to be made by neutral countries as the result of the increased political tension, but only small purchases were made yesterday. Sales were estimated at 300,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and 120,000 bushels of rye. Jugo-Slavia has accumulated an emergency reserve of about 10,000,000 bushels of wheat, it was reported.

Additional moisture fell over a large part of the winter wheat belt during the week-end. Low temperatures over parts of the main producing area attracted little attention from brokers.

Hint Europe Buys Corn.

Brokers who frequently act for exporters were persistent buyers of corn futures, which led to reports that additional business had been put thru with Europe.

No. 2 yellow corn in the Chicago sample market sold at 60 cents a bushel, the highest price for that variety since last September. Farmers were bid somewhat over 50 cents a bushel at country elevators, a price which brought out some grain.

TWA PROTESTS MERGER PLAN OF TWO AIR LINES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—Transcontinental-Western Air Lines protested before the civil aeronautics authority today the proposed merger of United Air Lines and Western Air Express.

T. B. Wilson, TWA board chairman, and Vincent Conroy, vice president in charge of traffic, both of Kansas City, asserted consolidation of the two lines would increase United's dominance on the west coast to the detriment of their company. Conroy said the merger would raise "grave doubt as to the economic feasibility of TWA continuing its operations west of Kansas City."

The merger would give United a direct, shortline route to Los Angeles by taking over Western Air Express' route from Great Falls, Mont., thru Salt Lake City to Los Angeles and San Diego.

BYLLESBY FIRMS DENIED HOLDING ACT EXEMPTION

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission refused today to exempt H. M. Byllesby & Co., and the Byllesby corporation from the public utility holding company act.

The Byllesby companies own most of the common stock of Standard Power and Light corporation, which in turn owns Standard Gas and Electric company. However, the Byllesby firms claimed exemption on the grounds that investment banking was their primary business and because independent trustees had been placed in charge of the utilities.

The commission held that it was too early to decide whether the trustees were actually independent and that the banking business of the Standard system comprised 46.3 per cent of Byllesby's underwriting business.

Goldblatt Bros. Names Folsom Vice President

Goldblatt Bros., Inc., large Chicago department store organization, announced yesterday that Frank M. Folsom will join the company as vice president and chief executive officer, effective March 1. The company also issued an estimate indicating that its sales in the fiscal year ending Jan. 31 will be the second largest in its history.

Folsom formerly was vice president and a director of Montgomery Ward & Co. His resignation from those positions was announced on Dec. 6.

Officials of the Goldblatt organization said Folsom's appointment was a further step in an expansion program begun two years ago in the merchandising departments.

Larger Stocks Planned.

The company plans to carry more complete stocks and larger selections, the announcement said, and added:

"Mr. Folsom's experience in merchandising and operation should materially aid Goldblatt's in their improvement and expansion program."

Folsom was vice president and general manager of Hale Brothers Stores, Inc., California department store chain, before he joined Montgomery Ward.

Going to Ward's in 1932, he was placed in charge of that company's mail order houses at Portland, Ore., and Oakland, Cal., and also was in charge of the 94 stores of the western division. He came to Chicago in 1933, and became a director in the following year.

Sales Set at 48 Millions.

The Goldblatt announcement said sales of the company in the current fiscal year will be about $48,000,000, on the basis of the latest estimate. In the fiscal year ended Jan. 31, 1939, net sales were $45,282,915, and in the year ended Jan. 31, 1938, they amounted to $49,798,298, high point in the company's history.

The statement said also that Goldblatt's earnings will show a substantially larger increase over the preceding year than was shown in sales, but gave no figures. In the year ended Jan. 31, 1939, the company reported net profit of $464,285. In the preceding year net income was $1,054,801.

The Goldblatt organization, which now operates a chain of 10 stores in Chicago, Joliet, Gary, and Hammond, began in 1914 with one small store. The volume of its business in the first year was $15,000.

One of the steps in its expansion was the acquisition of the Davis store on State street from Marshall Field & Co. in 1936.

6,000 BARREL OIL WELL COMPLETED IN SALEM FIELD

Centralia, Ill., Jan. 15 (AP).—The largest producing oil well that has been drilled to the Devonian formation in Illinois was completed today in the Lake Centralia-Salem field of Marion county.

An official of W. C. McBride, Inc., disclosed that the company's No. 18 N. L. Lee produced 1,251 barrels in five hours, at the rate of 6,000 barrels a day. The largest previous completion in the Devonian formation was a 4,800 barrel well.

Week's Steel Operations Placed at 84.8 Per Cent

Steel operations for the United States this week were estimated yesterday by the American Iron and Steel institute at 84.8 per cent of theoretical ingot capacity, a drop of 1.3 points from last week's rate. Executives said the comparatively high rate was being maintained, despite a drop in new orders, by heavy backlogs built up in the final quarter of 1939.

AM. TELEPHONE EARNS MORE FOR QUARTER, YEAR

Total Profit in 1939 Near 189 Millions.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company and principal telephone subsidiaries [Bell system] yesterday reported net income, after taxes and charges, applicable to stock of the A. T. & T. was $55,522,349 for the three months ended Nov. 30.

The figure, equal to $2.97 on the company's 18,686,794 shares of capital stock, compares with $42,754,694, or $2.29 a share, in the corresponding period of a year earlier.

A preliminary report of the parent company only for the quarter ended Dec. 31, in which the figures for December were partly estimated, disclosed net income of $47,410,000, after depreciation, taxes, and charges. The total equals $2.54 a share of capital stock, contrasted with $40,877,607, or $2.19 a share, in the 1938 quarter.

Figures for Year.

For the year ended Nov. 30 the system's net profits aggregated $188,905,562, or $10.11 a share, against $153,385,512, or $8.21 a share, a year earlier. The parent company's estimated net for the year ended Dec. 31 was reported at $172,446,000, against $152,428,028 in 1938, or $9.23 and $8.16 a share, respectively.

Hiram Walker-Gooderham & Worts, Ltd., Walkerville, Ont., distilling enterprise, reported a slight drop in net income for the quarter ended Nov. 30. Net income was $1,648,464, compared with $1,795,921 in the comparable 1938 period. Per share earnings were $2.08 in the 1939 quarter, against $2.32 a year earlier.

The sporting goods manufacturing concern of A. G. Spalding & Brothers, Inc., replaced a net loss in 1938 with net profits of $168,368 in the fiscal year ended Oct. 31. The report included the consolidated operations of its predecessor company for Nov. 1, 1938, to June 30, 1939, and earnings of subsidiaries.

Profits, after extraordinary charges of $37,881, were equal to 27 cents a common share, compared with a net loss of $1,054,392 in the preceding year.

COURT UPHOLDS STATE INSURANCE BUREAU RULINGS

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 15 (AP). — The Third District Appellate court today decided that decisions of the state insurance director as to whether insurance companies were complying with the state code are not subject to review by the courts.

In declaring executive acts by the insurance director "within the scope of his authority are not and should not be subject to review by the courts," the Appellate court affirmed a decision of the Sangamon county Circuit court.

The case was instituted by some 1,900 individuals operating as agents of Lloyd's, who asserted they were operating under improperly issued certificates. The certificates in question are restrictive in nature because of the insurance director's ruling that the London insurance group has not fully complied with Illinois code requirements.

Johns-Manville to Redeem Part of Preferred Stock

New York, Jan. 15 (AP).—Directors of the Johns-Manville corporation voted today to redeem 7,500 shares of cumulative 7 per cent preferred stock on April 1 at $120 a share and dividends. This will cut the number of outstanding shares to 67,500.

Martin Straus Elected New Head of Wahl

Ralph A. Bard, chairman of the board of the Wahl company, yesterday announced that directors of the company had accepted the resignation of Carl W. Priesing as president, director, and member of the executive committee. Martin L. Straus, president of the Advance corporation and chairman of the Wahl company's executive committee, was elected to succeed Priesing.

The announcement followed by a month the shift in control of the company to the hands of Straus, Bard, and other Chicago financial interests who bought stock owned by former Wahl officers and directors.

Brigham Quits as Treasurer.

L. W. Brigham, treasurer, also resigned and was replaced by W. C. Otto, controler, Bard said.

On Dec. 15 six board members resigned and directors representing the new interests were elected. As chairman, Bard succeeded Thomas Drever, president of American Steel Foundries.

At the time the new directors were elected, Drever, who had headed the directorate for many years, said that it "seemed advisable to arrange for the sale of the investment of myself and associates to a group that would provide an active interest in and management for the company."

Investment Interests in Charge.

The new management of the pen and pencil manufacturing company consists for the most part of La Salle street interests. Bard is president of the Chicago investment firm of Ralph A. Bard & Co. Advance corporation, which Straus heads, is also in the securities business.

Aside from Bard and Straus the new board members elected a month ago were George E. Frazer of Frazer & Torbet; Howard G. Kornblith, vice president of Eliel & Loeb company; T. Albert Potter, president of Elgin National Watch company, and William H. Yates, controler, United Wall Paper Factories, Inc.

NORTHWEST AREA STEEL MAKING PLAN SUPPORTED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—Production of iron and steel in the Pacific northwest, recently advocated by President Roosevelt if found feasible, was declared commercially possible today in a report to Secretary Ickes by Paul J. Raver, administrator of the Bonneville dam project.

Raver stressed "the availability of low cost power" at Bonneville and Grand Coulee dams and "ready availability also of the essential raw materials."

Ickes said Bonneville authorities were actively negotiating with several iron and steel concerns interested in the prospect. A 20-year power contract has already been signed with the Aluminum Company of America.

"Success of such a plant would be doubtly assured," Raver said, "if the operation were tied into the national defense program and could depend upon contracts for steel for merchant marine and naval ship construction, or for the manufacture of army and naval ordnance and munitions."

CHICAGO GRAIN BOARD HAS LOSS; M'CARTHY RIPS FEDERAL POLICY

The Chicago Board of Trade yesterday reported a net loss for 1939 of $57,479, compared with net income of $63,362 in 1938.

John G. McCarthy, president, told members of the exchange at their annual meeting that operations of the government farm program have kept a large amount of grain from ordinary marketing channels.

"The grain held back from market thru government loans, payments of grain made for crop insurance and government purchases for relief distribution, kept from ordinary channels a vast amount of grain that otherwise would have been carried and hedged in the futures market," McCarthy said.

Total assets of the exchange were listed at $3,236,602 in the annual report, including a 5 per cent real estate note of the Chicago Board of Trade Safe Deposit company carried at $2,490,000, and $58,100 book value of bonds of the Safe Deposit company, which owns the Board of Trade building.

MORE OF EDISON STOCK IS TRADED FOR DEBENTURES

Charles Y. Freeman, chairman of the Commonwealth Edison company, yesterday announced $31,594,100 of Edison debentures had been converted into the company's common stock since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the final day on which debenture holders who collected their Jan. 1 coupon could convert to become record holders for the 45 cent dividend payable Feb. 1.

Freeman said the amount of conversions in the latest 15 day period was higher than the total in either of the two corresponding periods in January and July last year. An aggregate of $78,692,600, or 60.8 per cent, of the $129,431,400 of debentures originally issued had been converted at the close of business yesterday according to Freeman. This left a balance outstanding of $50,738,800.

STOCKS SUFFER FRESH RELAPSE, BUT ARE REVIVED

Small Dip in Steel Output Helpful.

New York, Jan. 15 (AP).—Stocks suffered another relapse in today's market, but managed to come back near the close and reduce or cancel extreme declines running to 3 or more points.

Attempts of the list to edge forward at the start met with little support and prices reached their lows in the fourth hour on expanded volume.

The drive was stemmed as a result of the estimate of a less than expected fall in this week's steel mill operations and a brisk rally in wheat futures. The belated revival of wilting stocks was accompanied by slackening activity.

Steel and Chrysler Lose.

Down fractions to around 2 at the last were United States Steel, Chrysler, United States Rubber, International Harvester, American Can, Westinghouse, United States Gypsum, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Kennecott, Southern Pacific, and Loft.

Standard Brands got to within touching distance of a new 1939-'40 peak. Minor plus signs were retained by General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Wilson & Co., General Outdoor Advertising, Santa Fe, Anaconda, and Boeing.

In answer to the question of "What is the matter with the market?" brokerage opinions varied. Most, tho, thought bearishness was caused partly by cloudiness of the domestic political picture and the congressional program anent the budget and new taxes.

Fear Business Recession.

Additionally, it was suggested, there were still fears the seasonal recession in business, already beginning to make its appearance in a number of lines, might not be as moderate as some had predicted. Renewed tenseness in the European war, with Belgium and the Netherlands mobilizing at their frontiers, was regarded as a handicap.

Board rooms were pleasingly surprised by the dip of only 1.3 points in this week's steel ouput estimate. Many had looked for about a 4 point drop.

House Extends Authority to Make Land Bank Loans

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—The house passed and sent to the senate today a bill to extend the authority for making land bank commissioner loans until June 1, 1942. Existing authority will expire on Feb. 1.

Libby-McNeill Votes Plan to Adjust Capital

A plan for recapitalization of Libby, McNeill & Libby, $62,000,000 packing company which is controled by Swift & Co., was approved by Libby stockholders yesterday at their meeting in Portland, Me.

One result of the program will be the eventual offering of Libby securities to the public, Robert Hale, company counsel, said.

The recapitalization, proposed as a step toward the separation of the company from Swift in compliance with terms of a consent decree, calls for a change in the Libby common stock, exchange of the preferred for new common, and issuance of bonds.

Lists Bond Underwriters.

Last Friday it was announced that Libby, which had its headquarters in Chicago, had filed an amendment with the Securities and Exchange commission listing the underwriters for the proposed $11,000,000 bond issue. Glore, Forgan & Co. was listed as heading the underwriting group.

Proceeds from the sale of the new 15 year sinking fund bonds would be used to retire about $9,000,000 of 5 per cent 15 year first mortgage bonds, due Oct. 1, 1942, and to increase working capital.

At present Swift & Co. owns nearly all of the preferred stock of Libby and 75.35 per cent of the common. Swift has been ordered by a federal court decree to divest itself of this control.

Change in Common Stock.

Under the recapitalization plan approved by the stockholders, the present no par value common stock would be changed to $7 par value and increased to 4,000,000 from 3,353,000 shares. Of the 4,000,000 shares, 3,627,985 would be outstanding.

The company proposes also to exchange its 97,300 shares of preferred stock of $100 par value for the new common in the ratio of 12 shares of common for one of preferred. Holders of all but 616 of the preferred shares have agreed to the exchange, and the remainder will be redeemed and canceled, it was said.

DELAY NAMING TRUSTEES FOR ASSOCIATED GAS

Malone, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP).—Federal Judge Frederick H. Bryant today deferred requested appointment of trustees for the Associated Gas and Electric company and its chief subsidiary, the Associated Gas and Electric corporation, pending a hearing on jurisdiction. Both companies last week filed petitions for reorganization under the federal bankruptcy law in the northern New York district.

The jurisdiction question was raised by Thurman Hill, assistant to the general counsel for the United States treasury, who contended the principal assets and business of the company and corporation were in the southern New York district.

FARMERS' UNION SEEKS FURTHER FINANCIAL AID

Would Achieve Goal Thru Taxes.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—The farmers' union, to which the Roosevelt administration lends a sympathetic ear, today demanded further financial assistance to agriculture thru "certain sound tax impositions."

A. G. Black directs farm loan agency.

Its program was carried to President Roosevelt by W. W. Thatcher of St. Paul, Minn., chairman of the legislative committee of the Farmers' Educational and Coöperative Union of America. Thatcher is the liaison officer between the union and the administration. He was formerly a lobbyist for the Farmers' National Grain corporation.

Brought Shift in Credit Agency.

The farmers' union, which represents farmers in the north central states, was responsible for the recent transfer of the Farm Credit administration from its independent status to the absolute control of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

Other farm organizations thruout the country protested vehemently against the snatch but without avail. They defended the businesslike way in which F. F. Hill had conducted the 5 billion dollar farm loan agency, and saw threats of an easy money policy in the FCA under Wallace's control. Hill was forced out by the White House and A. G. Black was picked by Wallace to succeed him.

Black, whose nomination was confirmed today by the senate, was made directly responsible to the secretary. Black is among the prominent officials in the department of agriculture said to favor the union's cause.

Farmers Complain of Foreclosures.

It is understood that the union demanded that Wallace take over the FCA after farmers in Wisconsin complained of mortgage foreclosures. Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr. [P., Wis.] was also asked to intercede and he shoved the burden to Wallace. Now that Wallace has taken over the credit agency thru Black, an ardent

Stocks, Bonds

New York Bonds.

New York, Jan. 15 (AP).—The bond market tacked on additional losses of major fractions to a point or more for most of the active issues today. Low priced rails and foreign dollar obligations gave ground more readily than other groups. A few high priced loans held minor advances at the close.

Other than a backsliding stock market and renewed fears in some quarters that the "sit down" war in Europe might suddenly get going in a big way, there was little to influence either buyers or sellers.

Some of the larger losses in the foreign dollar department were Norway 4½s, off 4¾; Denmark 6s, off 2¼; Uruguay 4s, off 2⅝, and Milan 6½s, off 1⅜. Panama 5s moved up 2½ points on reports the government would soon take steps looking toward revamping its dollar indebtedness.

Domestic bonds losing a point or more included Western Maryland 5½s, Western Union 4½s, St. Louis South Western first 4s, Southern railway 6½s, Baltimore and Ohio 5s, and Erie 4s.

United States government loans moved in sympathy with the general list, but dealings were small. Losses ranged from 2/32 to 17/32 of a point.

Chicago Stocks.

After an uneven and slightly higher opening, 114 issues on the Chicago Stock exchange lost ground yesterday with most stocks closing fractions lower. A total of 30,000 shares was sold.

Three issues set new peaks, Central and Southwest Utilities prior lien preferred rose to 117, up 1; Barlow and Seelig closed at 11, up 1, and Adams Manufacturing rose ⅞ to 10. Volume leaders included Commonwealth Edison, which closed at 31⅛, down ⅛, and Middle West corporation at 8⅜, down ⅛.

Bank Stocks.

First National bank shares rose a point, closing at a bid of 231, yesterday. Continental Illinois declined one to 91. Other issues were steady.

INT. HARVESTER TO ADOPT NEW BENEFIT PLANS

Seeks Larger Protection for Its Employes.

The International Harvester company will soon adopt a new employe benefit and savings plan, details of which will be announced by the end of March, Sydney G. McAllister, president, said yesterday.

McAllister said the plan, which has been approved in principle, will be made possible by profit sharing and savings features. It will cover about 60,000 employés in all divisions of the business in the United States and Canada.

The plan will apply to the company's 1940 fiscal year, which began Nov. 1, 1939. It will supplement federal old age benefits and state-federal unemployment compensation benefits, altho that will be only part of its purpose.

Seek to Protect Employés.

"In our study of this subject it has seemed clear that protection against unemployment and old age are two most important objectives for most employés, and that a savings and extra compensation plan should serve to give this protection," McAllister announced in a letter mailed to employés.

"With many uncertainties in the business outlook, I cannot predict the result of the year [1940], but I can say that if the earnings of the company are as good as all of us hope they will be, employés will share in the company's success."

International Harvester has had a pension plan, for which all contributions were made by the company, from 1908 to 1937. Employés who worked for the company prior to 1937 are still under this plan, but those entering its employ since that time are not subject to it.

Steel Plan Changed.

The United States Steel corporation announced that it has revised its pension plan to correlate it with provisions of federal pension laws, the social security act, and the railroad retirement act.

The revised plan, like the plan which the company has provided, with occasional alterations, for 29 years, will be voluntary. Benefits are changed in that payments received by an employé under federal pension plans will reduce the amount paid by the company.

Another change in the steel plan provides that employés who on retirement do not qualify for a public pension but do qualify for a steel pension may receive the company benefit payments either on the basis of the primary benefits payable under the social security act or on the basis of the company's plan, whichever is larger.

Contributions to the United States Steel pension plan are made entirely by the company.

G. B. SHAWHAN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF CHICAGO MERCANTILE EXCHANGE

Garrett B. Shawhan, head of the Chicago firm bearing his name, was elected president of the Chicago Mercantile exchange by the mart's governors yesterday. He succeeds Miles Friedman.

Frank P. Collyer of Fuller, Rodney & Co., and Thomas J. Ryan of Beatrice Creamery company, one of the newly elected governors, were chosen first and second vice presidents, respectively. Roy E. Eldredge was elected secretary and C. C. Tatham of Tatham & Co., was named treasurer.

The annual report of the exchange disclosed a drop in cash butter trading during 1939, but a gain in futures dealings. A total of 262,862 tubs of butter was sold on spot call in 1939, against 1,165,049 a year earlier. Futures dealings, however, totaled 13,177 cars during the year, against 11,715 in 1938.

A total of 174,536 cases of eggs was sold for spot against 150,243 in the preceding year. Futures trading aggregated 47,323 cars, compared with 44,292.

Prices of butter and eggs were higher on the Mercantile exchange yesterday. January egg contracts went above the 15 cent mark for the first time since mid-December, but profit taking cut the early gain. Other deliveries were unchanged.

HEIL SAYS OLEO TAX SHOULD NOT RETARD TRADE

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 15 (AP).—Gov. Julius P. Heil of Wisconsin said here today there was no reason why his state's tax on oleomargarine should act as a barrier to trade between Wisconsin and the south.

Declaring Wisconsin received only $15,800 in revenue from the tax in 1939, while importing "upwards of $15,000,000 in agricultural and other products from the south," Heil said:

"The trade balance between my state and the 13 states of the south is very much in the south's favor. We buy much more from the south than the south buys from us. I don't believe there should be any state lines on purchases anywhere in the United States."

Heil arrived in Atlanta today on a swing thru southern states on which he is seeking, he said, "to increase the good will between my part of the country and the southern states." He conferred with Gov. E. D. Rivers. The Wisconsin governor said that while he advocated repeal of the tax, "the people of Wisconsin want it to stay."

FEARS CARTELS MAY RESULT IN DICTATORSHIPS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—Theodore J. Kreps, economic consultant for the monopoly committee, expressed the opinion today that cartels may lead to dictatorships.

"Under certain conditions they may become the scaffolding for monopolistic structures and gigantic business combines which begin by dictating trade practices, production and sales and culminate, if unchecked, in dictatorial corporate states," he declared in the opening statement of the committee's study of cartels.

Kreps said that the method of "economic planning" employed by industry thru cartels in national and international units was the same kind of economic planning as was employed under government supervision such as thru NRA.

Cartels are used extensively in Europe to control industrial production and distribution.

Bell Association Reports Gain in Assets Last Year

Total assets of the Bell Savings, Building and Loan Association of Illinois increased $2,554,569 to $16,753,891 at the end of 1939, the association reported yesterday in its annual statement. Real estate loans during the year amounted to $5,199,637, an increase of about 100 per cent over 1938. The statement showed net income for 1939 of $663,076, against $566,281 in 1938.

Senate Confirms Five RFC Director Reappointments

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15 (AP).—The senate confirmed today the reappointment of Emil Schram of Illinois, Carroll B. Merriam of Kansas, Charles B. Henderson of Nevada, Howard J. Klossner of Minnesota, and Sam Husbands of South Carolina, as directors of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, all for two year terms.

FARMERS' UNION SEEKS FURTHER FINANCIAL AID

Would Achieve Goal Thru Tax Measure.

New Dealer, farm loans are expected to flow freely.

Thatcher today expressed the union's gratitude to the administration for following its dictation.

"We are most grateful for the tardy transfer of the Farm Credit administration to the department of agriculture," he said in a statement he gave the President.

"We hope the secretary of agriculture will soon be able to furnish a report of the administration of the federal land banks, intermediate credit banks, and Federal Farm Mortgage company, with its consequent ill effects upon agriculture. Based on many years of experience with boards in control of agricultural credit, we will vigorously oppose any legislative proposal which again seeks to board it up."

The agencies named by Thatcher are under the direction of the FCA.

Support Administration Plans.

Thatcher pledged support of the administration's reciprocal trade treaties, national defense program, and Wallace's income certificate plan for financing farm parity payments.

Thatcher said that the 1938 farm act is furnishing substantial assistance to agriculture but that it fails to provide the objective for parity of income and does not cover many of the important agricultural commodities.

"Thru further legislation and more effective use of the present act, together with certain sound tax impositions, congress can find ways and means to produce the revenue required to make the 1938 act fully effective," he asserted. "Agriculture fully expects the congress to keep faith with its legislation.

"We are supporting the income certificate plan for wheat, cotton, and rice, and such other commodities as may prove properly applicable to such protection. We intend to support a unified agricultural front as a means of protection for the whole farm family producing the important agricultural products.

Some Crops Fail to Benefit.

"Substantial increase in the national income will have practically no effect upon the price of such surplus crops as wheat, rice, tobacco, and cotton when there is an excessive world supply of such commodities."

In supporting reciprocal trade agreements Thatcher said safeguards must be employed to protect parity prices for domestic agricultural products. "We are opposed to log rolling tariff legislation which has historically betrayed American agriculture," he said.

The administration faces a fight on extension of the trade agreements act, which expires on June 12. Western interests particularly are opposed to extension in the present form, which does not require senate approval of the treaties.

The union expressed "hearty approval" of the national defense expenditures on the condition that the appropriations for this purpose are covered by revenue arising from additional income taxes.

Central Cold Storage Co. Delisting Hearing Delayed

The Securities and Exchange commission yesterday announced that hearing on the application of the Central Cold Storage company to withdraw its $20 par common stock from listing and registration on the Chicago Stock exchange was postponed to Jan. 23. The hearing will be held in the commission's Chicago regional office.

COTTON

Strength in Liverpool wool and aggressive buying of futures attributed to foreigners and mills advanced cotton prices in American markets yesterday. There was no material pressure to sell. Closing trades were about the top, with gains of .13 to .21 cent a pound.

Fears of intensification in warfare in Europe and reduced hedging pressure due to the unsatisfactory ocean freight room situation were given as the main factors in an advance in Liverpool. Bombay bought in the latter market and also in New York.

A good inquiry was reported for textiles, but sales were small. Mills refused to shade prices.

Spot cotton closed .15 to .20 cent higher, with New York, 11.51 cents; New Orleans, 11.13 cents, and Galveston and Houston at 10.85 cents a pound. Prices follow:

SALESPEOPLE

Expansion Program

A large eastern manufacturing concern, in fact, the largest manufacturer of electrical units in the world, has sent a representative to Chicago for the express purpose of developing the South Side of Chicago and southern suburbs.

New offices opened in Blue Island, Chicago Heights, Hammond, etc. We can use talent in the following classes: Sales managers, field managers, trainers and salesmen; inexperienced men will be given training and adequate help to get started.

Sales managers, field managers, etc., will receive in addition to regular income extra earnings in overwrites, others commission and bonus. All men will be given a general conception of our business at a joint session Tuesday morning, Jan. 16, at 10:30 a. m. Private interviews will be given men selected immediately after regular session. Come prepared to spend at least 2 hours. Room 400, 841 E. 63d-street.

SALESMAN WANTED.

A long established successful corporation located in Western New York State enjoying a substantial following in the Chicago area, seeks the services of a seasoned salesman familiar with industrial concerns in Chicago and environs, preferably [though not essentially] one who is familiar with the industrial sale of Pyroxylin Lacquers, Thinners, and allied finishing materials. This position anticipates attractive salary and bonus plan. To obtain a Chicago interview on Sunday, Feb. 4 reply in full detail, stating age, nationality, creed, education, domestic status, starting salary expected, and past experience which qualify you for this opportunity for permanent and responsible position. State also if at present employed. Employer's name not essential.

Address J G 49, Tribune.

REMOVE ALL DOUBT FROM 1940.

Changes in our personnel at the close of business of 1939 leave openings for live men. Our requirements are that you are not under 23, have ambition, and want to get so that you will never need to change jobs. We want men who expect to be paid enough to live well and at the same time enjoy some luxuries. If you are that type of individual we will offer you a permanent position that will certainly furnish all doubt about your future. Percentage. Electric unit.

SEE EMPLOYMENT MANAGER TUESDAY, JAN. 16TH. HOURS, 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. ROOM 618, 203 N. WABASH-AV.

Miscellaneous.

THE N. G. needs many patriotic young American citizens to devote a few hours per week for military training in the interest of this country's national defense. Many opportunities now exist for promotion in rank and pay. This will not interfere with your civil pursuits or responsibilities. All necessary uniforms and equipment furnished free and starting pay is $2 per week. An excellent opportunity, particularly for graduate ROTC officers to complete their military education with pay. See Capt. Dranco, Company H, 132d Infantry, 2653 W. Madison-street, Tuesday night after 7 p. m.

REPUBLICANS to circulate petitions; live betw. 67th-85th, Stony Island-Lake; salary. 2657 E. 75th-st., between 9:30-12.

Russian Planes Bomb Finnish Cities Fourth Day—Officals Pledge Aid in Hunt for Goon Slayers

Hospital center in Helsingfors in flames after Russian air raid. Finnish information accompanying the picture said the hospital was set afire by Red bombs on Dec. 21. Most of the patients had been evacuated before the raid. Finnish cities were bombed by Soviet planes again yesterday.
